-It is stated that the Speaker will announce the standing committees of the House on the 21st inst., and that the holiday recess will begin from the sucqueiling day.

-The Advance says : "It is not the custom to read the Bible at the Friday evening lectures in Plymouth Church, Brooklyn," and the pastor says, 'It ought not to be the custom to read the Bible in the public schools."

-We see it stated that a circular will soon be issued from the Treasury at Washington advising the national banks that hereafter the expense falling upon the Government for expressage upon notes sent to the Redemption Bureau for redemption, where such money is not in a condition unfit for girenlation, will be deducted from the amount received there, and consequently will fall upon the senders.

- Speaking of the escape of W. M. Tweed, the N. Y. Observer, of the 16th, says : We have not a syllable of reliable intelligence in regard to the archrobber and fagitive, Tweed; nor do we learn that anything has been done to call his liberators to account. It is true nothing has been proved in regard to the active assistance of his keepers, the Sheriff and Warden and a sistant, in effecting his escape, but he was in their custody, and through their criminal neglect he walked out of his own door and is by this time in all probability in some foreign country. Can such a thing occur, with no one to blame."

-A shocking accident occurred at Bremerhaven, the port of Bremen on Saturday last. While the steamship Mosel was embarking her passengers for New York, in the outer port, a case of dynamite powder exploded, killing 68 persons, wounding 85 more, and 8 are missing. Only two of the passengers were killed, the fatalities being chiefly among those who had accompanied them. It is supposed that the explosive substance was being smuggled aboard by a passenger. The steamer suffered no particular damage, on account of her great distance from the explosion. This steamship was expected to take on board at Southampton the surviving passengers of the Deutschland.

-Mr. Blaine Tuesday in the House of Representatives introduced a measure proposing an amendment to the Constitution. It provides that " No State shall make any law respecting the establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof, and that no money raised by taxation in any State for the support of public schools or derived from any fund thereof, or any public lands devoted thereto, shall ever be under the control of any religious sect, and that no money or lands so de voted shall be divided among religious sects or denominations." The discussion of this Church and State amendment will bring out the views of Cougressmen upon an issue which must excite the deepest interest during the approaching Presidential champaign.

-A general idea of the expenses of the government may be gathered from the following list of appropriations and estimates sent last week by the Secre tary of the Treasury to Congress for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1877, the following being the total recapitulation by departments. The appropriation for the Post Office Department is in addition to the estimated receipts of the department.

The present distinctive point at issue between the United States and Spain is stated in non-official but usually well-informed circles, as follows:

The United States asks, first, that in the future all American citizens in Cuba accused of violation of law shall be tried by the civil courts, and not by military tribunals, with all the rights in such cases as as are secured by the seventh article of the treaty of 1796; and second, that all sentences where American citizens have heretofore been tried by military tribunals shall be ampulled.

Spain in source degree concedes the claim of the United States to the first claim of the United States to the first.

proposition, agreeing that in the future American citizens accussed of violation of law shall be tried by the ordinary tribunals, with the right to be heard by counsel, to summon witnesses, and employ other necessary safeguards to the accused; but with the reservation that all such trials shall be according to the law of 1821, which provides for more expeditious proceedings than those of the civil courts for common crimes in times of prace. She also offers to revise all sentences passed by court martial on American citizens, where it shall be satisfactorily shown that such sentences were in violation of established laws. This reply is upsatisfactory to the United States, which takes the ground that American citizens accused of crime cannot be tried by court martial, but are entitled to trial before civil tribungis only as secured by treaty stipplations, without such reservation as is proposed by Spain.

Bigotry in the County Institute." At the request of a number of our readers, we publish the paper on "General Education," read by Mr. Jas. N. Derr, principal of the Weissport public schools, at the late County Institute, which called forth the "condennatory resolution" of that body, and excited the indignant comments of a writer in the Democrat, under the caption of " Bigotry in the County Institute," Here is the paper :
