BEATTY & PLOTTS.

The Beatty & Plotts celebrated Golden Tongue

is acknowledged by professors of music and celebrated organists to be the leading Parlor Organ now in use. Testimonials and cards of honor are constantly being received in favor of them. We append a few and wish you to read them:—

ANTHONY, N. J., Jan. 25, 1873. Messrs. Beatty & Plotts, Gents—Your Organ, sold me, gives entire satisfaction. It is beautiful in tone and style of workmanship are seldom if ever surpassed. Wish you success in your business, I am, with respect, Prof. M. H. BEATTY.

SHAMONIN, Pa., Feb. 11, 1874. I have one of Beatty & Plotts' Golden Tongue Organ. It is an excellent instrument, fine tone and full power. I like it better than any I have heard.

M. H. HANFEL, M. D. LAURY'S STAT'N, Pa., Jan. 27, 1874. I have had Beatty & Plotts' Organ since August 14th, 1872; it gives the highest satisfaction, and has proved all that it was recommended by the prop'rs. JON HENRY.

SLATINGTON, Pa., Feb. 6, 1874. Beatty & Plotts' Parlor Organ I like better than the Standard, and it gives better satisfaction, as I find in my travels. Prof. FR. V. MAYHEW.

ST. CLAIR, Pa., Dec. 6th, 1873. Messrs. Beatty & Plotts, Gents—I have received the Organ, as sent by your firm to me, and I have had it examined, and it gives ample satisfaction.

HON. JOHN SINEY. MAHAN CITY, Pa., Oct. 10, 1872. The Beatty & Plotts celebrated Golden Tongue Parlor Organ is by far the best Parlor Organ in use. I have carefully examined it, and find its tone, workmanship and durability to be the best I ever saw, and I can with pleasure recommend it to any in want of a first-class parlor organ. Prof. O. H. UNGER.

Messrs. Beatty & Plotts, of Washington, N. J., are gentlemen of enterprise, and whose presence would be a credit to any community. [Hackettstown, N. J., Herald, 1872.]

WASHINGTON, N. J., Sept. 5, 1873. To Robert Morgan, Pittsville—I am happy to state that the instrument gives entire satisfaction, not only to myself but also to the teachers of the Seminary who are better judges.

Rev. A. M. JELLY. We say, after careful and costly experiment, it is with pleasure we introduce the "Golden Tongue," knowing it possesses many advantages over all others manufactured. The tone excels in fullness, purity, and the thousands of testimonials which are being constantly received, are evidence that our efforts have been eminently successful. THE MANHATTAN SPRING BED and Combination

MATTRESS. P. J. KISTLER, POSTMASTER OF WEISSPORT, has been appointed Agent for Leighton, Weissport and vicinity to give our citizens a chance to see and test the merits of the arrangement of springs. He is willing to put them on trial for any person for one week, and if they do not prove superior to the Woven Wire Mattress, Putnam, Yankee, Norfolk, Wright, Springfield, Howe, Tucker, Eurka, Munroe, Imperial, United States, Walker, Connecticut, Eagle, Salem or any of the one thousand and one Spring Beds that have been put upon the market, you are not asked to buy it. The above named beds have been discarded to make room for the improved. It has no hiding place for bugs, has no slats on top of the springs, but heavy duck canvas, hooking at the base of the spring, that may be taken off, and the slats removed (for cleaning or otherwise,) by anybody in five minutes and replaced at pleasure. The springs may be changed to other portions of the bed with very little trouble. The springs are warranted to keep place and last longer than any other in use. For invalids it cannot be surpassed. He fits them to any bedstead of different weight of persons, the largest number under the heaviest part of the body, and with a light covering of husk, cotton, straw bed, or hair mattress, they adapt themselves completely to the body. The ladies should call and see the arrangement of springs for the cradle, and not have to use feathers in warm weather. They are better than soothing syrup or cordials for the little ones. The springs are made from the very best cast steel from the celebrated Sheffield works of England. Come one and all and see them. These beds have been fully established in twelve different States. The Furniture men are especially invited to call and examine these beds. Beds put upon trial and no one asked to purchase until after a fair trial.

P. J. KISTLER, Agent, Weissport. nov 8 '73-4f

ECHOES FROM AFAR.

BY ALPHA.

GETTING MARRIED.

"Measure your cloth ten times, for you can cut it but once.

A bit of good advice this, to all those who contemplate matrimony, which as a general rule, we say is binding alike on the sons of Adam, and the daughters of Eve.

I am not, however, going to write of the advantages or disadvantages of the question, but simply give a few hints to those who have not yet uttered that little sentence, which is multum in parvo, "I will."

To the young woman I say, "Don't marry a fool!" you can never respect a man if you think he has no brains; and where there is no respect, love cannot possibly exist.

No matter how foppishly he may dress, nor how much cheap jewelry he may wear; if he has no sense, do not give your company to him, for a man with less pretensions, but with intelligence, will make you a better husband.

Do not marry a man who has not a firm principle. You say the men are so deceptive, that it is a very hard matter to discover whether their principles are firm or not. I admit there is too much truth in the assertion; still there are some means by which you may ascertain their soundness of principle. If you meet a young man who has no opinion of his own, but will say 'yes, or 'no' as the case requires, beware of him. A man who is not true to anything, you cannot expect to be true to you.

Never think of marrying a man who is not courteous and kind. Remember unkind sweethearts, as a rule, make unkind husbands. If a man talks disrespectfully of his parents, don't have much to say to him; if he refuses to fetch water for his aged mother, or afflicted sister, be assured that he will serve you the same, if you become his wife. Do you talk of reforming him after you are married? Such reforms are unhappy rare, and are accomplished with much difficulty.

Shun a lazy man. The Chinese have a proverb, that "oysters get their pearls by gaping. If some young men could get money by that means, they would be come very rich. Such men do not make good husbands. If a young man comes to you, and says that "he is too good to work, that his aged father supports him," take the advice of John Ploughman, and tell him to "go to Lubberland, where men get half-a-crown a day for sleeping."

Do not wed a man whose morals are not good. It is not all gold that glitters. There are many black hearts beating beneath fashionable coats. There are many so-called men going about, made up by the tailor and the jeweler. They look somewhat attractive, but possess discrimination, and you will see all through this tinsel; and if there is nothing real and good, have nothing to say to such men.

To the young men whose eyes may scan these pages, I submit the following observations, beginning with a Spanish proverb, which says, "Before you marry be sure of a house in which to tarry." I wish to guard you against a practice which is by far too common. I mean, getting married, and "going home with, what is called, the old people, to live."

When you are married you will do best in a house of your own; hence before you marry, be sure of a house in which to tarry.

We also recommend you to make a choice of an intelligent young woman. Don't have a wife who must for ever be sitting down talking small talk, or else remain as mute as an Egyptian mummy.

Seek a young woman with a gentle spirit and a kind heart. The remark we made in reference to sons, holds good when applied to daughters. A vixen of a daughter will make a vixen of a wife, but a kind and affectionate daughter, will not fail to make an affectionate wife.

Be sure that your wife lives home and is domesticated. It is a great misfortune to have a wife who doesn't know her own work, and cares as little about it as she knows. Playing tunes on the piano, and working embroidery, are all right in their places, but these won't satisfy your appetite when you come home to dinner. See to it that your wife can play tunes on the frying pan and gridirons. When you choose a wife, choose her rather on Saturday than on Sunday; that is, make choice of her in her working dress. Quite necessary in these days of sham to attend to that advice. There is so much false hair, and so many false teeth worn, and so much painted up (such marvellous triumphs of art over nature) that we have need to say—"Young men, beware of man traps."

There are two evils in marriage against which we wish to guard young people of both sexes. One is, persons belonging to the church marrying those who are not religious. Such unions are unscriptural, and are a fruitful source of unhappiness. A marriage upon which you cannot ask the Divine blessing, should by all means be avoided; and how can you ask
