H. V. MORTHIMER, . . . EDITOR

LEHIGHTON, PA.: SATURDAY MORNING JUNE 19, 1875.

MORTON McMichael, of Philadel phin; Andrew G. Curtin, of Bellefonte; J. H. Shoenberger, of Pittsburgh; Geo. Scott, of Catawissa; and Foster Wilson Mitchell, of Franklin, have been appointed by the Governor as a State Board of Centennial Managers. The appointments were made in accordance with the fifth section of the act of April 19, 1875. They display the usual good judgment of our Executive.

SAYS the St. Louis "Globe - Democrat," "When Hartranft was a candidate, three years ago, Mr. McClure warned the people that his election would be the inauguration of a reign of robbery and corruption throughout the State. Now he says that his administration has been all that personal purity and integrity could suggest. Mr. McCjure will find out that it is a diffitult thing for an editor to keep up a show of 'independence" while he has a big load of per sonal bile on his stomach."

In the New York Court of Appeals at Albany Tuesday, Judge Allen read an opinion reversing the judgment of the Supreme Court in the case of William M. Tweed, and ordering his discharge from custody. All the Judges concurred; one, Judge Miller, being absent. The point of the decision is that the Court of Oyer and Terminer, which tried Tweed, had not the power which tried Tweed, hat not the power to pronounce, as it did, several judg-ments and inflict accumulated punish-ments upon the conviction of the pris-oner of the offences charged in the sin-gle indictment. Judge Rapello, in con-curring says, that the power of the Court was exhausted when the first entence of one years' imprison and $250 fine was imposed, and the term having expired and the fine being paid, the prisoner is entitled to be dis-

THE political tax collector, says the N. Y. Sun, appeared in the Interior Department Wednesday with his assessment book, and began the grand rounds. The rate of taxation this year is one per cent, on the annual salary of every employee, male and female, and neither age, sex, color, or previous condition of servitude is excepted. The Interior Department is relied on specially for the Ohio campaign, and Delano himself is grand marshal and generalissimo of the forces. His name with that of Assistant Secretary Coween and all the Commissioners, headed the list. The method of assessment is as follows: The collector has a list of all clerks arranged under their different classes, according to the amount of salaries, and each one is required to sign his name and put down his one per cent. on his annual salary. When the canvass has been made, the list is handed in to the paying clerks, and they hand over the money and charge the amounts against the clerks' next monthly installment of salary. The total amount which will be assessed and collected in the Interior Department will be $12,131. The campaign, as ap pears by this move, is to be opened early in Ohio and pressed vigorously.

Bunker Hill-Centennial June 17. On Friday, June 16th. 1775, a detachment of provincial troops, estimated at 160 men, including 250 as a fatigue party, with introncing tools, paraded on the Comnon, at Cambridge, Massachusetts. Samuel Langdon, D. D., President of Harvard College, who, thirty years before had experience as military chapitin in the The Glass Manufacturing Company.

The question of organizing a Glass Company has been diseased more or less in our borough for the past few weeks. Mr. Chase, the gentleman who is urging the people of Lehighton to subscribe the necessary stock to put up the works, is the holder of what he demander to make glass. He asks a thorough examination and investigation of its merits. His proposition now is, that the people of Lehighton and vicinity shall subscribe $7,000 — which sum, the hinks, will start the business to make heavy work, only. That the works of make contained the subscribe the necessary stock to put up the works. It is a straight to the subscribe the necessary stock to put up the works, is the holder of what he demander to make glass. He asks a thorough examination and investigation of its merits. His proposition now is, that the people of Lehighton and vicinity shall subscribe $7,000 — which sum, the company is the company is the patent is a successful of the patent workings of the patent prove entirely satisfactory. He will put his patent for the United States in the Company for $8,000 in stock of the Company is of the patent is a success (and he is supe of it) then he wants a $1,000 worth of stock of the Company is of the patent is a success (and he is supe of it) then he wants a $1,000 worth of stock of the company is not the company is not the said $7,000. His offer seems very reasonable and fair, and shows his yow could done in the enterprise. It would be well for the enterprise in the company is not the said $7,000. His offer seems very reasonable and fair, and shows his yow could content to consider this matter and not at low the chance to establish a business, over the said $7,000. His offer seems very reasonable and fair, and shows his yow could content to consider this matter and not at low the chance to establish a business of importance and profit to our brough and county to go by default resson, to fire the piace. Of the population of Chattestown, then about 50%, only 50% remained in the town up to the time of the battle. But the flames of Charlestown fired the Americans to a more resolute and united resistence, and the momentary military necessity proved a premanent disaster to the cause which had seemed to demand it.

It is a common mistake to suppose that in other times, more than at present, statesused and selected the state of the cause which had seemed to demand it.

It is a common mistake to suppose that in other times, more than at present, statesused and selected the state of the public. In the light of takes events, we now those of how great advantage the affair of Runker Hill was to the popular cause. But though, as the listorian Frohinghan remarks, "It was a victory, under the paper of a defeat," yet, "at the state was regarded with disappointment and even with indignation." "No one, for years, and the listorian Frohinghan remarks," it was a victory, under the dust the hour of naving directed it no notice was taken of its returning anniversary.

In the participants in this hereic affair but it is now discovered that there are questions of detail which it is difficult to fix. The question who was in command of the original detachment, and no officer was placed for the moment of the original detachment, and no officer was placed for early, but not yet commissioned, served as a volunteer, deciming to take command, though, it was tendered him by Prescett. Putnam and Pomercy and others also distinguished themselves, and were dynamically the cause. The truth appears to be that Prescett.
