The teacher of a district school is in the habit of asking his pupils to define the words which they are given to spell. The boy who had to wrestle with the word "ulcer" said, with a good deal of confidence, that it was General Grant's first name.

The Lowell manufacturing corporations give notice that unless the striking mule spinners return to work before the 14th inst., all the mule spinners will be discharged.

Seranton, Pa., April 5.—A shocking tragedy was enacted last night at Peckville, a small town about eight miles north of this city, on the line of the Delaware and Hudson Railroad, in which a miner named Patrick Slavin was shot through the heart. The victim of this tragic affray was drinking at the saloon of John Slavin in company with some five other minors, among whom were John Edwards and Thos. Morgan. After drinking somewhat freely a discussion arose on the labor question, and the benefit of the trades unions, and the words ran high between Slavin and Edwards. Subsequently the entire party left the saloon, and the dispute was resumed. Edwards was knocked down, beaten, and badly abused. His companion Morgan ran away. Fearing that he would be killed, Edwards drew a revolver, and fired in the air to frighten his assailants. They did not desist, however, and he fired a second, and this time a fatal shot, the ball striking Patrick Slavin a little above the hip, passing upward in a slanting direction, it penetrated his heart and escaped through the left breast, instantly killing him. Edwards was arrested, and after a preliminary hearing before Esquire Mace, was committed to Wilkesbarre prison to await trial at the next Quarter Sessions. Both Edwards and Slavin have been employed at the Winton mines for some time past.

A telegram from Halifax, N. S., reports the discovery of a boy supposed to be Charlie Ross, near Margareville, on the Bay of Fundy. He was found, three weeks ago, in the care of a fortune teller, who arrived at Margareville in October last.
