cy it will be fully three months before the coin is in free and easy circulation.

-A good many of the Treasury cterks big fair to have plenty of time on hand to visit the Centennial this summer. We notice that Secretary Bristow talks of giving some six hundred of them a permanent leave of absence.

... The Impeachment Managers have summoned to testify in the Belknap trial Mr. and Mrs. Caleb P. Marsh, H. T. Vail, eashier of the Bank of Commerce, in New York ; E. T. Bartlett, lawyer, of New York, and General Custer, U. S. A.

-The Harrisburg Patriot, of Wednesday last, says : "There are over 290 bills on the House calendar on third reading. As it takes about ten minutes to call over the list of yeas and nays some idea may be formed of the amount of work yet remaining to be done. In addition there are a large number of bills on second reading."

-The World says the New York delegation to the St. Louis convention will be overwhelmingly in favor of Tilden, and if so, says the N. Y. Witness, his nomination as the candidate of the Democratic party for the Presidency is highly probable. Indeed, we do not see that any other prominent man in that party deserves the honor better or so well. But if he is nominated, one thing is pretty certain-it will take the best man the Republicans can nominate to beat him. No battered repotation will do for that contest.

-The State Department is officially informed that the British Government has declined to surrender Winslow un der the ex-tradition clause of the Ashburton Treaty, and that his unconditional release on May 1st is probable. The strong protest of Secretary Fish has doubtless been read to Lord Derby by this time, but it is of "an unusually grave character," and the question at Issue being one "involving good faith in carrying out treaty stipulations," it is believed at the State Department that the British Government will give it the consideration it deserves, and that some days must, therefore, clapse before our Government is informed whether that of Great Britain adheres to its former determination.

-The public need be in no haste to exchange fractional currency for fractional silver coins, says a New York paper, seeing that the unchangeable value of the latter is three per cent. less than that of the former, provided the small currency can be changed into greenbacks. These are worth about 88 cents on the dollar in gold just now, whereas the silver is only worth about 85 cents on the dollar. Both are de preciated currency, a thing which no solvent nation should permit. The silver, however, cannot depreciate much farther if any whilst irredeen able paper may depreciate to any extent. The fractional bills are very handy for small remittances by mail, and doubtless a sufficient supply will be kept in circulation to meet that want.

DRAB ADVOCATE,—President Grant, Mrs. G. and Ulysses, Jr., were here on a visit to ex. Secretary Borne, from Friday to Monday last. The President's trip was one of pleasure only, a brief respite, as it were, so to speak, from the cares of office, and consequently from the importunities of office sockers and all who are anx ions to serve their country—for stamps.
