Mauch Chunk Military.

H. V. MORTHIMER-DEAR SIR :- In looking over your issue of March 4th, I see the question asked you, "Where is the military company that was organized some three or four months ago, to which some money was subscribed ?" In reply to that I would say that the project was laid over until this spring. Had not the stoppage taken place it would have been tried this month. Another effort will be made next month; if it fails then the money which was paid in will be refunded to those who paid it. I hold a few dollars in my possession. The reason why it did not succeed was that some officers elected would not serve. Yours respectfully,

AMOS STROH. Mauch Chunk, Pa., Mar. 13, 1876,

The Future of Lehighton.

The Mauch Chunk Democrat of last week, commenting upon the prospect of the establi-hment of the new locomotive works of the Lehigh Valley Rail road Company, at Lehighton, says:

road Company, at Lehighton, says: Although the Lehigh Valley Hailroad Com-pany have not yet fully decided aron the mat-ler, it is, from what we can learn, mere than probable that before the close of the Centermial year, Lehighton will be able to boast of the most extensive aboys along the entire line, pro-vided-it appears that there is also a provise in the case-the borough authorities shall meet the advances of the company in a proper spirity in other works provided they shall agree to occempt the works the company in a proper spirity in other works the company in a proper spirity in other works the company in a proper spirity in other works the company in a proper spirity in other works the company in a proper spirity in other works the company in a proper spirity in other works the company in a proper spirity in other works the company in a proper spirity in other works the orgonal spirity and the hightonians in general are while awake always abxious to turn a ciever peury, and unick at closing a bargain, we have no reason to spiro-enn a failtire of the project on their necound, but rather believe that the immunity asked by the tailreid company, and which we consider no more than fair, will be conceeded without delay. If so and the works should hould, it will centainly prove the wheat act her dought could have once. Favorably is also as her ta we cannot see whose should hundr her from be-roning what she is evidently desired by mo-rue to be -a large, flourishing, manufacturing centre.

For Cash after April 1st.

By reference to the advertisement of now receiving his usual stock of spring and summer styles of cloths, cassimeres F. Grafton, who gave as his authority and vestings, and that he has resolved for the story General Kiddoo of the after April 1st to do business on a strictly cash principle, and for that reason has made a reduction in his prices, so that he will be able to offer to his customers clothing, hats, caps, boots, shoes, and gent's furnishing Chicago Tribune. goods at prices fully as low as the same quality of goods can be parchased in the cities. He trusts that the adoption of the cash system will meet with the approbation of his customers, as he feels confident that under this system he can furnish them with any article in his line far more satisfactorily than he could furnish under the "played out" credit system. He respectfully invites an inspection of his stock and a singing. On the generosity and charity of humanity, Mr. J. P. Delbert dis-coursed interestingly and instructively on the subject of "Benefactors of Mankind.

An essay, well put togother, by Miss A. Wotring, on "The Voyage of Life," followed. The temperance cause was followed. enthusiastically bandled by Mr. E. S. Miller. "Know Thyself," the subject of Miss S. M. Peters' essay, embodied advice for all. The German oration, "Es hat alles seine Zeit," by A. W. Troxel, was followed by an eesay rela-ting to the misfortunes of wanderers, entitled, "The Unfortunate Fligtins," The anniversary oration, delivered by Mr. F. N. Peters, was on the appro-priate topic, "The Centennial." Vivid sparks of patriotism emanated from it, enlivening the dormant national feel-ings of the listeners, causing them to wake up and feel contented and flattered to be citizens of "the land of free and the home of the brave." The benediction was pronounced and very encouraging and suitable closing remarks were make by Rev. Renninger, which closed the fifth yearly celebration of this popular society. The andlence re-mained spell-bound during the entire proceedings, and well could they; the performers acquitted themselves praiseworthily under the circumstances-in convenient to get to their meeting place, and the opportunities for receiv ing an education are comparatively fewer to more thickly populated places. True, Mr. Editor, this article may not interest the readers of your popular sheet as much as the report of a similar one in Carbon co., where the ADVOCATE is more numerously circulated; but, as associations of a literary character like the one carried on so successfully in Lehigh county are of such remarkably good results, they certainly are a means through which knowledge is so noticeably disseminated, I deemed it proper to forward a synopsis to encourage the literary minded and unoccupied young ladies and gentlemen of your borough te at once organize an association of a similar character to improve their precious youthful hours, when the mind is in a state of development, and thereby grow up useful and intelligent citizens. But, by squandering their time like some do, when aged and feeble they may exclaim with the poet, "O, bring me back my youthful days!" But, lo! they will never come back March 13, 1976. again.

" They Say So."

Mr. George H. Pendleton testified before the House Committee on Expenditures in the War Department Tuesday, regarding his connection with the Kentucky Central Railroad. He said that the company paid him 50 per cent. of the amount received by it through his agency for transportation services, and he also received $15,000 additional for collecting the claim. He never paid one dollar to any person connected with the government, or to any member of General Belknap's family. Neither Mrs. Marsh nor Mrs. Bowers travelled Neither with him and his family in Europe, nor did he meet Mr. Clymer in Europe, and the published statement that he had a private conversation with any member of the committee before testifying was infamously talse. General H. V. Boynton was also examined as to the state ments furnished by him to the New York Herald and other papers regarding the alleged payment of money by Mr. Pendleton to Mrs. Belknap; the travelling together in Europe of Mr. Clymer, Mr. Pendleton, Mr. and Mrs. Marsh, and Mrs. Bowers, afterwards Mrs. Belknap; and the recent refusal of Mr. Clymer to receive the testimony of Mrs. Marsh against Pendleton. appears from Boynton's testimony that 1. D. Clauss, the merchant tailor, of this town, it will be seen that he is now resolute the story from ex-Con-gressman Jeremiah M. Wilson, who reberger, who referred him to Colonel B.

Anniversary Celebration.

On Saturday evening, the Schencks-ville Literary Society, in Lehigh county, held their fifth anniversary in the Union church basement, at Unionville, in the lately erected capacious and handsome religious edifice. The audience was a large one, numbering 700 auditors. The exercises consisted of essays, orations, declamations, vocal and instrumental music.

Rev. Renninger opened with a suitable paper. The salutatory oration, welcoming the attentive listeners, fol-lowed by Mr. M. H. Delbert. The first essay, well worded, was read by Miss E. Wotring, on "The Pleasures of Knowledge." Mr. A. Rupp brought out some good hints on "Home Cul-ture." "The Importance of a well spent Life," was the subject of the next ladies' essay. A laughable declama-tion on "Es Fabre in der Train," by Mr. R. D Wotring, broke the monotony of the audience.
