.-On Monday night a large number of our citizens paid a "surprise to the worthy host of the Valley House and his lady. A very clegant supper was set up, to which ample justice was done by those present, and the evening was spent in conversation and games, the party breaking up "amang the wee sma' hours" much pleased with the pleasures of the evening.

-A curious suit will come up in the May session of county court at Milford. It is a twenty-year-old affair, and grew out of an election bet. Dur-ing the Buchanau-Fremont presidential campaign, Major Colvin L. Seymour bet with Aoraham Westfallseveral hundred acres of land that Fremont would elected. Title deeds to both were placed in the hands of Daniel Van Auken, dis trict attorney of the county. Of course Sey/mour lost. The property has now Seymour lest. The property has now risen in value tremendously. Several far nous stone quarries have been in operation there, and Mr. Seymour repets his bet. He brings suit against Westfall, on the ground that the whole transaction was illegal. Betting debts being usually classed by civilized nations among "debts of honor," the attions among tempt to evade one nearly twenty years after its payment should characterize Mr. Seymour's suit as an action of dishonor Infinito Castle, No. 78, A. O. K. of M. C., recently organized in this place, is progressing finely. The Cas-tle already numbers about $0 members, and the cry is "still they come."

A Trexier, Weissport, at 1 p. m. March 22, 1875.

A certain individual is peddling coal oil through this end of the county, and having no license, is selling the article much below the regular dealers can af ford, who have to pay a license of atleast of $12.75, (mercantile $7,75 and Int-Revenue, $5,00.) Upon inquiring at Mauch Chunk, I find that no license can be granted for selling the abovenamed article, and I would therefore caution the young man against repeating his experiment in this locality, as resort will be had to legal means to put a stop" to bim.

Rev. S. Breyfogel, the newly appointed Pastor for Parryville circuit, in place of Rev. A. Zeigerfuss, delivered a very able sermon in Solt's Church on Sunday morning last, 10 A. M. to a well filled house of anxious hearers. Mr. B. comes well recommended, and we hope we may be able to make his stay amongst us agreeable.

Mr. Francis Palmer departed this life on Thursday morning, March 11th, by a stroke of palsy. He intended to go to Weissport with the team, and while in the act of going towards the sleigh; dropped down and died in the yard by the side of his old faithful horse. The Inneral took place from his residence on Pine Run, on Monday last at 10 A. M. He was interred at St. Paul's church: services by Rev. A. Bartholomew, of Lehighton. His age was 62 years 3 mo. and 9 days.

Mr. David Boyer, Sen., residing near Millpost, ended his earthly career on Saturday last. His disease was consumption. His only son David preceded him but a few months ago to the grave. We deeply sympathize with both families in this their sad bereavement. The funeral took place on Tuesday last, at 10 A. M. His remains were taken to Snyder's church and there deposited in their final resting

Miss Mary Ann Bloomy breathed her last on Tuesday morning 2 A. M. Disease Consumption—she was confined to her bed only a few days. Funeral on Thursday afternoon 2 P. M. at Solt's church, Rev. G. T. Haines, of port officiating. She was aged 81 years 1 mo, and 11 days. Big Creek March 18th 1875.

Parryville Items. The readers of the Carbon Advocate are perhaps aware that Parryville is a borough; therefore, the first thing to be looked after is a place to build a lock-up, better known by name of "jug;" and second to build it. Contractors are sending in their bids and we can soon have the pleasure of gazing upon the beautiful structure and of being locked up in it too, if necessary. The question that agitates the public mind is, who will be the first to occupy the new quarters? One of the Town Councils, we suppose will be locked up in it for a week or two to see if is properly built, &c., and if, at the end of that time, he Is alive and able to talk he will be notified to appear before the Council and give his opinion as to whether he thinks it will answer; If so they will keep itif not it will be sold for a saw mill or a bird box. We will notify the readers of the Advocate when the building is done, so they can have the pleasure of beholding the wonderful lock-up of Parryville. We suppose the L. V. & C. R. R, will have a reduction of fare, —The Philadelphia M. E. Conference has been in session during the week.
The following appointments were made the dedication.

The entertainment in the school house building, iast Friday and Saturday evenings, was quite a success. House was crowded both evenings and every body was more than satisfied with the performances. Did not see many of Lehigh ton folks at the entertainment. Why is this thusly? Pete, we will "go back" on you sure pop.

The reading room of Parryville is in a flourishing condition, and the mem-bers are one and all a joily set of young tellows. Dop in and see for yourself. ONEY JOKIN'.

Our Lock Haven Letter,

The water has not yet troubled us; the ice lies to the depth of twenty feet in the river. In Kenovo the ice gorge gave way some days ago and moved down to Gien Union, at that point ice can be seen for miles. But little damage has been done on the West Branch as yet by the moving ice gorges.

Our city has borne a sad appearance this winter, being blessed with plenty of snow and tramps.

Rafting season will probably begin next month, then our business men will observe a change for the better.

A number of new puildings are nearing completion, and will when finished add to the attractiveness of the city. Many new stores are being built, which is an evidence of enterprise among our blooness men.

The public schools of this place closed about three weeks ago. Many select schools are now in progress; and more will open about the lat of the month. The Fallon House, recently purchas-ed by Major J. W. Smith, after having undergone a series of renovation, was opened by a grand banquet on Tuesday, the 9th inst. Many representatives of the press from Williamsport and other places were present. The house is nu-der the superintendancy of J. Schnyder, Jr., whose popularity as a landlord is well and lavorably known. SIGNOR LEG.

Tin Wedding Anniversary

On Friday evening of last week, Mr. and Mrs. Zahner, of this borough, celebrated their tin wedding. The Shakpercan Reading Circle with a number of their friends assembled at the residence of Mr. Zahner, on Bank street, and engaged in a variety of parlor games and other entertainments to the amusement of all engaged until the clock struck 11, when a cheering call from their amiable hostess came for all to proceed to the dining room to partake of the "goodles" prepared for the occasion, and to which ample justice was done by the assembled guests. Among the guests were Mrs. Durling, Misses Yarnall, Nead, Hauk and Johnson; Messrs. J. Lentz, S. J. Barnett, H. A. Peters, D. S. Grossman, A. Brodhead and O. A. Clauss. After supper the party cajoyed themselves with amusing games, when they dispersed in good time to enjoy that "sweet restorer—balmy sleep," leaving behind them quite a number of useful tin articles, by which the worthy couple will long remember the 10th annoversary of their wedded life. Two of the young ladies received the compliment of having appeared in dress and tasty adornment of flowers, and of baving contributed much to render the enjoyment of the evening complete. All were wall pleased with the

The Affair at Kocher's Notch.

Some time in January, says the Hazleton Dally News, we published an account of an alleged assault committed by Fred. Brontmire, upon a young man named George Gould, in the saw mill at Kocker's Notch, near White .Haven. Brontmire was arrested and placed in fail and subsequently released on bail. It seems that the affair grew out of an indecent assault perpetrated upon the person of Miss Jennie White, a school teacher in Forest Township. The school house is in an isolated, lone some locality, and one afternoon Gould called there and hung around until the school was dismissed and the school house deserted by the scholars. He then attacked Miss White, but she being a strong resolute young woman, success fully resisted the sowardly wretch, and he finally desisted from his wicked purpose. During the evening Miss White told Miss Brontmire of the treatment she had received at the hards of Gould, and the recital was accidentally overheard by young Brontmire who had conceived a warm affection for Miss W. He was filled with rage at the nefarious conduct of Gould, and upon his coming to the house on that evening, resolved to accuse him of the crime. The young men went to the saw mill together and on the way Brontmire made known to Gould what had been revealed by Miss White, While in the mill Gould assaulted Brontmire, apparently with an intent to murder him, but was defeated and wounded in the struggle. Such is the story as it has reached us, and now comes the sequel to the affair. On Tuesday, Gould was arrested and taken before Esquire Dean, at White Haven, before Esquite Bront-to auswer a complaint of Fred. Bront-mire for assault and battery. He was held to bail in the sum of $500 for his appearance at court. Miss Jennie White also preferred a complaint against the prisoner for assault with intent to commit a rape. The accused pleaded not guilty to the charge of Brontmire, but admitted part of the accusation by Miss White, and was required to give bail in the sum of $1000, for his appearance at court. It is to be hoped that full justice will be meted out to him, if proved guilty of the villianies imputed to him.

A New License Law for the Whole State.

St. Patrick's was a memorable day in the State Legislature, both Houses having passed the act to repeal the Local Option law, and a general License law was agreed upon in connection there with instead of the great political scarecrow. The bill passed the Senate by a vote of 27 to 20, and in the house by 122 to 68. It contains twelve sections, namely:

The first absolutely repeals the Local Option law of the 27th of March, 1872 Option law of the Stan decrees may be The second says that licenses may be Court of Quarter Sesgranted by the Court of Quarter ions, when not otherwise provided to by special law for one year. classes hotels, ions and taverns as foliows: When the yearly sales exceed $10,000 per annum, $700 license shall be paid. The fifth section awards the fines penalties to the city treasury. The sixth obliges the constables of the wards to make returns of unlicensed houses. The seventh authorizes husbands, wives parents, children and guardians to give notice to the house not to sell to their relatives who may be of dissipated habits. The eighth prohibits foreign agents and non-re-idents from selling. ninth authorizes dealer's bonds to cancelled after thirty days' notice. The tenth requires bands of two thousand dollars to be signed before the license issue. The eleventh prohibits sales on Sundays, and to minors, and the tweifth Issue.

A Homesick Blacksmith.

The Morning Herald, of the 24th inst., is responsible for the following: "Mr. Charles Napper, who resides in East Allentown, went to Packerton several days ago and commenced to work in a blacksmith shop at $1.25 per day. Not liking the job and locality, he grew tired of the situation very soon, and this feeling came upon him so strongly on Monday evening at 8 o'clock that he started away from Packerton, which is distant from this city 27 miles, and walked to his home by way of railroad. It was an all-night walk, he reached home a little before 10 a, m, We appreciate the plack of Mr. Napper, but little care to do what he did.?
