Our Mauch Chunk Letter

April 21st, 1875. That "the spirit is willing, but the flesh is weak" is the only reason I can plead in excuse of any possible shortcomings in the contents of to-day's. And what else could one expect? No person living can hope to violate the laws of nature with impunity. The human system must have its seasons of rest-just the thing I've vainly striven for since Saturday evening last. The fact is, we, of Mauch Chunk, have had too much of a good thing since then, and now are beginning to feel the effects of over-exertion; and, although there is still more enjoyment in store for us for the balance of the week, many would rather forego participation in further pleasures if they only dared. But on this point society-and particularly Mauch Chunk society-is inexorable. There is no such thing as resisting the mighty whirlpool of fashion, and since Mauch Chunk has decreed that we shall enjoy ourselves, we shall have to drift with the current. But few persons are to be met on the streets. and of the few one does meet, the maiority are foot sore or in a state of ag gravated drowsyness, superinduced by a night's over-indulgence in terpsychor can exercises. Well, the parade is over, the Rescue ball done for, and the-but I anticipate! The "Spelling Bee" having first transpired, I needs should mention, this all-important event in its regular, order. That "Spelling Bees" are all the rage you probably know. They are grand affairs if properly conducted, but their grandest greatness consists in being the latest and grandest humbugs, and while amounting to little as a cri terion, expose us rather in the unenuiable light of an illiterate nation who consider that extraordinarly meritorious in grown persons which one is entitled to expect from any school-boy in his teens-the ability to spell correctly. As I said before, we have had our "Bee," or rather a hiveful of bees, and such a buzzing! The spelling may well be received as of secondary importance, since the primary object-amusement-was fully attained. And a more orderly and merry assemblage one could not have wished to have met. What fun there was in it, had to be sought in the novelty of the thing, and, looking at it in this light probably no one had reason to complain of disappointment. In fact we were indebted to the members of the Y. M. S. A. for a perfectly successful first class sociable. Dispensing with a tiresome recital of details, I shall merely state that 22 "bees" had presented themselves as anxious to particlpate in the buzzing; and that of those 22 bees some fought most resolutely against an adverse fate; it however so happened in the natural course of events that, after manyfold encounters, and the warding off of many well aimed darts, Annie Wilhelm was declared queen of the hive, and Prof. Kline permitted to bask in the rays of her queen ly presence as second. And while Her Majesty received a Dictionary as a token of appreciation, the Prof. was presented with a copy of Longfellow's Poems. Thus ended the "Spelling Bee," and, conscious of having pleas-to come. The most anxiously inquired-for man on Monday last was Sil But the agent did'nt come, consequently the projected trial of the Marion Hose Company's new steamer had to be dispensed with. Tuesday morning found the boys busy as beavers, and when the hour determined on for the parade arrived, every one was ready and at his post. At about noon the Keystone Cornet Band from Summit Hill, who had volunteered to play for the "Rescue Hook and Ladder Co," arrived, and were entertained by the members of the company at the American Hotel. At 2 o'clock the procession formed and paraded the accessible streets of this Borough in this order followed by the new Silby Steamer and members of the company, while a party of young Americans dragging along a superanuated specimen of a hand fire engine, such as were probably in vogue in "the days that tried men's souls," brought up the rear. And a more fitting compliment to the genius of the present era could not well have been selected! It speaks volumes in favor of the living present. The various companies comprising the Yolunteer Fire Department of Mauch Chunk, paraded nigh unto 200 men, and as a merely local affair it has been very creditable indeed. The new Steamer and Ladder Truck were, of course, the main features of the day, and elicited the admiration and favor-

selected and displayed by the "Rescue" boys was favorably received. On their return from East Mauch Chunk, and prior to their march to Upper Mauch Chunk, the different companies took position on Broadway, in front of the American Hotel, from the steps of which they were addressed in a very felicitous manner by Hon. Allen Craig, to whom, Chief Marshal, Gen. Berto lette, responded in behalf of the department in happy style. The procession was then continued, and at about 6 o'clock all had resumed its wonted quiet. The Rescue Hook and Ladder Company's ball, attracted quite a crowd to Rhoad's Hall in the evening. The fine tolletts of the many fair ones, the strict decorum of all, the prevailing good humor, and the zest with which dancing was indulged in until nearly four o clock this morning, furnished a fitting finale to what had been a gala-day. It is almost superfluous to say that nothing happened to mar the enjoyment of all. The drawing of the Marion Hose Company's Gift Enterprise will wind fire matters to-morrow, or the day after, after which we may predict the return of usual quiet, Yours.

CAVENDISH.

NOTES -Max Schwelbinz, E-q., who has nearly recovered from the effects of his late accident, made his reappearance upon the streets on Wednesday last .-Max looks tolerably well, but thin-his gait is not yet "as it used to was."

-John Conway, foreman of "Rescue Hook and Ladder Co.," has been the happy recipient of a silver bugle. The name of the liberal doner is studiously withheld.

-If all places were like Mauch Chunk, there would be little need of statutes to 'prevent crueity to animals." There s said to be in our midst a philanthropist who, in heart's most tender mood, has adopted as his own a motherless 'purp," which he is now trying to raise at the bottle.

-Acting on the " in time of peace prepare for war" principle, the publisher of the Democrat has contracted for a new engine, which he hopes to have put up in season to meet the demands of the expected rush at the time of resumption. There's nothing like it,

-Court is still in session. -J. W. Seip, Esq., the gentlemanly conductor of a passenger train on the Tamaqua branch of the C. RR. of N.J., who has been laid up with rheumatism for nearly three months, resumed his duties a few days ago, greatly to the satisfaction of our local "tramps," by whom he had been greatly missed.

-What would you think of a party, principally composed of ladies and teetotal gentlemen, should they suddenly change tactics, and vociferously call for: Porter ! Porter ! Yet this is precisely what happened at Saturday's "Spelling Bee." Such consistency!

Put It Correctly.

The individual writing Items for the Morning Herald from this place, appears to be particularly endowed with the faculty of getting things wrong. Here is what he says in regard to the petition of citizens to the School Board. asking the refunding of the amount paid by Lebigh H. & L. Co. for the use of the Hall on the occasion of their recent entertainment:

Our School Board, on motion of Dr. N. B. Reber, unanimously resolved not to grant the petition of the citizens to refund the rent for the School Hall which the Hook and Ladder Company training of the little ones. has paid for their late entertainment.

And here is the resolution as it stands on the minutes of the Board of April 14th:

"The petition of Lehigh Hook Ladder Co. was read, and, on motion of Dr. N. B. Reber, seconded by Mr. R. J. Youngkin, was accepted and ordered to be filed."

It will thus be seen that the correspondent is greatly astray of the truth when he says it "was unanimously resolved not to refund the amount paid." The petition was acted upon as above on account of a press of other and more important business, with the view of crowded house all expressed great satistaking it up on some future occasion faction and the universal desire was that for consideration and action. Be sure it should soon be repeated.

Successful Ministry.

The following from the Pottstown Daily Ledger, of the 19th inst., will, sons, members of Emmanuel Lutheran church, this borough, 282 in the Church, and 16 at their residences, who were too old and infirm to meet with the congregation. The services were conducted in the German language. This together with the 303 English communiable comments of all. "Where duty have been made as the membership, which must be exceedingly gratifying to him as well to to the congregation."

The Coal Trade.

The Philadelphia Inquirer of Monday last, says: There is no change to report in the condition of affairs in the coal trade, the differences between the companies, operators and miners and labor ers remain unsettled and seem to be as far from adjustment as ever, neither party showing the least disposition to yield. In the meantime business is almost suspended, and the interests of the State almost stagnated. The expectation that the men in the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Company's mines would commence work during the week has not been realized. Ten thousand men are now idle in that district, and have formally announced their ability and determination to hold out three months if the advance of 10 per cent. in their wages be not conceded. There are also several thousand miners at Wilkesbarre, employed by smaller com-panies, awaiting the action of the Le-high and Wilkesbarre Company and their men. In the meantime the Hyde Park miners are furnishing them with funds, $800 having been sent to Wilkes barre on Saturday, and $3000 more being expected in a few days.

In the Schuylkill regions there is comparatively no work doing, the miners are evidently resolved to hold out to the bitter end. They boast of efficient support by other trade organizations. So far as can be judged from the temper of the men and the disposition of the managers of the companies and of the operators, the struggle is by no means near its end. It would appear to disinterested lookers on that some method of compromise should re adopted. This been the result of long strikes in the coal region, and it will come again: the sooner it comes the better. The pre-sence of the military has had a salutary effect in the Hazleton district, comparative quiet and order is maintained, so that the "outrage mill" is not supplied with sufficient motive power to keep it in running order. The inability to pro cure coal is a subject of loud complaint among manufacturers in this city, at Wilmington, Trenton, Norristown, and in many other places factories are pelled to stop in consequence, while on the line of the road furnaces and roll ing mills are forced to stop or blow out.

The following table shows the quanof coal shipped over the Lehigh Valley Railroad for the week ending April 17, 1875, and for the year as compared with the same time last year:

The School Entertainment.

Very agreeably disappointed were we when we entered the Public School Hall last Saturday evening, and saw the excellent arrangement of the stage, curtains and scenery, and when, with exceeding great pleasure, we witnessed the variety of plays, consisting of amateur dramas, comedies and tableaux. and saw how well adapted each one was to the part he or she carried from the smallest pupil to the adult teacher, we were still more agreeably disappointed. Indeed it was a difficult matter for us to say who performed the best. The pupils did exceedingly well, apparently some excelled but the prominence of the parts they carried only made them appear more prominent. The tableaux were perfect. The teachers performed admirably and certainly deserve great credit for the admirable

We further learn that with the assistance of a carpenter, the sceneries and curtains were all prepared by the teachers and pupils, and the preparations for the entertainments took only about 2 weeks, a very short time. Our eachers are a hard working corps, and our Directors can well be proud of having so well succeeded in satisfying the public during the first term in the New School Building. We learn that the proceeds of the entertainment a mounted to $87. Saturday evening's entertainment was witnessed by a

During the cold weather of the latter part of the last and first part of this week, some of our farmers were busy no doubt prove of much interest to the at plowing and preparing to sow oats, many warm and admiring friends of and some at planting potatoes. The roads are again in a fair condition for travel, considering in what state they were one week ago.

The days are growing longer, and offer for our farmers the opportunity for more hours of work and less sleep. There will be services at Pine Run, to-morrow (Sanday), at 3 p. m.; Sunday School at 1:30 p. m., and in the evening, at 7:30, in the church at

Letter from "Oney Jokin."

To the Editor of the Carbon Advocate. DEAR SIR,-Keep the ball rolling. In answer to your correspondent, "Se-rious," I would say, I do not wish to change my "non de plume" to that of Oney Gassin—I left that name for him; it just suits him; he has the fame, why not take the name? for in all of his writings he has been Seriously Oney Gassin; while I have been "Oney Jok-in." The reason he would not take the name of Oney Gassin is this, he knew the Parryville readers of the Advocate would know at once who be was, and that would not do. When I say, "I am in for it now," I mean I stand a good chance of going in the leck up crazy; that is, if I keep in his cempany much. I get a look at him very near every day, but I do not think his diseaso is so very serious if he will only keep quiet, and don't get excited and over his queer notions, he may hold out while the lock up is built. If I have to go in there with him, as he suggests I should, I hope they will put us in separate cells, for of all the crazy, lunny or Serious men you have ever saw, he goes far ahead. He says the readers of the Advocate are intelligent, I have not the least doubt in the world but what the readers are just as well aware of that fact as he is. For my part I never had any occasion to doubt it. I amso sorry for him; but I think, by kind nursing. &c., he will be all right in a short time. When I tell him the first question the Council "cussed and discussed," he says he is as well aware of the fact as I am. I knew that very well, and he is just right in saying he is aware of it, for there is very little of anything that he is not aware of in this town, and if he is not aware of it he makes it his ness to find it out, and then it might as well be published; and again he goes on in his mad ramblings and says "Heaven bless the borough fathers for looking so far ahead for the benefit of our I take a front seat along "Serious" and say, amen—to it. He goes on to say we have only one crazy goes on to say we have only one crazy man in Parryville, such in the public opinion. That may be a fact, too; and I rather agree with him since reading his last letter, but I did not think he would let his friends know he was so badly afflicted, I hope he will soon get over it. "Serious" you had better stay in the house for the moon is getting full and it don't agree with those that are deranged, and if you ever get better come out again and mingle with the "law abiding people second to none in the State." I hope the readers of the Advocate will not think so seriously of my slang as my dear friend "Serious" does; being in his not very good com-pany at different times is where I learn so much of it. One thing more then I finish, if your correspondent, "Serious" goes crazy entirely he has not far to go. ONEY JOKIN. not far to go.
