

The Carbon Advocate.

H. V. MORTIMER, EDITOR.
LEHIGHTON, PA.:
SATURDAY MORNING APRIL 3, 1875.

The Pennsylvania Supreme Court has decided adversely to the Central Railway of New Jersey, which appealed from a verdict of $5,000 for injuries to a passenger, the Court holding that the State statute limiting damages to $3,000 is unconstitutional.

General Francis E. Splener has just resigned his position as United States Treasurer, an office which he held since 1861. The cause is not distinctly understood, but it is said that since General Bristow became Secretary, the privilege General Splener formerly enjoyed of selecting his own subordinates has been interfered with.

The Central Railroad Company of New Jersey, it is stated, are considering the matter of building a tunnel under the waters of Newark bay from Elizabethport to Bergen Point. The bridge across the bay has cost the company three times its original cost, as the Engineer estimates that it has been rebuilt three times since its first completion.

The Darien Canal surveying party, under Capt. Lull, have finished the survey towards Panama from a central point on the Atlantic, and have reached Bujo, within fifteen miles of Aspinwall. The entire work is expected to be completed before the middle of April. It has been decided that Aspinwall is the proper terminus for the canal, and would only need a quarter moon breakwater to shelter it from northers.

Commenting upon the present condition of the dry goods market, the N. Y. Observer of April 1st, says: "The trade has been active during the week now closing, but owing to the continuation of unpropitious weather, there is no enthusiasm among buyers. Leading jobbers have been quite busy. The entire stock in the market averages at least 25 per cent. below the rates current before the panic, and thus, if the same quantity is sold, it will foot up only 75 per cent. of the old business. This state of the market makes a marked difference in the profits, and the rates have been steady, opening prices being unusually well sustained, so that the prospect of a profitable trade is far more hopeful. It is, of course, far better to sell three-fourth of a million at an average advance from cost of ten per cent., than to dispose of one million upon which there has been no average gain. The trade, even to this date, and in spite of the ungenial weather, is far ahead of last spring, and those who entered the season with moderate expectations are well-satisfied and hopeful. The movement in foreign dress goods has been restricted only by the limited quantity on sale. Nearly all of the most desirable fabrics are coming forward directly to jobbers."

The Gazette, Democrat and Gen. C. Albright.

Sir,—I have been disgusted "ad nauseam" at the fulsomeeness of the Gazette and the slanderous lying of the Mauch Chunk Democrat.—The Gazette forever prizing, and the Democrat eternally and forever, belying Gen. Chas. Albright. The former indulging in his praise only to spite his adversary, and the latter spitting out his venom to retort on his opponent, Messrs. Editors, we have had enough of this. You are not to make or unmake the General a Governor; your praise on the one part and slander on the other will not affect that result one iota—the one sickness and the other irritate; forget your personal animosities; and, if you can't, fight it out among yourselves, personally and individually, and give us in your papers what we pay for, and don't perpetually drag a man's name about in your columns whom to insult is to insult the majority and the better portion of your readers. Democrats and Republicans alike denounce the course pursued by both papers—it is unequalled for, especially at the present time. I do not object to the Gazette's good opinion of the General, but I think he ought to say a little less, and what he does say ought to be said "a little better," nor do I object to the Democrat displaying a little political spleen, semi-occasionally, but don't lie so much about it and impose on your readers and make outside communities believe that that's the stuff it is people of Carbon county want to read. Emphatically, they don't want it; there is plenty of good matter to all your columns, so don't cheat your readers out of good material only to satisfy your own spite at each other by praising and defaming the character of a fellow townsmen, in whom not a one the people of Carbon county but of Pennsylvania have great confidence, and have so declared by giving him the largest majority for Congressman at large on the ticket. Undoubtedly both papers will think

It is none of my business how they manage their papers. I will anticipate that observation, by saying that your readers pay for both papers, and to that extent feel themselves stockholders in both concerns, and consequently feel as though they had a right, at least, to express an opinion on the subject.

The Coal Regions.

A despatch from Shamokin Tuesday night says the miners continued, joining the miners' union organized there recently, and it is supposed they will suspend work in all the mines soon. Unusual quiet prevailed throughout this region to-day, and the laboring associations here denigrate the acts of violence committed at Hazleton yesterday by their co-workmen.

Mauch Chunk, March 30.—Nearly 150 armed raiders were in possession to-day, and visited Yorkton, Spring Mountains, Audenreid, Beaver Meadow, Janesville and other collieries, on a scouting expedition, and made all persons stop who were engaged on dead work. No one was injured and no damage was done.

It is reported that 50,000 bags of flour were purchased for the miners in the Lehigh region last week with funds of the Workingmen's Benevolent Association, and is now delivered in the neighborhood of Audenreid and Beaver Meadow.

Hazleton, March 30.—The mob which left Audenreid this morning for this place was intercepted at Beaver Meadow mines by Father McArrin, the Catholic priest of Audenreid, who persuaded them to disperse and return to their homes. The Hazletonians have thus escaped a second invasion, which threatened serious consequences, and everything is now quiet.

Many shots were fired Monday night by the rioters while rallying their forces, five of which went through a window of the Yorktown Company's store. At Beaver Brook two of the firemen were driven from their work, and one of them was compelled to join the ranks of the rioters.

Hazleton, March 30.—A telegram, received this morning from Audenreid, states that an armed force of miners is en route for this place. They began organizing last night at nine o'clock, entering houses, and compelling the men to leave their beds and accompany them. Their intention is to visit Treksaw and Beaver Meadow, collecting new recruits as they advance. Burgess Uman has been appealed to meet this mob before their arrival here, and remonstrated against their entering the town. Our streets are thronged with excited citizens, eagerly discussing the situation. An angry word, or display of a pistol, may precipitate a fearful riot. Matters are growing very serious, and business men and property-holders tremble with apprehension.

Pottsville, March 30.—Inquiry was made to-day from the masters of the Philadelphia and Reading shops at Cressona and Schuylkill Haven whether their men had resumed work and renounced their connection with the laborers' union, as reported on Monday. They both replied that their respective shops have full complements of men, that coal-heavers, engine-wipers, yard-men, etc., are all to work, and non-union men, as well as resigned union men, are being turned away, their being no further vacancies to fill.

Every coal, freight and passenger engine on the Minehill road except such as are repairing, was out on the road to-day, and there is no further doubt that in these localities the companies' affairs are beyond embarrassment from the laborers' union.

Hazleton, March 31.—Another crowd of armed men have just started from Ebervale for the Upper Lehigh, to stop the men of the Jersey Central Railroad from loading coal at that place. A special train has just left here with a detachment of the coal and Iron Police, armed and equipped to resist any attempt at violence by the mob. Although our streets are quiet, still there is much concern manifested by our citizens generally, and the result of all this raiding is awaited with intense anxiety. Unless the restlessness of the men is soon quieted it will undoubtedly be necessary to call upon the Governor for protection, inasmuch as our local police force is too small to contend with a large body of exasperated and riotous miners. Last night coffin notices were served on the men obtaining coal for the boilers at Eckley colliery. A large mob, numbering about 300 to 400 men, armed with muskets, guns and clubs, have gathered near Ebervale, for the purpose of marching to Upper Lehigh, to drive away the men employed to be in loading coal for the New Jersey Central Railroad. The whole region is in a state of great excitement, and the people feel that their property and lives are at the mercy of those mobs of reckless men. This is the third day of these demonstrations. The Sheriff, Mr. Kirkeadall, has declined to appear, unless an actual riot takes place, and then he proposes to come from Wilkesbarre, twenty-four miles distant, to quell it. A deputy sheriff now here declines to act without instructions. These armed raiders are called "Lauderburn's" regiment, from the fact that Mr. Laudernburn has been selling condemned Government muskets. Deputy Sheriff Rhodes, with his posse, has just arrived with four prisoners, captured at Ebervale. The mob was discovered near Drifton, on their return from Upper Lehigh, where the Sheriff advised them to throw away their arms, after which he, with his posse, proceeded on to Ebervale, and awaited the arrival of the rioters. Wishing to avoid unnecessary trouble, the Sheriff sent out a courier to warn them a second time, threatening to arrest every man found with arms on his person. The raiders were soon seen approaching, but without their guns, having previously secreted them in the woods. Every man was searched as he came in, the result being the arrest of the four men mentioned above, who had pistols and blifles on their persons. Since sending my dispatch announcing the killing of McDerwott at Upper Lehigh it has been learned ed that he was not killed by the rioters, but his death resulted from an accident. Knowing that the miners were on their way to Upper Lehigh, and inasmuch as the dispatch announcing his death gave no particulars, the supposition naturally arose that he was killed by the rioters. It is reported that an effort was made to throw one of the passenger trains off the track to-day between Jeddo and Ebervale.

Pottsville, March 31.—A grand parade of the Mechanics and Workingmen's Benevolent Association of Ashland, and the Mechanics and Laborers' Benevolent Association from Gordon and Heckscherville took place at Ashland this afternoon. About 500 men were in line, who expressed themselves as determined to stand out to the last. At 7 P. M. rioting began in the street opposite the Reppeler House. Chief Burgess Gensell called out the police force to quell the riot. The rioters from Centralia and Patches turned on the chief Burgess and fired several shots at him without effect.

No arrests were made, the police fearing it would cause a great riot. Great excitement prevails, and the citizens fear there will be trouble to-night, as there is a report to the effect that the blacks, as they are termed, at the Mansion House, employed by the Pennsylvania and Reading Railroad Company, will be attacked.

To-day, between Locust Gap and Alaska collieries, the train hands were stoned and fired upon and driven from their train. Supt. Ohauses went to the spot and brought the train through safely. While the societies were on their way from Heckscherville to Ashland and firing a salute at Gordon, one of the men had an arm shot off and another was badly wounded internally by the premature discharge of a cannon.

Harrisburg, March 31.—The following message was sent to the sheriffs of Schuylkill, Columbia and Northumberland counties to-day:—

I am informed that a tumult or mob, disturbing the public peace, exist in your county, and an application has been made to me, under the act of May 4, 1864, to suppress the same. I consider it your duty, as the civil officer of your county, to order out the posse comitatus without delay, and suppress all tumults, riots, mobs or unlawful interference with persons or property in your county.

J. F. HARTRANFT, Governor.

Pottsville, March 31.—Some of our commanders of military companies left suddenly to-night for Harrisburg to consult with Governor Hartranft on the situation in the Schuylkill region, and the general impression is that troops will be called out immediately if for nothing else than to protect the railroad property.

The special police detailed along the branch roads are insufficient to protect the trains, collieries and their employees. The disturbance at Ashland being quieted, nothing has transpired there since midnight, though the citizens continue on the lookout.

The Canadian Government offers liberal terms to French Canadians who will return from the United States.
