Then Susan she the pepper shook,
Then John he shook the popper,
Till both their faces grew as red
As saucepans made of copper.

And they shelled and popped and ate,
All kinds a fun a poking—
While he haw-hawed at her remarks,
And she laughed at his joking.

And still they popped and still they ate— John's mouth was like a hopper— And stirred the fire, and sprinkled salt, And shock and shock the popper.

The clock struck nine, the clock struck ten And still the corn kept popping— It struck eleven, and then struck twelve, And still no signs of stopping.

And John he ate, and Sue she thought, The corn did pop and patter, Till John cried out "The corn's a fire! Why Susan what's the matter?"

Says she, "John Stiles, it's one o'clock, You'll die of indigestion: I'm sick of this popping corn— Why don't you pop the question?"

A FREAK OF THE TELEGRAPH.-O all the freaks of telegraph, the following is the most laughable which has come under our personal knowledge. Not long since a graduate from one of our Eastern theological schools, was called to the pastoral charge in the extreme Southwest .--When about to start for his new parish he was unexpectedly detained by the incapacity of his Presbytery to ordain him. In order to explain his non arrival at the appointed time, he sent the following telegram to the deacons of the church: "Presbytery lacked a quorum to ordain." In the course of its journey the message became strangely metamorphosed, and reached the astonished deacons in this shape: "Presbytery tacked a worm on to Adam!" The sober church officers were greatly discomposed and mystified, but after grave consultation concluded it was the minister's facetions way of announcing that he had got married, and accordingly proceeded to make lodgings for two instead of one.

At a recent festive meeting, a married man, who ought to have known better, proposed :- "The ladies-the beings who divide our sorrow, double our joys, and treble our expenses."-Upon which a lady proposed :- "The gentlemen-the sensitive individuals
