We had a good many boweek, all of which were manufactured by the administration at Washington to influence the coming elections. We shall no doubt continue to have them thick and weeks. The reported capture of Mobile is without the slightest foundation of truth, and so is the reported capture of Early in the Shenandoah Valley. We caution our readers to be guarded against that may appear from now to the election in relation to matters connected with our military operations. They will belie and deceive the people.

The draft under the call for "500,000 more" took place last Thursday in all districts which had not filled their quotas.
