Prayer that Created an Emplesant-ness Among the Sisters,

ness Among the Sisters,

They came near having a row in a colored prayer-meeting at Keytesville a few nights ago. One of the sisters, who had a grievance, prayed:

"O, Lord I look, pon Dy resembled children hyar dis ebenin', an' moob' 'em with Dy grace. Tetch dyar harts wid de spirit ob all 'bounding lub. Build up dar faith so strong dat de debbil can't budge it, an' 'specially would we ax, if it am possible wid de redeemer, dat Dou put a little moah sense into the objusticated pate ob the yallaw wench what am a giglin' on de bench preopposite Dy bejubbed sarvant."

wench what am a gighn on de bench preopposite Ly belubbed sarvant."
"What's dat you'se sayin' to the Lord 'bout me?" asked the weach, rising to a point of order.
Nor seeming to notice the interruption, the supplication continued:

"Gib our fool and erring' sister more disgumption, O Lord! to see de differumence atwixt right an' wrong, an' larn de huzzy to behave herse! in Dy holy sankencoary, 'stead of wrig-glum' round like she was swallowed a cork-serew, an' 'taminetin' dese saked presinks wid unholy winkin's at the male an' maskeline proportion ob dis assembled gatherin'. An' oh.—"

"It's a lie! good Lord, it's a lie! an' Dou in Dy inflammate wisdom knows I neber done it!" shouted the traduced member, who had now become nearly wild with rage. "Dar's not one practicle of troot in it. It's a lie, an' I can mash the lies!"

With these words she threw herself over the bench on to the back of the over the bench on to the back of the kneeling sister, plunged her hands into the bustle of that devout but indiscreet person and lifted her up bodily.

Confusion reigned and dire dismay was in many faces that but a moment before were bright with the hope of Heaven. But a stalwart deacon finally separated the females, caimed their excited feelings, and, addressing the beloved audience in an impressed tone said:

said : "Bredern, it am better that we dwell "Bredern, it am better that we dwell togeder in impunity. Less peal to de frone ob grace dat dar be no moar such graceful disruption in our midst. Will Brudder Johnson please make the 'peal In one ob his powerful prahars?"

And the appeal was well and timely made.—From the Brunswicker.

Something to read on Sundays .. The whole family climbed out of the wagon and went into the Atlantic book

They were father, mother, and sixteen-year-old daughter.

teen-year-old daughter.

'Mister, we want ter sorter git somethin' good to read on Sundays, which is powerful lonesome in the country.'

'Shall be glad to serve you, sir. What will the ladies like?'

'What d'ye want, Sofy?''

'I'd choose somthin' pout the new tashious 'rea!'

"I'd choose somthin' bout the new fashions, 'pa i'."

"Of koare, I mought a know'd thet!
Kin you fix her out?"

"Oh, yes, 'replied the storekeeper; "we have here Godey, Leghe, Harper's Bazar, Peterson, Demorsat, and numerous other magazines."

"Godey? W'ye you don't tell me he's live an' figurin' out fashions yet, do ye?" cried the old man.

"Oh, yes?" was the reply.

"Well, centennial snakes and crossbarred breeches! W'y, ole 'ooman, don't ye mind ye thet we hed our wedgin' close fixed up arter his plan? Godey and I'li pet the bob tailed mule an'the black shoat that what he sez is the fashion shoat that what he sez is the fashion can't be discounted."

"What will your wife like "asked the merchapt, as the old man pair for the magazine."

"Somethin' that's got good church readin' in it—some religus paper, ef ye please," replied the old lady. "Here's the best we have—the Chris-tian at Work."
"Hold up thar! Is thet got any ef thet Beecher an' Tilting biziness it it?"

"None o' yer bizness, anyhow b'pose there is?" fired up the old lady.

"'Taint, hey!"
"No, 'taint!" So's it's church readin' it don't bother you, sir ; so dry up!"
"Well, mebbe that's so ; an' what I mister : jist hand me out half a dozen 'lustrated papers full of pictures of legs with striped stockin's on au' fifty-dollar garters, and—"

The old lady chucked the Christian at Work under the table grabbed the old man by the ear, and if he had worn striped stockings, about s'even inches of them would have been seen between the tops of his shoes and the bottoms of his pants' legs, as she made him walk Spanish out to the wagon.

—"How do you get up your ser-mons" asked some one of Mr. Moody. His reply was: "For a number of years I have kept large envelopes mark-ed, say, 'Blood,' 'Heaven,' 'Faith,' etc., and everything I hear or meet with on any of these subjects I make a note of it, and kept it in these enve-lopes. After some time I have ma-terial enough in these envelopes for three or four sermons. People some-times speak of me taking four or five months to prepare a sermon ; it takes me four or five years."

-A countryman brought a board to an artist, with the request that he would paint upon it St. Christopher, as large as life. But, "returned the artist, "the board is too short for that purpose." The countryman looked per-plexed at his unexpected discovery.
"That's bad," he said; "but look'e air, you can let his ankles hang over the edge of the board," —Subject for discussion by debating clubs: "Was Noah justified in taking with him into the ark the two parent mosquitoes?' —In 1829 Henry Damon was sent for murder to the Vermont State prison for life. He was recently killed by falling down stairs at the age of sixty
