LEHIGHTON, PA.: SATURDAY MORNING JANUARY 33, 1875.

(Communicated.)

Borough Election. Ho, Citizensi wake up! The election is coming soon! The nomination of candidates is coming sooner! Be ready to act promptly and intelligently when the time comes. A few squibs about candidates have flown through the papers, but it is now high time you are giving the matter serious consideration. Throughout our country party lines are breaking and the people are seeking men of the proper grit to fill the offices. We want men of the first stamp to fill our borough offices, from Cnief Burgess; down we want men who know their duties and have bone enough, to perform them. Perhaps in no office is sound sense and good pluck Plore needed than in that of School Director; and in fact there is scarcely an office within the gift of the people so intimately conpected with our own and our country's good. Ex-Governor Bigler, after having faithfully filled many high offices besides governor of our own State, was elected school director in his town; in communicating to a friend, said,-"I am getting up higher. They have made me school director in our town." Such are the men for the office, men who have the education of the young so much at beart that they count it the highest honor to do something to forward the good cause. Dr. Reber, A. G. Dollenmayer, and John S. Lentz-three members of our present Board, whose terms expire this school year, have done the Boro ugh good services, and the people would do well to continue them in office. But there are four members to be elected, who will find the fourth man? Our schools are acknowledged to be doing excellently now, they are an honor to the town. A proper support will soon place them among the first in the Valley. Then put their management into the hands of the very best men.

We want men, too, in our To vn Council who appreciate a well-ordered town, and who will not fear to take such means as may be necessary to give us a neat town with respectable sidewalks. Have we such men for our offices? Yes, fetch them out, and give us a chance to vote for them. A. V. OTER. Jan. 28, 1875.

The N. Y. Sun, in speaking of the proposed charge in the libel law of this State, says: "In the Pennsylvania Legislature a bill has been introduced which provides that on the trial of indictments for libel the truth of the matter charged as libelious may be given in evidence, and that if it can be shown that the publication has been made from good motives or for justifiable ends, and is true, it shall operate to the acquittal of the defendant. The bill also provides that no conviction for the publication of a libel shall be had anywhere except within the county where the paper containing it is printed, and that any person convicted on a criminal prosecution in an inferior court may, for cause shown, carry the case to the Supreme Court on appeal, as provided and practized in civil cases. Such a law would not in any way prevent the inflication of just penalties upon any person guilty of libelling a citizen, while it would shield the press from malicious prosecutions for doing its duty in combating wrong and corruption. For this very reason, however, it may be expected to receive the hearty opposition of all rogues in office who fear to have their misdeeds made public. To the unjust law of libel which has heretofore prevailed in Pennsylvania, and the consequant terrorism exercised over the press, may be attributed in a great measure the degraded tone of political morality which has long disgraced that State."

A Washington dispatch, dated Jan. 27th, appears in the New York Sun, to the following effect. "The President. Secretary Fish, and other members of the Cabinet were at the Capitol to-day. There is excellent reasons to believe that the object of his visit was mainly in reference to Spanish affairs. The President, it is well known, is anxious to divert the attention of the country from his outrageous domestic policy and sees no way so clear to that end as a foreign war. The fact that Senator C: me on, who is Chairman of the For eign Relations Committee, and Mr. Orth, the head of the Poreign Affairs Committee, were summoned to his room, and had long consultations with him, is considered extremely significant. These gentlen: en declined to communicate the subject of their conversation with the President, which tends to confirm the general impression that the conference was in reference to an aggessive Spanish policy."

The Hon. John A. Walker, president of the late Constitutional Convention, died at his residence, in Eric, Monday morning.

The Iron Trade.

The iron trade continues dull, barcon being down to 234 and 3 cents per pound, and No. 1 pig to $26 and $27 per ton. The usual rates for years past have been 4 1/2 cents per pound, for bar, and No. 1 pig $48 and upward. Iron rails for railroads, which one yez.r ago commanded $70 per ton, can now be purchased at $55. Steel rails have fallen from $185 to $80 per ton in the rame time. This great depression in one of the most important of Pennsylvania's products in causing much suffering in some sections of our state. It is fervently hoped a reaction will soon take place. Even at the low prices above mentioned the supply far exceeds the demand; in fact, there is no demand, as prices prove, except a merely triffing one, hardly worth noticing Of the causes which have led to a dealine of this industry, employing such a vast capital and hunderds of thousands of workmen all over the country, the most prominent is the decline of Railroad building and railway business. Many lines are in sore need of new rails, but are unable to buy them, as manufactur ers will not give credit, and the railroads have no cash. To the sudden falling off in the demand for rails must beadded a similar condition of affairs in the machine business, in fact, in nearly every department of industry which uses iron .- Allentown Democrat,

The coming season promises to be a suacessful one to lumbermen, already quite an amount of timber awaits to be shipped down the river; this city wears lively aspect in rafting season, which opens in April.

The city Council here passed an ordinance, forbidding the sale of produce on the street near the city market house; it has been customers heretofore for farmers to back up their wagons near the market house and offer their produce for sale there. This ordinance is unfavorably received by market goers.

A number of improvements are going on in this city. We may mention the erection of a three story brick block on Henderson street, being put up by Brown, Blackburn & Curtin, the ground floor of which is to be used as store rooms, the other portion of the block as dwellings. On Church street a number of buildings are in the course of completion which will add to the lively appearance of that street.

Theatre goers have been favored by the appearance of several first class artists this seasor, among the most popular, Maggie Mitchel, in her naw play Lories; or the Artist's Dream-Jennie Carroll in Nil Desperandum; or Never Dispair. Tom Thomband party played here on Thursday, the 28th.

The young people are enjoying the season hugely; a series of select hops are being held semi-monthly under the management of three of our most energetic young men; last Friday evening they gave a phantom hop which was participated in by a great number of the elite of Lock Haven.

Grand Musical Re-union. The twenty-seventh day of February will be a memorial day in Louisville in more ways than one; on that day we shall have not only the great drawing of the last Library Concert, but also the great musical treat of Gilm r renowned orchestra. Gilmore is the peer, if not the superior of Theodore Thomas or of Julian. This is his first visit to the West, and except for the gift conpert there is little probability that our citizens would ever have heard his wonderful performances. In the East peo . ple travel a hundred miles or more to attend one of his concerts. Remember that only those who hold at least a coupon ticket in the drawing can gain admission to the hall.
