you. When Ralph swallowed the contents of the phial, he expected to wake in the other world. He was mistaken; the phial contained only a narcotic, and he was very much astonished on opening his eyes to find himself in bed, and to see the sun shining through the curtained windows. A lady sat by the bedside. It was Fulmen. No longer the pale, sad Fulmen, with livid tips and form enveleped in a winding-shert; but Fulmen, fresh, radiant, joyous, in the same coatume which she wore at the fancy bali.

The reader will understand the explanation of all this more readily than the young earl, whose head was still somewhat confused from the effects of the parcetic. The young girl had put the sudden passion of her ball room lover to the test; and, with some difficulty she pursuaded her fond old father and her cousin Herminie to lend themselves to the mistification. A little in-genuity, some invisible assistance, and a transparent glove of serpent skin, aided by the native superstition of the young Scotchman, were all that were necessary to the success of the scheme.

We need not say that the earl, when he recovered his senses, was very glad to exchange his phantom bride for a living one.

-"I see the villain in your face," sald a magistrate to a prisoner. "Your Honor," retorted the prisoner, "that is a personal reflection."

-As our devil was going home with his sweetheart a few evenings since, she said to him: "Fred, I fear I shall never get to heavan." "Why?" asked the knight of the ink-keg. "Because," said she with a "melting" look, "be-. cause I love the devil so well."

-Never faint when you are alone. Always select some good opportunity. The more persons there are about you, the more successful will be your fit. A friend's house, when there is a dinner or an evening party going on, is far from a bad opportunity. Never faint more than once the same evening; as there may be a falling off in the sympathy on the second experiment. A weman should not only faint well, but be above suspicion. Be very careful therefore, never to risk, a faint unless you have some object in view, such as going out of town-or a new gown-or a box at the opera--or being taken to some fete -or any other caprice which your husband may have obstinately refused you. In such cases hysterics are justifiable.

-An old farmer purchased some sweet oil in a drug store yesterday, and, being asked if there was 'nothing else," he laid several packages on the counter, held up a hand with several strings tied on the fingers, and said: "Let's see! That red string is for the bar-soap; that rag is for a broom; that blue cord is for a calico dress; that dress braid means four pounds of sugar, and this other string is for sweet oil. No-nothing more."

-During a trial the Judge called a witness. No one answered, and an elderly man arose and solemnly said "he was gone," "Where has he gone?" asked the Judge, in no tender tone. "I don't know, but he is dead," was the guarded answer.

-A wicked boy, upon whose shoulders his mother was expressing her resentment with both slippers, felt to proud to cry, and kept up his courage by repeating to himself: "Two soles that beat as one."

-The mewl (wrote a school boy) is a larger bird than the guse or turkey. It has two legs to walk with, and 2 more to kick with; and it wears its wings on the side of the head. It is stubbornly backward about going forward.

-The San Francisco milkmen have formed a mutual aid association. One holds the can, while the other pumps.

-The Saginaw girls of the Methodist persuasion having met together, concluded to pray for the welfare of their lovers, but the first one had not got very far along in her petition when it was discovered that they were all engaged to the same man. The religious exercises were at once terminated and an indignation meeting organized, the result of which was that the gay deceiver was obliged to leave town at a few hours' notice in order to escape the vengeance of male relatives.

-An athletic specimen of a man from the Emerald Isle called at the counting-room of a merchant, and took off his hat to make one of his politest bows.

"The top o' the mornin' to ye, Mis ther S. I've been tould ye're in want o' belp."

"I've but little to do,"replied Mr. S., with mercantile gravity. "I'm the boy for ye's. It's but little

I care about doing, shure it's the money I'm afther."

-When Shakespeare wrote about patience on a monument, did he refer to doctors' patients?" "No." "How do you know he didn't?" "Because you always find them under a monument."

Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are a purely Vegetable preparation, made chiefly from the native herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked, "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of VINEGAR BITalleled success of Vinegar Bit-Ters? Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease, and the patient recovers his health. They are the great blood purifier and a life-giving principle, a perfect Reno-vator and Invigorator of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded pos-sessing the remarkable qualities of Vin-egar Bitters in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to. They are a gentic Purgative as well as a Tonic, relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs, in Bilious Diseases.

The properties of Dr. WALKnn's Vincoar Bitters are Aperient, Dia-phoretic, Carminative, Nutritious, Laxa-tive, Diuretic, Sedative, Counter-Irritant, Sudorific, Alterative, and Anti-Bilious.

Grateful Thousands proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these vari-ous organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to Dr. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy func-tions of the digestive organs.
