The Carbon Advocate.

H. V. MORTHIMER, ... EDITOR

LEHIGHTON, PA.:

SATURDAY MORNING NOV. 20, 1875.

Read This.

We have made arrangements with the publishers of the Practical Farmer, by which we are enabled to offer their paper in connection with our own at a little above the price of one.

The Practical Farmer is a 16-page Agricultural and Family Weekly, containing, in addition to its numerous illustrations, over forty columns of carefully prepared reading matter, full of suggestions and directions about crops, the most profitable way of raising and selling them, etc., and many other topics, useful not only to the farmer but to every member of the family.

For $2.80, we will send the Practical Farmer and Carbon Advocate for one year, postage paid, to any part of the United States. Specimen copies of the Practical Farmer may be obtained free by addressing the publishers, Philadelphia, Pa.

—To-day's issue of THE CARBON ADVOCATE completes the third volume.

—It is intimated that Mr. New will soon resign the position of United States Treasurer, and quit the office about New Year's. The reasons for this step are the requirements of his private business in Indiana.

—"The recently-revived rumor" that the United States are about to acquire more Mexican territory, is denied by dispatches from Washington. No proposition of the kind has been made or entertained, and the Mexican Minister declares that no such proposition would be entertained by his Government,

—The exports of American cotton to England continued last week, and several new arrivals from Great Britain, Germany and Canada, commissioned to purchase American cottons, are reported. The value of domestic cottons exported last week was $171,000, of which $131,000 went to the English market, —In answer to an inquiry, we see it stated that the highest point of the public funded debt of the United States was in 1867, when it reached $2,783,425,879. On the last of the present month it stood at $2,118,397,212, showing a reduction in nine and one-third years of $665,028,666. It is computed on the best authority that about two-thirds of the indebtedness is held in Europe, leaving $700,000,000 held in the United Sttaes. "It would be," says Mr. Young, of the Bureau of Statistics, "of particular advantage if the greater proportion of our public debt was held in this country, and thus prevent the continued drain of gold to pay the interest,"

—Sir Edward Thornton, the umpire in the United States and Mexican Claims Commission, gave a decision Saturday in the claim of the Roman Catholic Church, represented by the Bishop of Monterey and Archbishop of San Francisco against the Mexican Government. This case is known as the "Pious Fund Case," and is a claim for the restitution of property given at different times to the Church for the purpose of establishing and supporting missions in California, but which was sequestrated by Santa Anna in 1842. The umpire rejects the demand for interest, and awards the claimants the sum of $904,700 in Mexican gold dollars.

—The National Association, organized to maintain existing Christian features in the American government, and to secure the Religious Amendment of the Constitution of the United States, met in Philadelphia on the 9th inst., for the transaction of its annual business. The Hon. Felix R. Brunot, of Pittsburg, President of the Association, occupied the chair. Steps were taken to secure articles of incorporation, under the name of the National Reform Association. The maintainance of Sabbath Laws, the retention of the Bible in the common schools, the defence of the judicial oath and other Christian features of the government, and the securing of suitable religious acknowledgements in all new State Constitutions, were expressly recognized as among the objects of the society. The next national Convention was appointed to be held in Philadelphia during the last week in June, 1876.

—The following dispatch, dated Washington, D. C., Nov. 14, appeared in the N. Y. Sun of Monday last: "The Sunday Chronicle, which has for two years been a Liberal Republican newspaper, comes out to day with a column editorial article for a third term for General Grant. It says that it is evident that the old issues of the late war, and the new issues about to be forced upon us by an oligarchy as intolerant as that of slavery, render it necessary for the Republican party to take Grant as a candidate for a third term in order to secure victory for next year. It was Gen. Grant alone that saved the party in 1868, and again in 1872, and he alone can save it, and through it the country, from the domination of the late rebels and the Catholic church. The old issues of the war are to be resuscitated, and these, with Grant's keynote in his Des Moines speech are to be the battle cries for 1876. The Republican party has no other candidate who can save it. Gen. Sherman will not do because his wife is a Catholic. Phil Sheridan won't do because he is both a Catholic and a foreigner. The party has no civilian who can carry Ohio, Pennsylvania, and New York. Hence Grant alone can be its Moses. This is the gist of the article, which has evidently been prepared with care. It was publicly announced a few days ago that Zack Chandler had purchased the Chronicle, but this statement is not credited. It is beyond question, however, that pecuniary assistance has been extended to Forney, the proprietor of this new recruit to the third term party."

Union Services.

On Thanksgiving day, Nov. 25, 1875, there will be a union service at 10 o'clock in the morning, in the Presbyterian church, of Lehighton. The services will be in the English and the German languages, and conducted by Rev. Messrs. Blum, Coffman and Carrington. The community is cordially and warmly invited to attend.

Bills for the following sales have been printed at this office during the past few days:

Nov. 27, at 10 a. m., the real and personal property of Joseph Koch, dec'd., near Prince's Paint Mill, Franklin twp. This sale was advertised for the 20th, but has been postponed until the 27th, on account of the Remsley sale.

Dec. 4 at 1 p. m., a valuable farm, late of Elias Shive, dec'd., situate in Beaver Run, Mahoning twp.

December 18th, at 2 o'clock p. m., the valuable real estate of Jacob Montz, dec'd, near Parryville. Dan'l Wentz, administrator.

Current Events.

—The Amoskeag Mills, at Manchester, N. H. have given notice of a reduction of from five to fifteen per cent in the wages of operatives, to take effect on December 1. It is believed other mills will follow suit.

—The exposition of the Tradesmen's Industrial Institute at Pittsburg closed on Saturday night, after having been open for thirty days. It is estimated that the total attendance was 350,000; the receipts $75,000, and the expenditures $80,000.

—A meeting of the "New England Labor Reform League" was held sunday in Boston. Resolutions were adopted, according to the telegrams, "denouncing all political parties creeds and faiths," and asserting that "all the legislation in the country tends but to promote the interests of speculative robbery." Some very blasphemous and incendiary speeches were made. One speaker said "men are dealing in Chicago, and people need not be surprised to find that city in ashes some morning." Other cities were threatened with a similar fate, and tramps were lauded as "the only honest men." The blasphemous utterances, as reported by telegraph, we forbear to quote, —A telegram from Omaha reports the occurrence of "a most extraordinary storm" along the Union Pacific Railroad west of Green river during Saturday night. Sleet fell in such quantities that the telegraph wires were coated with ice to the thickness of a man's wrist. Snow also fell at Bitter Creek to a depth on twelve feet. The storm was moving east.

—In the U. S. District Court at St. Louis, on Saturday, Colonel John A. Joyce, ex-revenue agent, was sentenced to imprisonment in the penitentiary for three and a half years and to pay a fine of $5 00.

—The trial of Joseph Lansberry, in the U. S. Court at Pittsburg, for the murder of Provost Marshal Butler, in 1864, has resulted in his acquittal.

—The Secretary of the Treasury issued a call Monday for the redemption of $12,705,350 of the five-twenties of June, 1864. This completes the subscription for the full amount of $500,000,000 of the new fives, and closes the refunding operations so far as these bonds are concerned. The secretary has also called for $5,000,000 for the sinking fund, which will exhaust the balance of the five-twenties of June, 1864 and commence upon the five-twenties of 1865 to the amount of $1,975,400.

—An order reducing the number of employes at the varies Custom Houses throughout the country will be issued by the Secretary of the Treasury in a few days. The reduction is made necessary to the fact that "the appropriation for the collection of customs is deficient to the extent of about $400,000."

—Hiram Hanley, aged 25, top filler at Sheridan Furnace No. 2, on the Lebanon Valley railroad, was suffocated by the gas from the stack on Saturday afternoon. He leaves a wife and child.

—J. Ritz Burns, son of General James Burns, of Lewistown, Pa., accidentally shot himself dead Monday morning while hunting.

—A special correspondent of the New York Evening Post telegraphs from Washington that the subejct of the note addressed by our Governor to spain is a complaint of the violation of the seventh article of the Treaty of 1795, which provides that citizens of either of the contracting countries when arrested, shall be allowed to employ such counsel as they may judge proper. It is claimed that this article has been repeatedly violated by spanish officers in Cuba, and our Government asks explanations and demands an enforcement of the treaty in future.

—Eight cases of small-pox and one of variloid have been discovered in Washington, and the Board of Health has taken precautions against the spread of the disease.

—The fall official returns from Wisconsin give Ludington, Republican, for Governor, 841 majority. The rest of the State ticket is Democratic by majorities ranging from 621 to 2804.

—The remains of Guibord were buried in the Catholic cemetery at Montreal Tuesday, in accordance with the order of the British Privy Council, and no disturbance took place. The body was escorted to the cemetery by a force of 700 policemen, followed by more than a thousand infantry, cavalry and artillery, and the coffin was deposited in a bed of Portland cement, the sarcophagus not being used. There was some hooting by a crowd of roughs at some remarks made by a Mr. Cemyre, eulogistic of Guibord, and, according to the telegraphed report, "a dead thief" was thrown upon the filled-up grave. Threats of digging up the body having been uttered, a guard of policemen was stationed at the grave until the cement enclosing the coffin should become hardened into stone—a process of about twenty-four hour's duration.

—The prices of print cloths having fallen off nearly one cent per yard since September 1, the Manufacturers of Fall River, Mass., have appointed a commission to visit England and arrange for the exportation of fabrics to that country. At a meeting Tuesday the manufacturers voted a reduction in wages of ten per cent, to take effect on the first Monday in December. The reduction will affect superintendents as well as operatives.

—The Episcopal Board of Missions, in session at Louisville, Ky., Tuesday discussed plans for bringing the colored people within the pale of the Episcopal Church. The opinion seemed to prevail that the Catholic Church was in a fair way to win over the colored race, and, that if the Protestant denominations wished to succeed in the matter, immediate action must be taken.

—Charles Schuter, a justice of the peace in Hazleton Pa., was arrested Tuesday on the charge of having, on election day, sent forged telegrams to friends of the Republican candidates in Luzerne county, conveying false information, for the purpose of creating trouble in the Republican ranks and thus securing the election of the Democratic candidates. It is asserted that he attached the names of prominent Republicans of Hazleton to these missives. Schuter waived a hearing and gave bail for his appearance at court.

—There was a sharp earthquake in San Francisco on Monday evening at 8 o'clock, but no damage was done. The vibrations were "east and west." There was also a "smart shock" of earthquake in Southern California and Arizona at half-past two o'clock Tuesday morning.

—The Court of Appeals at Albany, Tuesday morning, dismissed the appeals in the Tweed cases thus refusing Tweed a reduction of bail and a bill of particulars.

—Five prisoners in the whip factory in the Western Penitentiary at Pittsburg mutined Tuesday and nearly killed the contractor, Mr. Charles Weaver, before they were over powered. Ninety convicts were at work in the place where the trouble occurred.

The last and most successful of American story writers of to-day is the Rev. W. M. Baker, pastor of a Presbyterian Church in Boston, and they do say he gets more for a single serial story than his whole year's salary as pastor. He has already written "The New Timothy" and "Moss Evans," and is now engaged upon a story entitled "A Good Year," the scenes of which are laid in "the most interesting city of the South," during a residence there. The story, we learn, is to be published in the Rev. Dr. Talmage's paper, The Christian at Work.
