Our Mauch Chunk Letter

MR. EDITOR: "Better late than never," so please don't growl because I am somewhat late in coming to time. News is scarce, which three monosylables will I hope, be accepted as a satisfactory apology.

The excitement of last week has been followed by a season of unusual quiet. The capital prize in the Marion Gift enterprise has gone to Philadelphia, the horse and buggy have been driven to Easton, Dr. Brighton is sporting the gold hunting-case patent lever watch, Dr. Leonard the one of silver, Mrs. Mc-Nuity is supposed to feel happy in the possession of $200-in greenbacks, and the 27 other lucky ones may be set down as in an easy state of mind. Respecting the 5958 disappointed expectants it will be best to say nothing and draw on imagination. Poor fellows! We pity them, for we know how it is ourselves. After repeated trials the 'Steamer' may be regarded as a complete success. Indeed when we saw it carrying a full stream over the steeple of St. Mark's-170 feet-we considered it about time for skeptics to dry up.

On Monday evening last, some wags, determined to test the mettle of the boys "what runs with the mashine," sounded an alarm. And such a helterskelter scene as followed! In a moment one could see them running in every direction, eager to battle the devouring element. In seven minutes from the sounding of the alarm, the department were out and in motion. The Rescue first, Phoenix next, and Marion last. Having dragged their paraphernalia up Broadway, as far as the M. E. Church, they began to suspect a hoax, and, after a short consultation, concluded to retire to their quarters, which they did, greatly disappointed at having been cheated out of a first-class entertainnent. However, this little incident furnished the boys a chance to demonstrate their self-sacrificing spirit and readiness to serve the community. Speaking of fire matters we may as well mention that the name of the donor of that silver bugie has at last leaked out, It is said to be a present of Robert Klotz to John Conway. Not at all unlikely, since Mr. Klotz's reputation for liberality is well established, and his liberal heart might have prompted him to play a trick of the kind.

"Echoes" of the Pea Nut City Herald is in a bad way. Unless his case shall mend soon, we would advise you to reserve space for a first-class obitu-

Since Mr. Rowland has come out conspicuously as a candidate for the School Superintendancy, the subject is being discussed to a limited extent. Hofford, however, seems to have the inside track.

Now since spring has seemingly begun in carnest, we notice Mr. Fegley busily engaged in clearing the streets of the accumulated fifth of the winter season. In a week or so, the Borough may be expected to look "neat as a pin."

Court, which has been in session since 19th inst., adjourned yesterday, the cases of Kleppinger vs. Packer Township, and Feller vs. the C. RR. Co of N. J. have occupied the greater part of the session, both terminating in a verdict in favor of plaintiff. In the former, motion has been made for a new trial, and in the latter, it is stated, an appeal will be resorted to. Court will meet by adjournment on the 2nd of June next.

Mauch Chunk has had another sengation, consequently-Mauch Chunk is sappy, the cause of which happiness forded by last night's "Spelling Bee." As the second affair of the kind, it may be looked upon as a revised and inproved edition of the first. Gotten up by, and for the benefit of, the Young Men's Christian Association, it was, of course extensively patronized. Everybody was there, and his neighbor. I mean everybody that claims to be a body: 'Tis almost needless to say that the Court House was densely packedsince it is sure to be thus on such occasions. In short it was a time which will long be remembered. The music was excellent, the spelling animated, and the prizes hotly contested. Nevertheless, a struggle of two hours duration resulted in the triumph of two out of an original class of 45. Eugene Whitman capturing the first prize-a large family bible-and Prof. Kline the

The heirs of Henry Feller vs. The Central R. R. Co., of New Jersey. This case was specially set down, for trial in our county court. on Monday last. The claim was for damages for negligence of the Company in causing the death of Henry Feller, on the 26th day of March, 1874, while he was attempting to cross the Company's railroad track in the borough of Weissport. The facts elicited as follows: That the Company kept the crossing in bad repair; placed a watch-house on the west side of the track so as to almost entirely obstruct the view of approaching trains; had no watchman at the crossing; after accident a watchman was stationed there and the watchhouse removed to the east side of the track. It was also shown that Henry Feller, the deceased, drove up the hill towards the track, slowly and cautiously, and that when within a few feet of the track he stopped his team, and looked up and down the track, then drove on, and while crossing the track he was struck by an engine and killed. Deceased was 72 years of age.

The plaintiffs were very ably repreented by Hon. Allen Craig and W. M. Rapsher, Esq., and the defendant by Hon. Chas. Albright. After hearing the testimony, the attorneys made their pleas, the speech of Mr. Rapsher, for plaintiffs, being particularly sharp and telling against the Railroad Co.; the evidence was reviewed by his Honor Judge Dreher, and the case given to the jury who returned a verdict for the plaintiffs for $1840.

The Coal Trade. The strike of the miners and laborers in the greater part of the anthracite coal regions in this State continues much the same as last week and for several previous weeks. The strikers profess a determination to hold out and the operators seem equally determined not to give in. Just at present the situation is unchanged and a good deal befogged as to the future. The Reading Railroad Company, on the 19th instant, and the New York Lehigh Coal Exchange, on the 20th, gave notice that, inasmuch as there is no prospect of the miners and laborers in the Schuylkill and Lehigh coal regions reuming work in time to produce coal during the month of May, no price circular for that month will be issued. The authracite coal carried to market last week was over fifty thousand tons greater than the previous week and but about one hundred and sixty-seven thou-and tons short of that of corresponding week last year. There is, therefore, no apprehension of a coal famine. The present production is considered quite equal to the consumption, and the carrying companies in what is known as the "Combination" are sparing no effort to prevent an advance in coal prices to consumers. Soft coal from the western part of our State, as well as Cumberland coal, is coming forward freely, and does much in abading the inconvenience of the lessened supply of anthracite. The dead lock in the Schuylkill and Lehigh regions is shorn of much of his terrors, so far as the public is concerned, by the assurance that there will, for the remainder of the season, be an ample supply of coal, whether work in those regions is resumed a month or two earlier or later, and coal will be no higher than the schedule prices as fixed by the "Combination."—Phila. Ledger, April 26.

The following table shows the quan-ity of coal shipped over the Lehigh Valley Railroad for the week ending April 24, 1875, and for the year as compared with the same time last year:

Onward and upward"-New Slate factory-National Bank Scheme-R. R. change-Gas Enterprise -Trial Sermon-A Ramble,-Music.

Some of the many readers of the popular little sheet, "The Carbon Advocate" may be anxious to know how Slatington, the slate centre of this section, is flourishing. What follows will show that it is yet in existence and is realizing the American motto, "Onward and Upward," All over town the rattle of the trowel and the finkle of the carpenters tools is heard. The strong "Panic" arm had full sway of our thriving borough as everywhere else, but the busy hand of industry seems to loosen his grasp, and give things a more progressive appearance. Some new structures are being built, while improvements and attachments are made in every section.

Mr. D. Williams is making prepara tions for raising another building to take the place of the one now in ruinswhich was destroyed by the "great destroyer"—fire, some time ago, for making school slates. It will be of larger dimensions than the former and more conveniently arranged inside.

The instigators of the National Bank project met on Saturday last at the Statington Hotel. The proceedings of the meeting were encouraging to the project. Over $30,000 were subscribed for, by Slatingtonians and by representatives from Ironton and Catasauqua, and from rural districts. Saturday, May the 8th is the day appointed for another meeting, when a permanent organization it is supposed will be effected. Just the thing we are in need of.

Since the P. & R RR. Company have leased the Berks county RR. every thing goes along swimmingly. Their traffic has increased fully one hundred per ct. They have just finished putting up the telegraph wires and several messages have been sent. The following passenger trains leave and arrive at this place regularly:

Mr. Urich, a student of the Philadelphia Lutheran Seminary, occupied the pulpit of the the St. John's church Sunday last, in an impressive sermon in the German language in the morning, and one of a more impressive character in the English language in the evening There is a rumor affoat to the effect that he intends giving his name as a candidate to fill the vacancy made by Rev. D. K. Kepner.

A party, consisting of several knights of the mortar, one of the birch, one of the quill and one of the press, lately went out rusticating themselves. The distance rambled around the suburbs of the town and ontside seemed indescribably far from the complaints made by a few, of the soreness of their "understandings" who were in possession of corned "grass tanglers." Notwithstanding all those conscientious scruples the trip was hugely enjoyed in testing speed, trying strength, cutting up pranks and cracking jokes. All were disposed to think that there was truth in the adage:

That a little nonsense now and then, Is relished by the best of men." Several hand organ grinders the other day attracted quite a crowd of juveniles and adults that love to hear the sweet strains of music, as produced by the twittering hand Organ in grinding down jigs, songs and smash downs. NOW AND THEN.

They, toe, are preparing to increase their facilities for doing work, and it is beleived that when they do get these additions com-pleted, their capacity for doing that character of work will not be second to any in the country.
