—Dress goods and dry goods, a large stock at A. & D. Graver's, very cheap.

—Why is it that a town the size of Mauch Chunk has to depend on the neighboring towns for its supply of meats. We should judge that it is able to support a butcher shop at least. —Allentown Herald.—Yes, and furnish it with veal of native breed.

—Laury & Peters have just received a large and elegant stock of new goods, comprising cloths, cassimeres and vestings, which they are prepared to make up in the latest fashion at the lowest prices.

On Wednesday, the 12th, there will be a grand parade of the order in that city, which will be participated in by the camps and commanderies of that and surrounding counties.

—In accordance with the announcement in last week's "Advocate," the great Chicago Circus and Menagerie visited this borough on Thursday last. Immense crowds of persons came in from the surrounding country to "see the show," which proved to be fully equal to any of its predecessors, and far nearer the "bill" than many of the concerns bearing more elaborate titles.

—A young lady in Mauch Chunk put a piece of wedding cake under her pillow, and went to bed with the happy belief that she would dream of seeing her future husband. That evening, however, she had eaten two plates of ice cream, about a pint of strawberries, several sweet cakes, and two large pickles, and she now says she would rather remain single all her life than marry the man she saw in her dream.

—William A. Betts, a freight conductor on the Pennsylvania Railroad, was instantly killed on Monday night by falling under the cars while they were being shifted at the Harrisburg depot. Five cars passed over him.

—In Lehighton the license for a circus and menagerie is $30; Allentown, $35; Reading, $50; Easton, $40; and Doylestown, $15

—On the 16th of August a camp meeting will be held in Mayer's woods, near Coopersburg, on the road leading to Pleasant Valley.

—Rev. Leighton Coleman, formerly of Mauch Chunk, but now of Toledo, Ohio, has accepted Presidency of the Lehigh University at Bethlehem, in place of Prof. Coppee, resigned.

—Peaches are for sale at our fruit stands. They are not large, but then the price is large enough to make up for all other deficiencies.

—The Allentown Iron Co. have decided to reduce the rents of those of their employees occupying company houses 25 per cent. This is as it should be. With wages reduced rents should fall correspondingly.

—The Vulcan Iron Works of Wilkes-Barre last week decided to reduce their workmen's wages 10 per cent, and so announced. The employees at once quit work, and Monday they received notice that if they did not resume work before Wednesday they would be paid the wages due to them and discharged. Monday they held a meeting, and resolved not to go to work as long as the reduction was insisted on. About a dozen of the men refuse to quit work, but they have been in no manner molested by the strikers.

—"Tired Nature's Sweet Restorer, Balm Sleep."—But there are times when this "Renewer of Strength" is denied us, times when our minds and bodies have been so overworked and are so worn out that we "woo the drowsy god in vain." The Peruvian Syrup (an Iron Tonic) renews our strength and makes our rest sweet and refreshing.

—Business men expect the fall trade to open early.

—Bring along your orders for job printing and advertising.

—The Danville, Hazleton and Wilkes-Barre railroad is advertised at sheriff's sale.

—T. W. Renshaw has closed his drug store in this borough, and removed to Summit Hill, to take charge of the drug store in that place.

—A gentleman who writes the perfix "Rev." before the name of G. W. Frisbee, predicts that Titusville will, on the 10th of August, be swallowed up as were Sodom and Gomorrah. It is true in Mr. Frisbee's case, as in that of other prophets, that he has not been honored in his own country, where irreverent people call him a "fraud."—Ex.

—The Monroe County Agricultural Society have concluded to hold a fair this fall, commencing on 22d and continuing until the 25th of September.

—Danmore, Luzerne county, has two remarkable men. One weighs three hundred and thirteen pounds; the other sixty four pounds.

—Jacob Paulus was killed by the premature explosion of a blast, in a stone quarry near Nazareth, a few days ago.

—A full assortment of ladies' gents' and children's boots, shoes and gaiters, at A. & D. Graver's, at low prices.

—Beecher calls it "nest-hiding," and Hazletonians punish perpetrators of it by carrying them through town on a ladder, and allowing women to throw dirt at them.

—Isaac Weil, of Allentown, who went to Germany in May on a visit, has got into trouble in the "Fatherland." He has been prosecuted in Baden for leaving there in 1866 while the nation was at war with Austria. He is now a naturalized citizen of the United States. The case has not been finally decided, but Weil has gone to Switzerland to avoid paying a fine of $300.

Resumed.
All the mines in this vicinity of the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal company resumed work on Monday; the mines in the Plymouth region resumed the previous Monday, and now all the mines of this company in the Wyoming region are at work. This is a long step towards the hoped for resumption hereabouts, and there is every indication of a continuance. General business is already sensible of the good effect.—Luz. Union.

Bargains.
T. D. Clauss, the merchant tailor, in order to reduce stock, is offering special bargains in boots, shoes, gaiters, hats, caps, ready-made clothing, &c. He invites especial attention of our citizens to these goods, all of which are of the best quality—he has no low priced auction goods—and will be sold at an immense reduction on former prices. You are invited to call and inspect these goods; there is no charge for inspection even if you do not purchase.

Got up and Left.
Jones, the would-be murderer and suicide, left Monday night for parts unknown. He has been under the close surveillance of the police ever since he attempted the murder. Last evening he asked Mr. Hunt, who was guarding him to request the loan of Mr. Schenck's Police Gazette. While Hunt was gone down stairs to get the paper, he managed to get out the back way and leave for parts unknown. The bird has flown, and the covey is saved a considerable amount of costs, and disagreeable to some parties, revelations. No twenty thousand dollars reward is offered as yet.—Herald.

Our Public Schools.
Will open on Monday morning next, August 10th, at which time the Directors trust to meet all the children of the borough. The rooms of the new school house have been handsomely furnished with new and beautiful furniture of the latest designs and we trust the pupils will take pride in keeping the desks and seats in "apple-pie" order; they should do so for there is no school house in the county equal to it; and the least they (the children) can do is to carry out all the rules and regulations of the School Board fully and cheerfully.

In the afternoon and evening of the above day the building will be dedicated with appropriate ceremonies. The following programme of exercises for the day has been furnished us by the Committee of Arrangements:

The Iron Trade.
The shipments of iron from our furnaces in the Valley last week were very large. The Thomas Iron Company, it is said, has only about 800 tons of iron now remaining on hand. The recent advance in the price of it has inspired the panic-stricken with the hope that a general resuscitation of business is taking place.—This hope certainly has a foundation, and a very substantial one. Upon the iron trade depend almost all other industries; in fact it is difficult to conceive of any branch of business that does not have for its basis the trade and manufacture of iron. This is emphatically an "iron age," and should the supply of the said metal be suddenly and irretrievably exhausted the industries of the entire world would be thrown into a chaos, compared with which our financial panic would be as but a drop in the bucket: in the revival of the iron trade we discern indication of a healthy reaction. During the downward tendency of the price of that metal, dealers and consumers, those who buy the raw material of the producers, and those who convert it into articles of value, stood in expectations of a tumble in price, killing to the manufacturers. Their most sanguine anticipations were realized, the bottom was reached, manufacturing ceased, and the iron using community rejoiced, but not long. Having reached the lowest pitch, and buyers becoming aware of the fact, they prepared to invest, which of course caused a rally in prices as a legitimate and suggestive consequence, and now those same buyers who in anticipation of still lower prices refused to purchase a few weeks ago, are begging for iron at prices they then pretended to scorn. A revival of the iron trade such as is now taking place may be looked upon as a positive evidence that a resumption of business generally will soon follow, and after the lesson of the recent past it is right to suppose that it will be conducted on a more permanent basis than heretofore, thus avoiding another panic and its consequences.—Allentown Democrat.

Work on the Easton and Amboy R.R.
It is said that work on the section of the Easton and Amboy Railroad at Bound Brook is making progress rapidly. Just above the village, at the Raritan River, the Company is building a very fine wrought iron bridge, the main arch of which has just been erected. A fine bridge has also been erected at Middlebrook. From the Raritan the track has been laid nearly to New-Brooklyn, and the track layers are pushing ahead as fast as possible. This road will be, on an average, about three feet below the track of the Central Railroad. The right of way from Easton to Amboy has been entirely secured and paid for. The Company has paid out for real estate about $250,000, of which $50,000,000 was expended for the right of way across the State. This road is to run as a branch (or the New York outlet) of the Lehigh Valley R. R. of Pennsylvania, Hon. Asa Packer of Mauch Chunk, Penna., being President of both roads. It is constructed in the most thorough manner, and no doubt it will take away a great deal of travel, from both the Morris and Essex and Central Railroads, as arrangements are being made to connect with the Central Pennsylvania R. R. at Metuchen. Two new engines, Somerset, No. 42, and Hunterdon, No. 43, have just been received by the Lehigh Valley Road for this branch.—New Brunswick (N. J.) Times, July 30.

Not Assassinated but Scared.
A well-known carpenter from Bethlehem, employed at the Lehigh Valley buildings at Packerton, recently lost some tools by robbery. He fixed the thief upon a number of tramping bricklayers, also employed on the buildings, who were, in consequence, at once discharged. The tramps, on leaving, threatened vengeance on Bill's head, and assured him that they would murder him. On Monday night Bill, in company with three or four fellow-laborers, walked to Lehighton for a little "fun." They returned home late at night, and for a little sport one of the party discharged a revolver. Bill heard the shot, visions of murderous tramp bricklayers rose before him, and seeing one of the carpenters fall, and satisfying himself that he was dead, Bill took to his legs, and never stopped until he got to the boarding house at Packerton. The whole community was at once roused, and Bill concealed himself away in the corner so as to be out of the range of all murderous shots that might be sent in through the window. The joke was not completed until the "firing party" came along and revealed how they had scared Bill. It is not necessary to say that when William reads this he should be muzzled—that's what they do to prevent people getting "mad."—Bethlehem Progress.

The Last Gift Concert Postponed.
The announcement of the postponement of the last gift concert of the Public Library of Kentucky will not surprise the public. In Governor Bramlett's card, published below, he gives reasons for it which will be accepted without question by every one. The management in this instance, consulting the interests of ticket-holders and those designing to become ticket holders, have not waited until the last day to make this announcement, but, just as soon as they became satisfied of the necessity of this postponement, have promptly made the announcement. It is unnecessary to review the causes which have necessitated this action, as they are fully recited in Governor Bramlett's card. The promptness and frankness with which the public have been made aware of the intention of the manager will meet with the hearty commendation of every one and excite such a new interest and confidence in the scheme and the ability of the manager to perform what he promises, that there can be no doubt that on the day specified the last concert will be a full one.

POSTPONEMENT LAST GIFT CONCERT—A CARD TO THE PUBLIC.
The announcement of the postponement of fifth and last concert of the Public Library of Kentucky to the 30th November, I am satisfied, will surprise few and disappoint none of the friends and patrons of the enterprise. Indeed, any other course would create dissatisfaction. With a precedent of a postponement of each of the four concerts which have already been given, the public have very naturally and reasonably expected that in this, by far the largest scheme of the series and the largest ever offered to the world, the same course would be followed, and there are thousands all over the country who are only waiting for the setting of a certain fixed day for the drawing before sending in their orders. The sales of tickets to this date have been highly satisfactory, and a large drawing might be had on the 31st July, but, feeling assured that a short postponement would enable us to close out the remainder of the tickets and make the drawing a full one, we have adopted the course which most eventuate most satisfactorily for all.

Now that the day of the drawing is absolutely determined, there remains no further occasion for delay, and I would urge the friends of the enterprise, who intend to purchase tickets, to send in their orders, as it will tax my office to it utmost capacity to accomplish all that is to be done in the short time which remains for the sale of tickets.

THOS. E. BRAMLETTE,
Agent and Manager.

MERCHANT TAILORING.
When in the course of wear and tear of every day life it becomes necessary to dissolve our connection with the suits that have done us so much services in keeping us warm and free from exposure, there is one place where we can find consolation and a friend indeed in our distress. Yea, a place where we can safely put our trust—where there is no need of fear that we shall be cheated, unsuited or unsatisfied—where the fabric is strong and the manufacture superb—where the prices are just and the style all that can be desired. There is a charm about an easy, glove-fitting, elastic suit, that is seen and observed by all men. "Where did you get that superb suit of clothes?" "Where did you secure such a splendid fitting garment?" is often asked. There are many tailors, and a number of them are undoubtedly fair samples of the genus homo and a credit to the craft; but how generally tailors fall in the fitting of garments to the human form; how often a good piece of goods is spoiled in the fit; how sadly and dejectedly many a man wanders about the streets, feeling the shame the tailor has caused him, in allowing a poor job to go out of his shop, and he the wearer of it! Perhaps his lady love has even jilted him in consequence of his forlorn appearance.

—Dress makes the man;
The want of it the fellow.

Not that a man is less a man for wearing plain clothes, but when he is "dressed up" he should indeed be dressed not having his cloths hang like bags around him, and wrinkled and distorted in all sorts of shapes, but that he should be clad in fitting garments. Taste should be shown both in the colors and make-up of his suit. Many high priced goods are of such outlandish colors and styles that a man's character is judged by his foolishly selecting those odd goods. A man is known by the company he keeps, and if he insists upon fraternizing with ill-looking and ill-fitting clothes, he will not make his "mark," as a man of taste, that's positive. To be looked upon as possessing the requisite attainments of a tasty gentleman, he must select cloths of suitable colors for his clothing and have them made up in first-class style by Laury & Peters, (post office building), Lehighton, Pa., who have a splendid stock to select from, and where you will obtain that symmetry of fit so necessary to the adornment of the person. Call and examine the most beautiful assortment of cloths, cassimers and vestings, ever brought into Lehighton, and leave your measure with Laury & Peters.
