The Carbon Advocaie. H. V. MORTHIMER, EDITOR LEHIGHTON, PA.: SATURDAY MORNING MAY 20, 1875.

The Republican State Convention met at Lancaster Wednesday, Hon. John Cessna was chosen temporary Coshrman, and a permanent organara kion was affected by the election of General Harry White as President. The Conmittee on Resolutions then reported a platform, which was adopted, declaring for protection, cheap transpor-tation, free banking, a safe and uniform currency, and the equalization of boun-ties, and opposing the election of any person to the Fresidency for a third Governor Haitrauft was renom-Lerm. inated by acciamation, and Henry Rawle, of Eric, washon inated for State Treasurer on the second ballot, he re-ceiving 145 votes to 71 for Strang and 83 for all others.

Henry Rawle, the Republican nominee for State Treasurer, was born in Mifflin county in 1833. In his 16th year ha entered the service of the Penusyl-vania Railroad, and subsequently be-came in succession Civil Eengineer of the Western Division of that road, and of the Western Division of the Phila-delphia and Erie Railroad. In 1860 he beinta and Eric Rairoad. In 1800 he built a blast furnace in the Chenango Valley for the reduction of ores from the Lake Superior mines by the use of bituminous coal, and is regarded as a pioneer in this enterprise. In 1862 he removed to Eris and engaged in ship-ping coal and ore between that part and ping coal and ore between that port and the Chenango Valley. He was one of a company that built the first blast furnace at Erie in 1869, and in 1872 he organized a company for the operation of the first rolling-mill there. He was also commissioner for the construction of the Erie Water Works. Mr. Rawle was a Deuglass Democrat before the war, but has since been a Republican, and in 1874 was elected Mayor of Erie by the Republicans. He was re-elected Mayor this year, and holds the office at present.

Where is the Safety !

"Extreme laws" are said to be "oxtreme injustice," and yet we know of laws which, though far from being extreme, operate nevertheless as injuriously, and iniquitously as those which may be classified with the former. We refer to the laws affecting the recovery of damages, particularly damages arising from fires occasioned through the ing from area occasioned through the carcinometer of the independent voters in the state of the independent voters indepndent voters independent voters independen careleisness of railroad companies, or pany's, the man was barred from recovering on that account. The ruling of Hon. S. S. Dreher, in this case, was based upon a prior decision of the Supreme Court touching a similar case. We have often considered the subject since, but have never been able to arrive at a definite conclusion, since it is very evident that the fault must either lie in a defect of the law, or its wrong interpretation by the Supreme Bench. The framers of the law could certainly never have contemplated anything of the kind. If the intervention of some one else's property is to be a bar, what use would there have been for the enactment of the law? Supposing this Intervening tract to have been but 10 or 20 feet-would it therefore have barred all recovery ? If so, the sooner the law shall be repealed or amended, the better. The subject is certainly deserving the attention of all who dwell, or own property, along railroad lines.

vote. The vote was-White, 146 ; Koontz 101. Gen. White made a lengthy speech favoring Hartranft's renomination and greeted with loud applause. Wm. B. Mann, of Phila., nominated Gen. Hartranft for Governor in an eloquent speech. He enlogized his gal-lautry as a soldier, his purity as an offi-cial, and his firmness as Governor. Under his lead the party would march to victory. B. F. Eshleman, of Lancaster, seconded the nomination, in speech prom-ising powerful support from his county, and no such defection as occurred thre years ago.

Gen. Hartranft was then nominated amid great applause. Next in order being the nomination of a candidate for Treasurer, Mr. Bar-tholomew, of Schuylkill, named Batler B. Strang. He was an informal Re-publican, and is now the spokesman of the party in the State. The friend of the labor interest, he would aid Hartranft.

Mr. Souther, of Erie, nominated Mr. Henry Rawle, who had been an earnest Republican since 1860. Other nominations were made as follows : Andrew Stowart, Payetta, E H. Wisson, Indiana, L. D. Shoasabker, Lazerne, G. Dawsen, Gogenan, Lobaron, H. Reed Myors, Ern Jord, P. A. B. Walener, Fusikasi phia, Dr. Walinee, Lawronce, Mr. McKnicht, Borzas, E. Falmacock, Gettysburg, Wr.

Mr. Wallace 'withdrew. The first ballot resulted as follows :

All withdrew 'except Strang, Rawle,

Stewart and Wilson.

The pomination of Mr. Rawle was then made unanimous, and endorsed by the convention.

The Republican Association, of Washington, was given its usual places on the State Committee. The chairman of committee was left to the candidates and Gen. White. Many of the dele-gates left for home. A large satisfaction meeting was held Wednesday night in Fulton Hall, and was addressed by Hon. Julian C. Burroughs, of Michigan, and others. The Anti-Cameron claimants of the party says that Rawle weakens the tick-et, and the intelligent Democrats hold that when the Democratic convention meets, its action will be such as to challenge the admiration and assistance of all the independent voters in the State. THE RESOLUTIONS.
