

The Carbon Advocate.

H. V. MORTIMER, EDITOR.

LEHIGHTON, PA.: SATURDAY MORNING MARCH 14 1874.

A lieutenant governor is one of the new offices to be filled at the fall election. He will be elected for four years, and his salary will be $3,000 per annum.

New Hampshire.

Returns from nearly all the towns have been received which show that there is no election of Governor by the people. Weston, Democrat, leads about 30 of a majority.

A tippler in the church, to our mind, is even worse than a toper out of it. And yet there are many of such who hold high places in the sanctuary.

According to the reverend Bateman, Indian agent for the Pyramid Lake and Walker river reservations, Nevada, the two reservations have cost $32,681.57 since 1871.

The temperance movement which commenced in the West is steadily gaining ground in the Middle and Eastern States; New York especially is earnestly at work in the matter.

In accordance with the above, the following gentlemen were appointed as a committee: Dr. Prime (Chairman), Dr. John Hall, Rev. W. C. Steele, Dr. Howard Crosby, Dr. Hepworth, Dr. Foss, Dr. Ganse, Dr. Deems, Dr. Sabine, Rev. Halsey Moore and Rev. J. S. McCulloch.

Death of Charles Sumner.

A Washington dispatch of the 11th inst., says: Senator Sumner died at a quarter to 3 o'clock. He passed away calmly and without a struggle.

He recognized friends who came into the room, and one of the last to whom he spoke was ex-Attorney-General Hoar, of Massachusetts, to whom he said, "Take care my Civil Rights bill."

The only relative that Senator Sumner has is a sister, the wife of a physician in San Francisco, and to her the sad news was telegraphed immediately after his death.

The disease from which Senator Sumner suffered is an affection of the nerves of the head, complicated with symptoms of a rheumatic or gouty nature.

Death of Ex-President Millard Fillmore.

Ex-President Millard Fillmore, died at his residence in the city of Buffalo, N. Y., on Sunday evening last, the 8th inst., at ten minutes past 11 o'clock.

Millard Fillmore was born at Locke, now Summerhill, Cayuga county, N. Y., Jan. 7, 1800. His father, Nathaniel Fillmore, was of English descent, and followed the occupation of a farmer.

At an early age Millard was sent to Livingston county to learn the clothier's trade, and passed four years in dressing cloth.

In 1819, he made the acquaintance of the late Judge Wood of Cayuga county, and entered his office for the purpose of studying law. In order to do this he had to pay $30 for one year's time which he owed his employers.

By working from four in the morning until late at night he accomplished the desired result, paid his debt, and had $6 left for expenses for the whole year. His board cost him nothing.

In 1829 he was elected to represent the county of Erie in the State Assembly. Being a member of the old Whig party, which was at that time in the minority, he had little opportunity of distinguishing himself.

In 1832 he was elected on the anti-Jackson ticket to Congress, serving one term. In 1837 he was again chosen as a Whig, and also in 1838 and 1840. He was again nominated in 1842, but peremptorily declined.

In 1830, at the opening of the Twenty-sixth Congress, he took part in the celebrated "broad seal" contest on the right to the seats of five of the six members from New Jersey, and was one of the Committee on Elections making a minority report on the subject.

In 1832, his wife, formerly a Miss Abigail Powers, daughter of the Rev. Lemuel Powers, died leaving him two children, a son and a daughter, the latter of whom died in 1854. In 1855 and 1856 he visited Europe, where he was received with the most flattering attentions.

Feb. 10, 1858, he married Mrs. C. McInosh, daughter of the late Charles Carmichael of Merristown, N. J., and has ever since lived in quiet retirement at Buffalo, devoting himself to literary pursuits, and particularly to the Historical Society, of which he was first President, and in whose affairs he had taken great interest.

In 1861 when the news was received of the firing on Fort Sumter, he presided at the first meeting held in the theatre to express the loyal sentiments of the community. He also helped to organize the Union Continentals, a home guard organization, and was long its captain.

Current Items.

A man has been arrested at Manly, Utah, who is claimed to be the old man Bender, the Kansas murderer. He will be held for identification.

Henry Connors, of Montrose, N. J., aged forty-five, made a wager on Saturday that he could drink a pint of whisky and a gallon of beer in an hour. He won the wager, but died in a few hours.

John W. Cole, the carpet-bag Postmaster of Danville, Va., has confessed to embezzling public funds, and was sentenced to six months' imprisonment. The jury were unable to agree and were discharged, but the prisoner acknowledged his guilt.

Binghamton, March 10.—A boiler at the city water works exploded this morning at half-past 8 o'clock, blowing the boiler house to atoms and killing David J. Smith, the engineer. Pieces of the machinery and building were scattered a distance of one thousand feet, the body of the engineer being blown a hundred feet.

Pottsville, March 10.—Stephen Harris, civil engineer and prominent citizen of Pottsville, while attempting to jump on a coal train at Frackville at noon to day, fell under, the whole train passing over him, being badly mangled and instantly killed.

New York, March 10.—A fire occurred last night in the buildings Nos. 209 and 211 Washington street, occupied by various parties, causing damage to the extent of $20,000. Peter McGovern, a vagrant, was burned to death, and John F. Algo was fatally injured by a fall.

Leavenworth, March 10.—Mrs. Carpenter, a widow, residing here, shot and instantly killed John White, of the 5th Infantry Band, yesterday, for making improper advances to her. A coroner's jury pronounced the killing justifiable.

The Utah Legislature has adjourned after a forty days' struggle with the Governor. The best set passed was one making the salting of mines or mineral specimens, false assays, wilful misrepresentations relative to mines for the purpose of selling them, or otherwise deceiving parties investing money, a felony, punishable by fine and imprisonment in the penitentiary.

The Press speaks pitifully of Parson Brownlow of Tennessee. He is taken to his seat in the Senate at twelve, and carried back to his solitary house at five. There is no color in the tall, pale, dark-haired man except in his eyes, which glow restless when anything in the debate excites him.

At a German fancy dress ball in Boston, "Dio Lewis's Praying Band" was comically represented. The motto of the Worcester ladies, "Down with rum"—which is just what the toppers say. The Rev. Richard Grogan, a temperance lecturer, has been interrupted in his labor in Portland by arrest for debt. In Norfolk, Virginia, the police court reports show fines of only fifty cents each for being drunk and disorderly, and one dollar in outrageous cases.

Augusta, March 8th.—Two negroes, named Peter Blair and Moses Sullivan, had angry words, during which Blair told Sullivan that he was not a gentleman. The latter demanded an apology or satisfaction with shot guns or pistols.

The parties met at Sand Bar Ferry at seven o'clock, accompanied by their seconds, two negroes, named Ralph Knight and Wm. Armstrong. The ground was stepped off and Colt's five shooters played in the hands of principals. Knight gave the word of command. He said, Pete are you ready? Pete said, Yes. Moses, are you ready? Moses replied, Yes. Then commenced shooting, and both parties fired away until the last barrels were discharged.

Pistols were reloaded and principals resumed positions. Words of command were repeated, and firing recommenced and continued until Blair fell to the ground, shot through both thighs. The parties returned to this city immediately after. Sullivan fought at the same place last year, and Blair fought another negro near Savannah some time ago.
