How JOHN WILKES BOOTH AVESOED THE HANGING OF HIS FRIEND, JOHN

Y. BEAL.

Among the chosen friends of John Wilkes Booth's boyhood was a dashing, chivalrous young man named John \tilde{Y} . Beat, whose home was in the beautiful Shenandoah Valley not far from Win-chester. Damon and Pythias were not more attached to each other than were Booth and Real. Beal was Southern in his sympathies, and planned raids on Northern effies, and at last was captor-ed at or near Buffalo, tried for piracy on Northern lakes, and sentenced to be hanged on Bedloe's Island.

One afternoon, in the city of Wash-ington, while lical was under sentence of death, there alighted from a carriage two men, who walked into the room oc-cupied by Washington McLean of Cincinatti, who was at the time in Washington in the interest of his business. These men who called were Senator Hale of New Hampshire and John Wilkes Booth. Booth was auxious to Booth was auxious to save the life of Beal, his chum and con Edential personal friend. He had interested Mr. Hale in his behalf.

They importuned McLean to go with them to the President, as a Democrat-as a friend of Booth - as a man who had much influence with Mr. Lincoln, and to vouch with Mr. Hale for any promises Booth might make in return for this great favor to him. After a pro-tracted inverview McLean accompanied Hale and Booth in a carriage to the residence of John W. Fornsy, who was then in bed, the hour being late. Forney was awakened from his sleep and told the object of his call. His sympathics were culisted, as he was always ready to serve his Iriends.

It was an hour or more past midnight when Hale, Forzey, McLean, and Booth were driven to the White House. The guard, at the request of Forney, admitted the carriage to the grounds. Mr. Lincoln was called from his sleep, and there, in the dead of night, he sat listened to the prayers of Booth and the endorsements of those who came with him to ask the favor of Executive elemency. This interview lasted till 4 in the moining. It was one of tears, prayers, and petition. There was not a dry eye in the room as flooth kneit at the feet of Lincoln, clasped his knees with his hands, and begged him to spare the life of one man-a personal friend who, in serving the ones he loved, had come to the door of death.

Booth tola all. He told low, long before, in a fit of passion to do some bold deed, he had joined in some conspiracy to abduct the President and to hold him as a hostage for the release of certain military prisoners who were Booth's friends, and who, it was Was thought, were to be shot. He told of the meetings they had held at the house of Mrs. Surratt, and that all of that plan had failen to the ground long before. He offered his service at any time and in any place or capacity, free of cost or fearless of consequences. The eminent gentlemen who were there there with him joined in the request that the prayer of Bcoth be granted, and that

WHY LINCOLN WAS ASSASSINA- WATTERSON ON THE INDEPEND-TED. ENTS.

(From the Courier-Journal.) The Dally Graphic has discovered a new Presidential movement.

This is no less than the disruption of the Re-publican Convention at Cincinnati, the nomination of Bristow and Adams by the Bolting Independents, and the re-enunciation of the Liberal platform of 1872. Thus equipped the new party is to proceed upon St. Louis, capture the Democrats, and force the acceptance of its ticket a la Baltimore. All the Honest Impracticables are booked by the Graphic for its arrangements which is given with considerable detail. The Independent Voter, according to the theory of this schedule, has lost faith in his capacity to cope with the drill-mas-ter. After Curtis's failure in Albany what hope is there against strategy ? The idea, therefore, is to go outside the lines of battle and the rules of war, to come down upon the opposing bosts by parallelogram, to paralee the quotidium, and carry off the swag in a hand basket. In a word, General Kilpatrick's famous cavalry movement at Resaca is to be duplicated, with civil variations. Instead of " here's your panthom horse-man," it is to be " here's your mule."

We I it won't work. The Liberals cannot come out of the same hole they There is neither time nor opwent in. portunity to execute any pigeon-wing movements this year. The drill-mas ters have the Republican party pig by the tail, and he cannot get away from He may kick, leap, and squeal, them. but to no purpose. The nomination of Bristow depends entirely on the state of the Republican liver when the Cin-cinati Convention meets. If the drillmasters are scared they will take Bris-If tow as a matter of that, or nothing. take they are not atraid they will Blaine, Morton, or Conkling, 1f they are neither, but only a little pressed for elbow room, they will take Wash-burne. The bolt sketched by The Graphic cannot be successfully made. Before Schurz and his followers are permitted to return to places from which they can by any possibility play any pranks their hands will be securely tiel. The Republican managers are too wary to can any risks. Nothing less than a thord-term, stands on the part of the President's friends could ause a split, and, since Babcock, Bdknap & Co. put Grant out of the way, there has been the certainty of a united band of brothers. The whips have the leggards well in hand. The Indepenint organs have declared against the Democrats. Thus, the goose swings high for the partisians, and the Honest Impracticable must, for the time being, sing small.

But -upperse the Cincinnati Convention should nominate Morton or Conking and the Independent Voter should revolt, set up a standard for himself, cominate a ticket, carry it to St. Louis, what reception would be receive ? Derision, The Democrats would exp, "Sir, we salute you! You are a very pretty person. The cut of your coat is lovely. The sprig of wild flower in lovely. The sprig of wild flower in your cap is simple, sweet and emble-matic. But your neck is too short, your legs are too short, whilst your hair is too long and you get it rather late. You declare that you despise both parles, yet seceding from At last President Lincoln, with tears to the other and are willing to join it provided you can name the terms. Ex-If it be your purpose to procuse us. ceed on principle proceed. If you are independent alike of victory and votes the fates that reward disinterestedness be with you ! You can lose nothing by our refusal to wear the collar you have wrought. It is a nice collar, but it don't suit us." Could anyone blame the Democrats-should anyone be sur-prised? The Independents have not given the Democrats a fair show. They affected to look for miracles, and because they got only the work of fallible men they have made haste to cry down the party which has given them what they have clamored for-investigation, the avant courrier of reform. Humbugging intrigues are, therefore, out of place. They come in bad grace from the Liberals. But yesterday the New York Tribune spoke of the Republicans as "sobered and chastened." That is the cus of the rest, provided they can get their man. It is with them a oneman movement ; though we are inclined to doubt whether that one man must be Bristow, and for the reason that Bristow is a radical, strict discipline party Republican who would hardly consent to any side show arrangement. The only nomination that he wants is a square-cut, toe line Republican nomination by the regular rank-and-file Republicans in convention assembled at Cincinnati. If he cannot get that he is off and out. The Democrats, on the other hand, cannot be brought into any crooked-ness whatever. The only hope of the party is to return to the strict construc-tion prioniples of Jefferson and Jack-son, from which, as a party, it has never indeed departed. The platform of 1872 was sound and clear, no watter what the ticket was. Hortest money, home rule, and a tariff for reverue, joined to a popular demand for administrative reform, and led by a candidate who represents the spirit and letter of the platform-these are the sole last surviving hope of those who are not carried away by provisional expedients and who prefer defeat to conspiracy. For three successive campaigns the Democratic party has been forced to compromise a part of itself. This time it will try it alone-plain-straightno sugar, or sugar of lead in it.

Of course it is not unlikely that The Graphic's diagnosis of the case is at fault, and that no such intrigue is on foot as that detailed in its columns. There is an independent Voter, and, being a lively animal, he is not going to be suppressed, and will have to take himself somewhere. For out part, judg-ing him by his oracles, we despair of him. He will never act against the Republican party in a crisis unless the Democratic party be out of the way, and that is impossible just yet. We therefore look to see him a Republican, provided Morton or Coukling is not the Republican nominee ; and we do not expect to find him much of a disturbing dement at Cincinnati. More's the pity, we confess; but it is well to take things as they are. If the Democratic party with its present advantage has not the wisdom to work its way out let it die, and then the Honest Impracticables can administer on its remains. Until we can get a new party, however, out and out, no more crookedness-no more.

streaming down his face, took Booth by the hands, bade him rise and stand like a man, and gave bim his promise that Beal should be pardoned. He asked the party to depart that he might gain rest for the work of the morrow, and said that the official document that they asked for should be forwarded at once to United States Marshal Robert Murray, in New York, and through him to the officers charged with the execution of Beal.

After breakfast Lincoln informed Seward, Secretary of State, what he had done or promised to do. Seward said that it must not be ; that public sentiment in the North demanded that Beal should be hung. He declared that to pardon Beal would discourage enlistments, lengthen the war, and insult the sentiment that called for blood. He chiled Lincoln for making such promises without asking the advice of his Cabinet, or advising with him-elf, Sew-art, on State policy. As the argument grew contentious. Seward declared that if the conduct of the war was to be triffed with by appeals for humanity he should go out of the Cabinet and use his influence against the President, and should charge him with being in sympathy with the South. Lincoln yielded and Beal was executed. The reaction to Lincoln's nervous system was such that for days he was far from well. The effect on Booth was terrible. He raved like a madman, and in his frenzy swore that Lincoln and Seward should both pay for the grief and agony he had been put to. From the death of Beal. Booth brooded vengeance for that which he considered a personal affront. His rage took in Seward, and he engaged Harold, Asterodt, and other to avenge Beai's death by killing Seward, while he, Booth, wreaked human ven geance on the President.

At last came the hour. Booth killed Lincoln His friends and the relatives or avengers of Beal tried their best to kill Seward, and when they left him stabbed, bleeding, and limp as a cloth, as he rolled over behind the bed where on they found him, they supposed their work was completely done.

Our story is told. We have given the trath of history, and tol I exactly why Abraham Lincoln, the humane President of the United States was killed.
