Mr. Baddermilch has just returned from the city with a splendid assortment of Winter Goods, which are now open for the inspection of the public.

DEAD.—Lieut. George Focht, of the 107 Pa., was brought home a corpse last week, and interred on Sunday last. He had been in the service ever since the commencement of the war. He was several times wounded, and, at the battle of Gettysburg lost an eye being struck by the fragment of a shell. He died of consumption, supposed to have been produced by his wounds. He was but 24 years of age, and died near Pittsburg, on his road home. His only brother John Focht was killed in the battles of the Wilderness.

Mr Adam Rise is receiving this week a new assortment of fashionable Hats, Caps, Furs, and other matters in his line, to which he invites the attention of the public. Good goods and low prices as usual.

FIRE.—A very destructive Fire occurred in Annville, of this county, on Friday morning, in the Coach making Shops owned by John Allwein, sr., and occupied by his son Augustus Allwein. The fire was occasionnd by one of the hands placing a can of varnish on the stove for softening, which ignited and set fire to the buildings. The upper parts of the shops, together with all the contents, were destroyed, as also the gable end of the dwelling adjoining. A considerable quantity of clothing in the rooms nearest the fire was also burnt. Mr. Augustus Allwein's loss is about $3000, on which there is an insurance of but $834 in the Annville Company. Mr. John Allwein's loss is about $1800, also insured in the same company for $775.

Messrs. Winton & Sherk have got into there new store and are prepared for business. See their advertisement in another column.

BEWARE OF PAYMENTS IN GOLD!—The House of Representatives at Harrisburg has passed a resolution for the punishment of certain Banks for paying their debts in Gold! If this be the policy, no doubt we will soon hear of an act to prevent Banks from resuming specie payments! But we have no interest in Banks and they may take care of themselves.

We do not think that it is intended to apply this piece of Republican wisdom to private persons. At least if any of the debtors of the Advertiser pay us in gold we will agree in advance not to regard them as being actuated by fraudulent motives.

The Philadelphia Flour Market is very quiet, and there is very little demand for export. The only sales are in small lots to the home trade at from $9a10 for superfine; $10 25a11 for extra; $11-25a12 25 for extra family, and $12 50a13 per bbl. for fancy brands as to quality.—Rye flour is selling in a small way at $8 75a9 per bbl. Corn meal is dull.

GRAIN—Wheat continues dull and prices have fallen off; about 7,000 bus sold at 240a250c for fair to prime Pennsylvania reds, and white at from 280a290c per bus. as to quality. Rye is selling in a small way at 171a173c per bus. Corn continues quiet; about 2,000 bus new yellow sold at 168c per bus. Oats are in steady demand, with sales of 1,500 bus at 92c per bus.

Beef Cattle was dull and 1 cent per lb. lower. The demand for Hogs was rather more active. For Sheep there was a fair demand at former rates.

For the Advertiser.

MR. EDITOR:—Where are the men who took so prominent a part in calling meetings for volunteers, and to expend moneys for avoiding the draft? Have they all gone to the front, or have they put in personal substitutes? It strikes me that you were pretty near right when you said that in the end the brunt of paying and fighting would fall on the poor man.

Yours,
A REPUBLICAN MECHANIC.

"THE CLOAK MAN."—The good citizens of Lancaster, especially the female portion thereof, have of late been much annoyed and even frightened by the vagaries of an individual who wears a cloak in his noctural rambles, and who, although apparently ubiquitous, has never yet fallen into the clutches of the police or other citizens who have been keeping a sharp lookout for him. The papers call him "The Cloak Man." His chief offense seems to be the exposure of his person to females on every occasion when he thinks he can do so with safety. This indecent inclination seems to be morbid with him, if we may judge from his persistence in indulging in it. The Lancaster Express says, "the wildest alarm has prevailed in some sections of the city, especially among ladies who find themselves on the street at night-time, unprotected." This being the case, there should be no relaxation of vigilance on the part of the authorities and citizens until the fellow is caught and caged. A few years ago the quiet of Carlisle was disturbed by an individual who pursued the same, abominable practice. He would climb trees at night, place himself in front of the sleeping apartments of ladies and there shamelessly expose his person. He was soon detected, however, and proved to be of unsound mind, which is unquestionably the case with "The Cloak Man" who is now the terror of the Lancaster ladies.

The following are the quotas now assigned to the sub-districts in Lebanon county, under the call of Dec. 19th, to make up deficiencies under previous calls. We had no deficiencies in Lebanon county, but a large excess on the last call for men. And instead of reducing our quota, in accordance with the corrected quota of the State, we have it increased. If such a proceeding should have a tendency to reconcile the people to our "fatherly administration," we shall be most egregiously mistaken. We copy these quotas from the Pottsville papers, correcting some manifest errors in the figures:—

Lebanon County.

No. of Sub-Districts.	Name.	Number enrolled.	Quota.	Credits by Enlistments from Dec 19 1864 to Feb 1, 1865.
48	Cold Spring	15	2
49	East Hanover	238	24	1
50	Union	209	21
51	Swatara	219	22
52	North Lebanon Twp	275	28
53	Bethel	256	28	6
54	North Leb. Bor	169	17
55	Lebanon	492	50
56	Jackson	388	40
57	Millcreek	246	26
58	Heidelberg	274	28
59	South Lebanon	235	24
60	Cornwall	261	27
61	South Annville	230	24	1
62	Londonderry	316	32	2
63	North Annville	264	26	2

It is contended by some that the draft, if allowed to take place next Wednesday, the 15th inst. will be illegal, the required notice not having been given. Instead of 50 days' notice, it is scarcely 10 days previous to the 15th that the quotas are assigned. The object of the notice is to give a chance to the people to fill up their quotas by volunteers and substitutes, thus avoiding a draft. Under the present arrangement it was impossible to do either, and consequently the law is not complied with. But what does the present administration care about the Law?

If the draft takes place next Wednesday, one hundred men will be drafted from this borough. What a glorious thing this fighting for the "abandonment of slavery" is!

A new counterfeit Treasury Note.—Pittsburg journals report that a new counterfeit five-dollar greenback is in circulation there. It is very poorly executed, the engravings being coarse and rough in appearance. The Goddess of Liberty on the left-hand end of the note, and the ground work around the figure 5 on the upper right hand corner are very poorly engraved, and present a dim and mixed appearance. The green on the back is of an indifferent shade, and unlike the genuine. The engraving is shorter than that of the genuine by about a quarter of an inch.

DIPTHERIA.—A Lancaster paper says, this alarming disease is very prevalent in Lancaster and adjoining counties. Many a household had been bereft of its loved ones, leaving a void that can never be filled. The safest and the best way is, whenever symptoms of the disease appear to call at once upon some skillful physician. This at times is not always practicable, and therefore home remedies may be tried. The following which we clip from an exchange is said to be very powerful, while at the same time it is a very simple remedy, never failing to effect a cure when applied in time:—

A poultice made of the yolk of an egg, and fine salt, of a paste-like consistency, to be put on the throat, and kept on thirty minutes, unless sooner dry. If a child be very feverish the poultice should be repeated. A wash or gargle should also be prepared and used of equal parts of fine salt and alum mixed with vinegar.—For a very severe case, make a wash for the throat of blood root, golden seal and pulverized bayberry. We are credibly informed that in every instance where these simple remedies have been applied, the sufferer has recovered.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

FOR THE SPEEDY CURE OF Intermittent Fever, or Fever and Ague, Remittent Fever, Chill Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical Headache or Billious Headache, and Billious Fevers, indeed for the whole class of diseases originating in biliary derangement, caused by the Malaria of Miasmatic countries.

FEVER and Ague is not the only consequence of the miasmatic poison. A great variety of disorders arise from its irritation, in malarious districts, among which are Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Headache, Blindness, Toothache, Earache, Catarrh, Asthma, Palpitation, Painful Affection of the Spleen, Hysterics, Pain in the Bowels, Colic, Paralysis and Derangement of the Stomach, all of which, when originating in this cause put on the intermittent type, or become periodical. This CURE expels the poison from the blood, and thus cures them all alike. It is not only the most effectual remedy ever discovered for this class of complaints, but it is the cheapest and moreover is perfectly safe. No harm can arise from its use, and the patient when cured is left as healthy as if he had never had the disease. Can this be said of any other cure for Chills and Fever? It is true of this, and its importance to those afflicted with the complaint cannot be over estimated. So sure is it to cure the Fever and Ague, that it may be truthfully said to be a certain remedy. One Dealer complains it is not a good medicine to sell, because one bottle cures a whole neighborhood.

Prepared by J. C. AYER & CO., Lowell, Mass., and sold by all the druggists in Lebanon and dealers in medicine everywhere.

Leases and Purchases.

THE whole number of Acres belonging to the Company including the lease-holds, in all, TWENTY EIGHT LEASES AND PURCHASES (almost all of which are for the long term of Ninety-Nine years) are nine hundred Acres, three hundred and ninety-three of which are in FEE SIMPLE. All of the lands in fee simple, comprising as above stated, almost four hundred acres, are arable and in excellent order for farming purposes, on which a sufficient quantity of hay and grain can be raised yearly to render the Company almost, if not entirely, self-supporting.

Locality.

The lands of the Company are contiguous to each other, situated in Derry township, Dauphin county, which extends from Harrisburg hundreds of miles, forming the very garden spot of the State, in the richness and fertility of its soil—affording ample supplies of provisions and necessary comforts of life.

This Valley is very beautifully diversified by gentle undulations, and throughout its length the beautiful Swatara winds its way, giving variety and beauty to the landscape, while its entire course is through a region in which iron ore is abundant, and the soil rich and fertile limestone.

The lands are nearer the markets of Harrisburg, Reading, Philadelphia and New York, both by rail and canal, than any other in Central or Eastern Pennsylvania, and the rich mineral products can be thrown into any market by the Philadelphia & Reading Rail Road and the Union Canal, as well as by all the great railroads and canals radiating from Harrisburg, (with their connections,) and can be readily conveyed to any part of the country to which railroads and navigable waters extend.

Transportation Facilities.

The facilities for transportation are unsurpassed. The Lebanon Valley Rail Road, a continuation of the Philadelphia & Reading Rail Road, the great thoroughfare connecting the inland cities of Harrisburg and Reading with Philadelphia, and New York, passes directly through the lands, affording every desirable convenience for transporting and conveying to and from the great Eastern and Western marts of the country the manufactured and mineral products of the Company, as well as everything necessary for the carrying on of the works.

The Union Canal also affords excellent water transportation. It lies in close proximity to the furnace site, being within fifty yards of the same. No locality is more favorably situated for market. Altogether in whatever way it may be viewed—whether for means of transportation, beauty of location, its economical furnace site, the great abundance of superior limestone, nearness to the other lands of the company, to Hummelstown and to the city of Harrisburg (the latter place being but nine miles distant,) or its healthiness—it is certainly in natural adaptedness to the purpose almost unsurpassed.

Geology.

The Company have secured, at considerable expense, the services of that eminent scientific topographical geologist, Professor J. P. Lesley, who, after a careful and thorough examination of the lands, reported on this great ore belt as follows:—

"That the principal geological formations and their geographical relationships belong to the same age from Mount Alto in Franklin county, to the Lehigh river, being a part of the same deposit of Trexlertown ores, the Pine Grove ores, west of Dillsburg, and the great ore belt of Mount Alto. It looks always as if the [illegible] wall mine (Coleman's mine in Lebanon county) and the ores near Hummelstown are ranged to the same lower range. The top stratum of N. Y. sandstone contained [illegible] cent of iron ore (a mixed mud of peroxide and sesquioxide of iron) and in the lapse of ages, the decay of the slates down to a great depth, and the perpetual drainage and sweepings of the iron mud from the mountain side, but especially the moulderings of the slates kept always wet at the foot of the present Red Sands one Hills, have separately and together been the causes of the production of a line or belt of ore ground three hundred feet wide, at the north foot of the hills, richer at some points than at others; but everywhere promising to yield ore when shafted into, and the richer and more abundant at the bottom of the shafts. A pit recently opened on Tract No. 13 (Frantz's Shaft) now about 12 feet deep and thirty yards across, has yielded about 3,000 tons of ore, a portion of which consists of a fine ore loam and yields at our 40 per cent of iron, being thrown without washing or picking into the furnace. I did not begin to contain lumps of any size until the digging approached the depth of say ten feet, when the sump hole was excavated in a great mass of ore loam and ore balls, as large as large cannon balls, some of them hollow and others massive, excepting the fact that they contain numerous irregular cavities filled with yellow clay, as if the mass were compounded of many hollow balls compressed together. There is no doubt a great quantity of lump ore under foot. There is no doubt of its descent to a considerable depth, in fact, to a depth at which the regular shape of the underground limestone ceases. This may be a hundred or five hundred feet."

"The shaft on Tract No. 14, and a corresponding trial shaft on Tract No. 15 both of which are close to the border of the limestone rocks, produced the following results: There was first 14 feet of wash clay, sand and ore trash, (yielding 40 per cent of iron without washing or picking, and sold at the mines at $3.00 per ton,) then 8 feet of ore mixed with clay, then 8 feet of solid ore."

"The direction of the ore belt eastward is marked by a large quantity of ore masses, some of them weighing 200 lbs. scattered over the surface once, but now collected by the farmers into a grove in the corner of a field near the road. With these ore balls lie many chunks of red sand stone. which have come from the hills."

"The prospecting shaft on tract No 3, has yielded about 2,000 tons of ore, with a sufficient quantity to supply an anthracite furnace making one hundred tons of pig iron per week, for a number of years, if properly developed."

"Trial pits have been sunk on tracts No. 1, 2 and 28, two feet through soil, and then eight feet through ore, pure and clean, free from dirt or clay, by far the best quality that has yet been found. The pits are still descending in richness and quantity."

"I leave for others the task or pleasure of imagining the depth to which the ore descends; and the calculations based upon such suppositions, only saying that wherever the ore is evidently decomposed slate mass itself, descending at a visible dip, there can be no unreasonableness in calculations based upon a great depth of ore."

"The Frantz pit has yielded 3,000 tons of unwashed ore from a part of the excavation, which I calculated to have a cubic contents of about five hundred and fifty cubic yards which at 4 tons per yard, would be about 2,200 tons. Taking the width of this pit at 25 yards, and its depth at 4 yards, every linear yard will yield say 100 tons of ore. Taking into account the ball ore in the floor and supposing the ore taken out to a depth of only 4 yards more, then every running yard of quarry will yield about a thousand tons. It will require therefore, the mining of only ten running yards to supply yearly an anthracite furnace making one hundred tons of pig iron per week."

"With the pits as I saw them, I have no sort of doubt that the above calculation will be easily realized. A good steam engine and powerful pump should be obtained, as the only obstacle to successful mining here, will be the water. It is my opinion that the ore will descend at a slope to a great depth, on the south side of the quarries. The above calculation does not take into account the extension of the ore belt north of the pit. The trial pits show a breadth of ore belt, at least seventy yards wide, how much more is not apparent; it is no doubt, at least, one hundred yards wide. Granting a depth in the average of only three yards, and we have over a thousand tons for every yard of the ore belt in the surface deposit alone. There is no good reason for doubting that enough ore can be raised per year, from tracts Nos. 3, 13, 14 and 15 alone, to run three furnaces steadily, capable of making one hundred tons of pig iron per week."

Considering the entire property of more than nine hundred acres and more than one mile in extent, running east and west, and calculating the great ore belt at only one hundred yards wide, and the surface deposit at an average of only five yards deep, (trial shafts in many places have shown it to be from 30 to 40 feet in depth, with only a surface stripping of two feet before reaching the solid ore veins;) the surface deposit contains, over an area of 797,000 yards, at 1,000 tons per yard 797,000,000 tons of ore before reaching the regular solid stratums, which Professor Lesley thinks will descend to a great depth—probably to "five hundred feet." Who can correctly estimate or comprehend the vast resources and extent of this inexhaustible ore belt?

OBJECTS OF THE COMPANY.

The objects for which the Company has been organized is entirely and solely for the purpose of developing and improving their mineral lands. Mining, raising, manufacturing, selling and conveying to market the vast mineral products found in, on and upon their lands consisting in part of IRON ORE, FIRE CLAY, COPPER, ZINC, and other minerals; erecting, building and necessary buildings and machinery for manufacturing iron, and have in contemplation the construction of a gravity railroad from the mines to the furnace for conveying the ore. In fact, to bring it to the accomplishment of their object their united energy and business industry, and we are satisfied in believing and assuring the stockholder that it will yield largely to them, and offers inducements of the highest character to capitalists and men of small means who desire a profitable, safe and paying investment.

Enterprising gentlemen from all parts of the country are cordially invited to pay a visit to the lands and examine the mines for themselves—a ride of only fifteen minutes from Harrisburg, in the luxurious cars of the Lebanon Valley Rail Road, will convey the visitor to this truly marvelous mineral deposit.

Those wishing any additional information, can obtain the same by applying to either of us, either in person or through the mails.

Balance in hands of Daniel Gerberich, Ex Treasurer of Lebanon County,		14,452 88
		$122,466 56

We, the undersigned Auditors of Lebanon County in Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do certify that in pursuance of the 47th Sec., of an Act entitled "an Act relating to Counties, Townships, &c.," passed the 15th day of April, A. D. 1834, we met at the Commissioners' office, in the Borough of Lebanon, on Friday the 2d day of February, A. D. 1865, and did audit and adjust the foregoing account, required of us by law, agreeably to the several acts of Assembly, and supplements thereto, according to the best of our knowledge and ability.

And we find in the hands of Daniel Gerberich, Esq., Treasurer of Lebanon county, a balance of Fourteen thousand four hundred and fifty two dollars and eighty-eight cents ($14,452,88).

The Auditors also find there is due the county in outstanding taxes the sum of Thirteen thousand two hundred and seven dollars and seventy-six cents ($13 207 76) including the exonerations and collections to be allowed collectors.

The Auditors also find that the county is indebted to different individuals for Temporary Loans to the amount of Sixty one thousand four hundred and thirty five dollars ($61,435.00), from which said amount deduct the outstanding taxes less the exonerations and collections to be allowed collectors, and the balance in the hands of the Treasurer, which will leave the real debt of the county about Thirty-six thousand dollars (36,000), not including the amount of indebtedness for Bounty purposes.
