The Coal Trade.

The anthractic coal trade is moderately ac-tive, though without special feature. It is un-deration that there will be no advance in prices of coal during the month of November. The representatives of the several companies in the A grand rally of the Democratic voters of the lawer portion of the county, will be held at the public house of J. T. McDauiel, in Mahoning Valley, on MONDAY EVENING NEXT, No. combination, it is stated, have agreed to this, The production of coal will not be currailed by the direct order of any of the companies, though there is a general impression that work will not be pressed by any of them. Indeed, some ing, Hon. Allen Craig and Den'l Kalbfus, Esq. outsiders, protessing to be posted in the matter, infimate that none of the companies will store coal this season, and that a general suspension of production may take giace about the middle
