A Bad Bug.

In his address at the Columbia county Agricultural Fair, Governor Tilden gave the farmers some important information in regard to that which is far more destructive to their incomes from year to year than the potato bug or any and all of the insects that eat up their crops. The address is very suggestive, and we copy the following portion of

and we copy the following portion of it:

Fellow-citizens, if I were to telk to you about the culture in which you are cheared, no doubt I could pent out what and who your encemes are. I could point out what agency it is that destroys your crops—t could aliude in particular to the polate bare, with which the farmers of this pounty are patternary familiar. But I have to say to you that there is a bug far worse. There is a cast that consumes not merely your potato copy, but that consumes not merely your potato copy, but that consumes not merely your errors consumes them partly before they are gathered and consumes more after they are gathered and consumes more after they are gathered and consumes them partly before they are gathered and that is the 1 x conflector. This are gathered and consumes more after they are gathered and the class to the conflector. The partly before they are gathered and the consumes have a many have a many days and they come and they can may have a many our antification of the tell and in your workshop, but he can up your antificate at the end of the year.

I and occasion is at winter to say that in this country there is far too much of the fruits of industry there is far too much of the fruits of industry there is far too much of the rot carnings of society, far too much of the fruits of industry there is far too much of the fruits of industry in the American Unon seven thous and millions of doilers to carry on the government—seven mindle millions of doilers in each year. Think what a monetrous and appalling amount. Think, fellow-citizens, whatever may be your party affiliations or party opinions—say to me whether there is not a great evil and a great wrong which every good citizens to restive. I man quite aware that a state of famings has existed in our country that would naturally create these cytle. In the exigences of war, is also dans with all other sood citizens to restive. I may append to the propose of the policy and economy were supposed to be locessery, and nablas and tendencle patriotic firm action of all cathems of all plactics, of all classes.

And there is no person in the American Union who is more deeply interested in this reform than the farmer. To day about half of the tax contributed by the atmos goes to the "tail of New York to carry or public affairs. If, therefore, the amount can be reduced one-back will reduce one quartor, what the lax satisfies or clama. If you do not reduce town and count taxes, that is your own fault because the thing is perfectly within your control. When it come to State taxes, that is within the power of the Legislature and the Executive at A bany. In regard to that, you will have no difficulty what, were if you sood there the eight men; and you will find that it are will be no difficulty in reaching the state tax one-ball within two years if the farmers in the rough districts will only say they desire it and are determined to have

-At the evening session (Sept. 30.) of the Army of Tenne-see, President U. S. Grant being called out, said he had concluded to disappoint those who called on him in the expectation of getting a short speech, and had jotted down something he wished to say. He then spoke as follows :

then spoke as follows:

Companies; it slways affords me much gratification to meet my commission in arms of ten and fourteen years ago, and to tell over again from memory the triats and hardenips of those cowys of nordships intoseed for the preservations and perpetuation of our free institutions. We believed these preservations and perpetuation of our free institutions. We believed these preservations and perpetuation of our free institutions. We believe the things for and, if need be, dring for. How many of our commades mad the inter price for our perserved. Union, Let beit heroism and sacrifice be ever green in our memory. Let not the result of their sacrifices be due rowed. The Union and the free institutions for which they died should be more dear for their sacrifices. We will not cony to any of those who fought against os any, privilege on der the fover-ament which we causin for ourselves. On the contagy we welcome all such who some forward in good faith to help build up the waste p access and to perpetuate our less tatthous against all excenses, as brothers in fall interest with us in a common norriege, but we now in the war. It is to be hoped that like trials will never again of all our country. In this somitment no class of perpite can more heartify join than the soldiers who saturation—no class of perpite can increase in the build again to return the result of the longit.

—no class of perpite country in the result of the longit is then build by granding against every enemy threatening the propeptive of free republican.

I do not all gentle the same believe on the a fair.

then begin by guarding against every enemy thereacting the posperity of free republican institutions.

I do not aring into this assemblage politics, our miny not partisan pointes but it is a fair subject for the solidars in their deuberations to consider wint may be necessary to secure the prize for which they not better to an a republic like ours where the clings is the sovering and the efficial the servant, where no power is exercised except by the will of the people, should foster intelligence—that utelligence which is to preserve us as a free nation. If we are to have surrous and the contest in the hear future of our national existence I predict that the dividing the particular contest in the hear future of our national existence I predict that the dividing the particular and intelligence of the saw such as a free nation. If we are to have a superstitute, and the contest in the hear future of our national existence I believe is a good time to begin the work of strengstemms the foundations of the structure communeed by our patriotic forestables one hundred years ago at Lexington. Let us all labor to all all needful guarantees for the security of free thought, free speech, a free press, pure normal, unfettered religious gent mounts, and of equal tights and privileges to all men, irrespective of nationality, color, or elegion; encourage free schools, and resolve that not one dollar appropriated for their support actually be appropriated to the support of any sectarian schools; Peoplee that not the discussion, man work that those sufficient to affine the overy child growing up in too land the opportunity of a good common school education, our max of with sectaring the free intention to the family alter, the church, and the private sections, and resolve that not one dollar appropriated to the support of any sectarian is chools. Remains other than those sufficient to afford to every child growing up in the land the opportunity of a good common school education, unin xed with growing up in the land the opportunity

The speech was greeted with tremendous rounds of applause by the audience.

-THE AUTHORS OF THE " SPELLING MANIA."-And now it is said that the publishers of Webster's Dictionaries are responsible for the recent "Spelling Bee" excitement. Whether this is true or not, the spelling mania was a good thing, and it undoubtedly had a very excellent influence, Of all educational accomplishments, a proper knowledge of the orthography of our own language is certainly the most desirable, and of all the deficiences in our educational methods, that relating to this study is the most marked. And we were therefore going to say that whether the spelling excitement came about through the advertising efforts of the Webster publishers or not, one thing is quite clear, and that is that there is nothing that has helped to stimulate the widespread interest to the subject, or that is so nearly a Speller's VAUE MECUM as Webster's Pocket Dictionary, sold for one dollar, and to be had of almost any dealer in books. It is a marvel of compactness, containing about three hundred illustrations, over eighteen thousand words, prief but comprehensive rules for spelling, a large number of words from Foreign languages, phrases, proverbs, etc., in common use. It is neatly bound in Moroeco, with tucks and gilt edges. If not otherwise obtainable it may be had by mail from the publishers, Messrs. Ivison, Blakeman, Taylor & Co., 138 and 140 Grand St., New York, by enclosing to them the price, one dollar.

-Says the New York Times: It is well known that one of the first vestigations" to which a Democratic House of Representatives will address itself will relate to the affairs of the District of Columbia. When that inquiry is in progress we doubt whether it will answer any useful purpose to serve orders of arrest on Mr. Dana or any other newspaper editor for "wicked libels." It will be necessary for Mr. Shepherd to find some other means of answering the charges which are likely to be brought against him. He will have to explain the celebrated paving contract given to Murtagh, editor of the "official organ" at Washington, and General Babcock's relations with that worthy cannot fall to lead to some interesting disclosures. It is to be hoped that no one more important than Babcock may be seriously compromised by them.

-The Court of Common Pleas of Chester county, Pa., has decided that a writing on a slate is not a good will under the statue which requires all wills to "be in writing." Various decisions have been rendered on the question 1875, 26,222,499 23. Bonds issued to Pacific Railroad Companies, interest payable in lawful money principal outstanding, $64,638,512; interest accrued somewhere," and "drew it" at slate and not yet paid, $969,362 68; interest | pennils.

-The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad Company report that for the first eight months of the year to September 1, the net earnings on $25, 000,000 capital, after bearing $2,440,-000 interest and lease charges and $1,-250,000 dividends (two of 21/2 per cent. quarterly each), left sufficient for the October dividend, and a liberal surplus to be carried over to the next dividend account, and a month's business (September) yet to be added.
