lt. How Bodies are embalmed .-- By embalming people generally are apt to imagine that the modern process consists was held by the Coroner, and the re- dead body with spices, gums and other mains were dec. ntly interred at the Dau- indestructible and preservative substances, as is understood to have been the process practiced by the ancients. Such however, is not the case. The modern process is about as follows: The blood is drawn off through the jugular vein.-An incision is then made upon the inside of the thigh, through which a chemical liquid is injected by mechanical means. This liquid permeates all the veins and arteries, taking the place before occupied by the blood, and in a short time renders cellent condition. The body has been in the entire body as hard as stone, and as We are indebted to Hon. Myer is removed and the brain scooped out. Strouse for a copy of the Agricultural The chest is opened and the heart, lungs and viscera are abstracted. When the process is completed, the body is reduced to a more empty shell, having only the outward resemblance of the departed individual. How long a body thus prepared will remain unchanged we cannot say. The process has only been employed for a few years-since the war commenced, we believe-so that time sufficient has not elapsed to test the in destructibility of bodies thus prepared.

Granville said that the nation must sink under it unless some portion f the lean was borne by the American Colonies, and the attempt to impose this loan produced the war of the revolution, and, instead of diminishing, add d another hundred millions to the burden. Again, says Masaulay, was England given over, but again she was more prosperous than ever before. But when at the close of her Napoleonic wars in 1816, this debt had been swelled up to the enormous sum of over eight hundred million sterling, or tour thousand three hundred million dol ars, or nearly one half the entire property of the United King dom, the stoutest heart, the firmest believer in national progress and national development, might well have been appalled. But in the very face of this mountain of obligation, -to say nothing of her wast colonia ossessions,—the property of the British nation has een more than trebled, and her debt is now a charge of out 121/2 per cent, against it. All that Great Britain has done in paying her debt, we shall do, and more with ours. We have vast territories untouched by the plow, mines of all precious metals of which we have. hardly opened to the doors, a population full of life, en ergy, enterprise and industry, and the accumulated wealth of money and labor of the old countries pour ing into the lap of our giant and ever to-be-united re public. National Debts and U.S. Stocks.

The creation of national debts is not a modern improvement, but the ability of a great and on the most convenient and best form of personal property is a modern wonder. The debt of Great Britain was begun by raising a million sterling by long in 1692, and when her great contest with Louis XIV. was terminated, the debt had reached fifty millions. Many statesmen and economists were then alarmed at the great burden which they are listed they care, Those who require an alterative medicine to purify had been imposed upon the industry of the country, but in the remaining a number of the content of the disease.

U. S. 7-30 LOAN

THE sale of the first series of $300,000,000 of the 7-30 Loan was completed on the 31st of March, 1865. The sale of the second series of Three Hundred Millions, payable three years from the 15th day of June, 1865, was begun on the 1st of April. In the short space of thirty days, over One Hundred Millions of this series have been sold-leaving this day less than Two Hundred Millions to be disposed of. The interest is payable semi-annually in currency on the 15th of De Ber and 15th of June by Coupons attached to each note which are readily cashed anywhere. It amounts to One Cent per day on each $ 50 note. Two cents " "
