ung friend, Mr. H. A. Our Mauch Chunk Letter,

MAY 12 .- Consulting my notes lips, I find myself, for once, abundently supplied with material for a lengthy epistle, but, somehow, I dread the task ! Why, I can't tell, but am woefully conscious of the existence of the fact. How I do hate to begin ! but then, since, I must, I'll try. Don't expect much, and you'll not be disappointed.

Since the "trailing Arbutrus" has made its appearance, and the "Switch Dack" is open, the season may be considered as fairly ushered in, and Mauch Chunkers in general, and hotel proprietors in particular, once more on the tip-toe of expectation. That it may prove a profitable season, is, no doubt, the devout wish of all. For a week or wo arrivals will naturally continue limited, beyond that-let's hope for the best ! We certainly need samething to infuse life into what has been worse than stagnation since mid-winter.

A recent visit to Mr. Bieghe's boatyard revealed to me the pleasing fact that there is still some latent activity in our midst. Work there is going on as usual. Mr. B. employs thirty hands, and boasts of orders sufficient to keep them engaged for half a year to come. Tuesday afternoon they launched a fine new boat from this yard, it being the third one finished this season. What a soul-stirring sight that launch must have been! When from this scene of activity I turned to the purlieus of the "port" the most striking contrast preaspect. A solitary beat lay moored at the schutes, receiving her cargo, while the crews of probably a hundred "sail" were idly witnessing the at present novel-spectacle! That such sights are not calculated to prepossess in favor of strikes, you may readily conjecture. They are the withering curse of the coal regions.

Having visited the boat-yard, and "done" the port, let us return to East Mauch Chunk, and enter with me into an establishment, the very existence of which is yet unknown to many. 1 refer to St. Joseph's R. C. parochial school. We have never been very partial to institutions of the kind, but must confess, that after spending an hour or so among the little folks-noting their politeness and proficiency in the various branches taught-and particularly the mode followed in the conduct of the institution, we departed with altogether a different opinion of parochial schools from that previously entertainment, and deeply impressed with the absurdity of the idea that the great Bismark should perceive danger to the Empire in the human, Christian devotion of an army of "Schulscharvestern." The school referred to is attended by about one hundred scholars of both sexes, and instructions given in both languages, the German and English. To notice children of Irish extraction, six or seven years old, reading German fluently certainly surprised us, and so it will any one who may chance to visit that very excellent institution. The Roy. Father Heinen will not refuse to show those around who might wish to "see for themselves,"

In this connexion I must not omit to state, that so soon as the parsonage, now building, shall be completed, St. examination."

The m polite to have recrossed without paying our respects to St. John's Chapel, we entered the venerable structure to find it but little farther advanced towards completion than it has been for some years. Why this should be so, must be best known to the committee having the matter in charge. It is not because of a want of funds. On his return, judging that sundry mugs of "Milwaykee" wouldn't do him any harm, your most obedient entered Schweibenz's to plead at the bar of King Gambrinus ; and right well did he enjoy it! You may smile at the assertion, yet it is nevertheless true, that at least nine out of every ten male persons one meets with are afflicted with piscimania or "fish on the brain." The very air smells fishy ! Indeed, so general are the manifestations of this passion that I am apprehensive of a general exodus ere long. Then-what a "taking in" there will be among the finny tribe!

Quite a stir in religious circles here has been caused by a too sweeping assertion, contained in a certain "Appeal to the Generous," made by the Methodists of East Mauch Chunk, in which they plaim to be "the only Protestant Church in which there is preaching on the Sabbath." Any one, at all conversant with existing facts, will at once note the fallacy of the assertion. Well the "brethring" must be more careful hereafter. Yours, etc.,

. The situation in the anthracite coal regions remains unchanged. In the Schuytkill and Lehigh regions coal production is nearly at a standstill, while in the Lackawanna region quitea harvest is being gathered by a greatly increased production over that of last years at corresponding time, the short production in the two regions named giving a better market for the trade of the one that keeps vigorously at work. The latest news from the regions in revolt gives no assurance of an early seitlement of existing difference. The report of the trade for the week ending on the 1st intrace for the week ending on the 1st in-stant gives further evidence of the con-soling fact that there will be no coal famine at this time, and that the com-bination of producers and carriers will be able to control the price of coal within reasonable limits. Berks County Superintendent.

It will no doubt please many of the old friends of Prof. S. A. Baer, formerly of this place, to learn that he was elected Superintendent for Berks county, on the 4th inst.,. The Reading Daily Eagle, of the 5th inst., commenting upon his election says:

Berks county, in many particulars is ahead of her sister counties in the pro-ficiency of her common schools and the following sentiments of Prof. Baer shows that he is fired with the ambishows that he is fired with the ambi-tion to still elevate the standard of education in this county. Mr. Baer said:
"It shall be my earnest desire, with your kind assistance, to raise the banner of education high in this county. To do this we must also raise the standard of the common school teacher; and door to the position of the professional teacher." Mr. Baer meets the issue boldly. To make our schools better than they are at present, a great care should be observed in the selection of the teachers, and particularly in those the teachers, and particularly in those teachers who are known as "profession-al." In many cases the "professional." teacher is a hinderance to education, because in his or her judgment they have reached the zenith of their ambition, and there is little use for further effort and the effort and the consequence is that they settle down like old clucks and the schools run themselves. One of the best means of providing competent teachers is the annual examination, and from this ordeal no teacher should escape, professional or otherwise. And when Prof. Baer said "and especially must we guard jealously the door to the professional teacher," he undoubtedly professional teacher." he undoubtedly meant that any teacher presenting an application for a professional certificate should be most rigidly examined in all of the following points.

1. Has the applicant merely studied to obtain this certificate to avoid annual examinations, or was the knowledge obtained through a love of study? If the former, no matter how well qualified, no professional certificate should be issued; if the latter and qualified, a certificate may be granted. 2. If the applicant does not cultivate the faculty of imparting knowledge, no professional certificate should be given. 3. If the applicant is peevish and fretful laying and professional certificates and professional certificates and professional certification. per, under no circumstances should he or she be commissioned to teach school.

4. If the applicant for such a certificate does not intend to make teaching a profession, but merely uses the po-sition as a stepping stone to something else, he should not be declared to be a professional teacher.

Keeping in view, therefore the plat-orm adopted by Superintendent Baer, the schools of Berks will win higher inurels in the educational field, and her sons and daughters, speaking both En. than a match for the youngsters of the other counties in the State where only the English language is spoken.

There will be German preaching tomorrow (Sunday) morning, by the pastor of the "Lehighton Mission" Evangelical Association, in the hall on the first floor of the public school house, on Northampton street, Text, Acts 1, 1-14; and in the evening, in the English language; text Epb. 5, 18, all are made welcome. The divine service of the 'Lehighton Mission" will hereafter be held in the hall of the public school house, instead of in the Presbyterian church, as heretofore, since our brothern of the Presbyterian church think it more than probably that they may receive a supply every Sonday, to preach for them, also prayer meeting anticiputed to be held every Wednesday night by them in their church, therefore the members of the "Lehighton Mission," concluded not to deprive the Presbyterian members of the use of Dec. 23 day. their church, hence resolved to hold their services in the public school their services in the public school house, where services will be held hereafter every Sunday morning and in the evening. Prayer meeting on Tuesday and Thursday tights. Many thanks to our Presbyterian friends for the use of their church. J. C. Bliem, Paster.

A. C. Horu.

The contest was lively, some of the younger ones of the class especially deserve praise for their efforts in contesting for the prizes. Among the words missed by the class, we noted the following : celery, agate, tippler, checkrein, mezzotint, pleurisy, perch, chub, peat, koh, algazel, gneiss, oxide, selzing, knurly, naggy, &c. The successful competitors were, Mr. P. M. Van Liew, first prize, a handsome gold ring; Prof. S. J. Barnett, second prize, gold mounted pen holder, and Miss Mary Smith, third prize, a pretty pen-knife.

The result of the affair, financially, was not a success. The words were given out by R. F. Hofford, and the judges were Dr. N. B. Reber, and W. M. Rapsher, Esq.
