Decrease.... Track Laying.

The track layers on the L. & S. R. R., says the Catasauqua Dispatch, of the 5th inst., are laying track between Kimmett's Lock and this place. The Crane Iron Co., have filled the road to a point opposite Fern Dale, and have removed the track and are now filling in for a track for their own use in dumping cinder on the lower meadows. The graves train hauling cinder from the Company's trip are grading the portion filled in by the narrow-guage cars, and are domning about one handred cars a day, so that in a few weeks the double track will be completed to this place.

Highway Robbery on Broad Mous-

tain. A man named Slater, employed by A. W. Leisering, Esq., of Mauch Chunk, to hand and deliver powder to the different Coal Companies, while returning home on Tuesday night last, about 6 o'clock, was approached by three roughlooking men, who climbed into his wagon, caught him and robbed kim of $60, and then fled to the woods with their ill-gotten trophy. Slater's face was badly scratched and bruised in the struggle with the desperados. The top of the Broad Mountain where the robbery was committed is about 4 miles from Mauch Chunk. ш.

We recommend him as an honest obliging gentleman, fully competent to discharge the duties of the responsible position with which he is intrusted.— Slatington News.

Institute Inklings.

BY "OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT."

THURSDAY &. M .- We happened to drop in as Institute was singing a hymn, Prof. Allen leading in prayer. Prof. Rowland was the first to sound the bugle of the day on the subject of "Twin Studies." The professor very happily illustrated that many studies, such as oral and written, arithmetic, geography and history, grammar and composition, should be taught together and not be saparated. Messrs. Holling . er and Motzer continued the subject.

Here the chair appointed Messrs. Barnett and Tieker a committee to receive subscriptions for the Pennsylvania School Journal. Here a recess occurred, which was no sooner announced, than many of the teachers were attracted to the front of the Court House by a hose carriage at work cleaning away spliter webs, swallow nests, &c., from off several buildings, a few for the remainder of the forenoon fogetting all about Institute. Prof. Allen here intervened and enlivened the convention by very interest-ing remarks on text books, showing the pernicious habit of schools following a book lesson. In alluding to arithmetics he thought they might be reduced to fif-ty pages, that not one boy in ten thouwill ever have occasion to use e and cube root. The Prof. then square and cube root. took up "Class Recitation" and devel oped the three following points: 1st. The individual method; 2nd. The class me thod; 3rd. The golden mean method; followed by questions asked by the members. The chair then appointed members. The chair then appointed Messrs. Grossman, Andre and Miss

Brewster a committee on resolutions.

The afternoon Session opened at 1.30 by singing "Sweet hour of prayer." Mr. Barnett resuming the subject of grammar and continued by Mr. Andre.

At this juncture the Steam Engine, not the little Hose Carriage, in front of the Court House made suck a noise that it was impossible to proceed, and a recess was declared. the Engine had shown off to advantage and was removed to the Mansion House, when Institute resumed work again by singing "Home sweet Home." Miss Biewster was then introduced and read an essay on "Picking up Chips," three points were developed, 1st. Chips of experience; 2nd. Chips of theory; 3rd. Chips of knowledge. The lady deserves much credit for the able manner in which the subject was treated, the clean cut English in which it was delivered Mr. Andre then delivered a report on Composition, by stating he would be-gin to teach as soon as pupils are able to write. to wife.

Eighty three members enrolled.

The evening exercises began at 7.30 by the rendering of a piece of music, "Gathering Home" by Messrs. Allen and Andre, and Misses Barker and Fredier. Dan. Kaibrus, Esq., or Mauch Chunk, was then introduced and for about one half hour, extemporaneously, interested the Institute on "Forces of interested the Institute on "Force Purpose" after which he continued his lecture from manuscript, never failing to receive frequent applause during the entire discourse. FRIDAY A. M -The ringing of the bell at 9 o'clock b ought the members together for the last day's work of the Institute, which was opened by singing "Work, for the night is coming. followed by reading the minutes of Thursday. The Query Box was then Thursday. The Query Box was then opened and Prof. Allen led off by answering a large number of questions, among which was one, written by a member who should have a dictionary, viz: "What is the meaning of hetrogeneous," Mr. Hollinger next followed with a report on "Normal schools." Mr. H. very eloquently showed the necessity and practicability of such schools, and treated them from their origin to the present time. Recess was announce ed after which an election of solicers ensued resulting as follows: B. C. Youngman, Mrs. E. B. Frisbie, Miss Hattie Heilman, S. J. Barnett and H. The next question before the Institute was the place of holding the next Institute. The voting resulting as follows: Mauch Chunk 24: Lehighton, 87. Lehighton having the majority, of course, Mr. Editor, you can attend next year without leaving your family alone at mights. Prof. Allen next took up the subject of "Punishments," which we all abhor. He however made it so plain and sim-ple that we need have little fear of being broom-sticked. He divided it as follows; 1st Panishment as its object; sub-divided, 1st. for reformation; 2nd. To deter others; 2d Characteristics, 1st. Certainty; 2nd. Should be proportioned to the offence; 3rd. Should be natural nut artificial;4th. When, where and how.

Noon was at hand and Instituted ad-journed for dinner. The afternoon session was begun by king up "School Government" by taking up "School Government" by Mr. Trevaskis followed by Prof. Allen, Barnett and others, after electing the Tinker, S. J. Barnett and J. P. land, farewell speeches were made by Co. Supt. Hofford and Prof. Allen. noticed a number of live teachers from abroad present during the week, ber of the Mauch Chunk Bar and prom inent citizens from town as well as school Directors.

Thus have we given you a synopsis of the Teacher's Institute, which must have been of incalculable benefit to those present, and, no doubt, many will return to their schools greatly encouraged with a determination to put to force the things learned here.

Shocking Murder On Sunday morning last between 3 and 4 o'clock, Thomas Williams, a miner, was found in a dying condition at the bottom of a close ravine, opward of one hundred feet deep, in the outskirts of Scranton. There was a terrible gash across the crown of his head, one of his legs was broken, and his mercy, but finding his pleading of no said that he had been kicked along the road like a foot ball, and then flung ever the precipice. He was carried home, and after lingering in great ago-41y until 6 o'clock he died. He did not give the names of his murderers. Just above the embankment there were traces of a fierce struggle, and great clots of blood were scattered along the road. An inquest was held before Alderman Jones in the afternoon, and John and James Baston were arrested an auspi cion of having committed the murder. Several stains of blood were found on the pantaloons worn by John Baston.

Killed on the Rail. Lucy Fenstermacher aged about 29 years, and Wm. Otto, about 50, was run over by a train, on the Lehigh Valley R. R., near Parryville, on Monday afternoon last, while engaged picking coal on the track. The woman was most terribly cut up: - the head being mashed and the entrals and brains were scattered on the track. Her death was instantious. The man Otto, lived about 2-or 3 hours after the accident, but was totally insensible. The deceased woman has left a family of six children, four of whom had been previously taken by persons in the neighborhood to raise, leaving two aged about 5 and 7 respectively unprovided for. An inquest was held poon the bodies by Esq. T. S. Beck, of Lehighton and a verdict in accordance with the facts rendered.

Mauch Chunk, Dec. 10th .. - Last night, about six o'clock, a gentleman by the name of Simon C. Flook, frem Alleutown, walked into the restaurant of John Brighton. Setting his valise on the counter, and called for some refresh ments; but a few minutes had elapsed when he was about leaving, his valise had enisteriously disappeared. Police men Painter and H. Breisford were call. ed on to work up the case, and soon found the thief, who had handed the valise to the keeper of a saloon on Susquehanna Street, for safe keeping, till called for. The prisoner was brought before Esq. Butler, who, after careful examination, committed him to the Co. Jail. He gave his name as Stephen Quinn, of Coplay.

Charles M. Koons

We find the following particulars of the death of Mr. Charles M. Koons, in the Wilmington Star: -Mr. Charles M. Koons, a native of Pennsylvania, but for several years a resident of this city, and also formerly a resident of Charlotte, died suddenly at Monroe on Tuesday night, where he had recently been employed at his trade. It seems that about 20 minutes after the arrival of the mail teain he was in conversation with some of his friends, at his boarding bouse, when he complained of dizziness accompanied by other unpleasant feelings, whereupon he was advised to go to bed. He started to do so, and had partially disrobed himself, when he suddenly fell backwards, grasping for breath, and expired almost instantly. Subsequently a Coroner's inquest was held over the body, and a post mortem examination, under the direction of Dr. Blair, was had. The verdict of the jury was to the effect that the deceased came to his death from heart disease.

What are we Coming to!

Mr. Edward Powell, of Allentown, while cupning on the Blue Mountain in Washington township, discovered a man, Levi Handwerk, who had been confined by his "friends," for being insane, in a brick hovel, four feet square. for nearly twelve years. Mr. P. passaptly notified the authorities, when the case was examined into by the Coronor of Lehigh, and officers of the county and citizens. The party from Slatington, headed by the constable, were first on hand and proceeded to rescue the unfortunate one. When the hovel was entered the sight and stench was horrible. Handwerk was perfectly nude, and so cramped, that he was unable to straighten up, or walk, without assistance. His body was covered with fifth. His new-found friends removed him to his mother's house) about 100 yards distant) where he was washed clothed, and arrangements made to remove him to the county alms house, An investigation of the cause and motives of the inhuman imprisonment of a person of weak intellect, is being instituted by the authorities .- Valley Re-

A Farmer Robbed and Murdered A farmer named Klein was murdered and robbed on Monday night en the turnpike road at a point called the Notch, about two miles from Scranton. He had been in that city with a load of hay and a load of potatoes, which he sold for eash. One of the teams was driven by himself and the other by a young son, who was several rods ahead, While going through the notch of the mountain, six men sprang from the roadside and seized the farmer's horses, and pulled him from the wagon and kicked and beat him. He begged for body was literally covered with wounds. avail for himself, he besought them not Phila, Dec. 7.

He was able to talk when found, and to harm his son. His cries were stopped at this point by a pistol ball through his heart. He was then robbed of his money, and the murderers disappeared in the woods, not having molested the boy. The latter, however, was so paralyzed by fear that he could not move, and was found weeping bitterly half an hour afterwards by some other farmers on their way home. He did not know any of the murderers of bis father, and there is no clue whatever as to who
