.... Birthday Visit.

On Friday of last week, H. A. Peters, the popur lar young druggist, was very much surprised by an unexpected visit from his grand-father, age i eventy-five years, his mother and two of his sisters, it being the occasion of his hiridday. The goodies brought slone were rollshed, and the presents thanifully received. They expressed themselves highly pleased with the Diriving appearance of our town, particularly of Obert's pork packing establishment, the new church edifices and the somelous school build-ing. After having spent a very p'eshant afternoon in conversing over news of old and the news in general, they left on the L V. 641

The Coal Trade.

Extreme duliness prevails in the anthracite coal trade and a lessening of the supply from the mines is pecessary. The demand for coal the mines is necessary. The demand for coal under contract is quite limited for the selace that the companies are proprieted to deliver, and for the senses that they have not there is a moder the demand. Under this estuation of the trade there is no remeey out to haid ood out of the market mult the demand sheat catch no with the supply and is loose itse blocked up cars. The Authracite Board of control, at a meeting held in Finladeiphan has week resolved to alcube prices 5 cents per ton 5 t the month of the supply and relate to the where lee 0.6 tons: the original alcoment having been 1,-000.0 of while shipments with be limited to 50,000 tons.
