Carbon County Fair

The exhibition of the Carbon Coun ty Agricultural Society which has been held during the past week, not withstanding the extremely cold and cloudy weather, has we think proved one of the most successful ever held, and fully demonstrates the fact that Little Carbon can get up as good an exhibition as any of her neighbors. A much larger variety of articles were on exhibition and the quality of a far superior order to those of any previous exhibition the number of enteries being in the neighborhood of 1,000,-a large number of the entries having been made on Monday and Tuesday of the present week. The Domestic sewing machine on exhibition by F. P. Lentz attracted much attention from the ladies, and its work much admired. The Packard Organs also drew an immense number of people to listen to the sweetest, of music produced by A. P. Horn, the agent for this instrument.

The Parade.

The members of Lehigh Hook and Ladder Co., No. 1, of Lehighton, were tasty uniforms, for the purpose of making their first parade. Shortly after 7 o'clock the new and handsome truck was conveyed from the manufactory of the makers, Messrs, Romig & Hofford, and conducted to the upper end of Bank street, opposite Z. H. Long's store, where the line of procession was formed in the following order : Marshals-P. T. Brady, S. Graver,

Three Axemen, President, Vice-President & Secretary,

Fort Allen Cornet Band, Leh. Hook & Ladder Co. with Truck, Citizens in Carriages. Asst. Marshall-Frank Deborde.

The procession moved down Bank street to South, up South to Second, down Second to Franklin, down Franklin to Bankway, up Bankway and Bank street to South, up South and Mahoning to the Carbon County Agricultural Society's Fair Grounds, and around the track; on arriving in front of the judges' scand, the procession halted, and the truck was formally presented to the Company, by W. M. Rapsher, E-q., in the following neat speech :

Mr. President and Members of Leh. Hook and Lad.ter Company: It is with a high degree of pleasure that I appear before you, in behalf of the cili.tens of Lehighton, to present you with this magnificent Hook and Ladder Frucht, to be used by you in ex-timution of the second second second second tinguishing fire. We rejoice as citizens, because we feel that we have made the first step in the right direction towards protecting our lives and property from fire, and also becauses you have so freely volun-teered your valuable services in that behalf. I might here go on at length and portray, in glowing words, that tribute which all civilized and thickly popula-tet communities o ve to their Fire Companies, but a few words must suffice at this time. The number of fives which are annually saved through these organizations is very great, and perhaps not adequately a ppre-clated ; and millions of dollars suggest but a feeble idea of the vast amount of property which is yearly saved through the agency of the Firemen and their appliances, which would otherwise be de voured and swept away by the fiery elements. I said through their agency and appliances, but I mean more particularly by their strong arms, brave hearts, heroic and sacrificing spirits. These noble qualities are generally conced ed to Fremen, and Justy too. I feel that I sam justified in saying, in behalf of the citizeus of the Borough of Lehighton, that they entertwin the belief, that should an emergen-cy arise, you would by' your deeds excouplify that you are the possessors of all these qualities which make up true and gallant firemen. You can count upon their support and approbation.

" tu conclusion, I will only acid that regret that we are not, under present circumstances, able to present y ou with a Fire Engine of the latest and most approved design. But accept from us now such instruments as we can give you, with our best wishes and res and with the fondly cherished hope that we may ere long have the pleasure to present you with an Engine, the most elegant in design and the most ef-fective in its work. FATAL RAUBOAD ACCIDENT .- On Tuesday evening about 5 o'clock a sad and fatal accident occurred on the L. V. R., R. at Bethleham. Mr. Lewis Kidd is employed in the construction of the freight house at that place, and a bout four o'clock his son, John, aged about nine years, came to where his father worked. Being curiously inclined the little fellow took his station on the platform for the purpose of watching passing trains. While thus engaged No. 43 freight came thunderiog a long, and the boy gazing so intently on the object passing swiftly before him, fell forward between the platform and train and was drawn under the oars, the whitels passing over his legs, manging them in a horrile manner. The workmen and the distracted father were workmen and the distracted father wore attracted to the spot by cries of the un-fortunate lad, who was lying with his head towards the platform. would be as agreeable to you as it would be gratifying to us.

The truck was received by the President in the name of the company.

The truck was then moved to the end of the fair house, and left on view until 4.30, when the company returned with it to Messrs. Romig & Hofford's, where it is to be kept for the present, the comas yet having no house of their own in i which to keep it. This is a matter for the immediate consideration of our people, and one which we think will meet with prompt attention.
