and cancel it for you; and it is a source of disappointment to him when people insist on doing it themselves, and will eave him buying his lunch.

In depositing money, try to get it upside down and wrong end foremost, so that the teller may have a little exercise In straightening it up before counting lt.

"It is best not to take your bank-book with you, but call at another time to have it entered. You can thus make two trips to the bank where one would answer.

If a check is made payable to your order, be careful not to indorse it before handing it to the teller, but let him return it to you and wait while you indorse it; this helps pass the time and is a pleasure and relief to the teller.

You can generally save time when making a deposit by counting your money down to the teller, and you can nearly always count more speedily and correctly than he can.

If you make a deposit of one hundred dollars and give a check of fifty, it is a good thing to call frequently at the bank and ask how your account stands, as it impresses the officers favorable with your business qualifications.

Never keep any record of when your notes fall due, and then if they are protested censure the bank for not giving yoù notice.

Always date your check ahead; it is a never falling sign that you keep a good balance in bank, or if you do not wish it generaly known that you are doing a good busineas, do not deposit your money until about the time your check will be in.

A strict observance of the foregoing rules will make your accounts desirable for any bank, and make you a general favorite with all the bank officers.
