The Carbon Advocate.

H. V. NORTHIMER, ... EDITOR

LEHIGHTON, PA.:
SATURDAY MORNING, JUNE 3, 1876.

—General Robert Orr died in Kittanning, Pa., on Monday, aged 91. He was a soldier of 1812, a member of Congress during the administration of John Quincy Adams, and a member of the Pennsylvania Legislature during the session of 1816-17.

—Mr. J. Donald Cameron arrived in Washington Tuesday night, and took charge of the War Department Wednesday. Judge Taft entered upon his duties at the same time. It is understood that Mr. Pierrepont will sail for England on the 22d of June.

—The Legislature of Rhode Island met Tuesday. The counting committee reported that J. M. Adderman was elected Secretary of State by 11,709 majority, and that there was no choice for Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Attorney General, and Treasurer. The Legislature then elected the Republican candidates who received the highest number of votes in the recent election.

—The U. S. Senate, Monday evening, by a vote of 37 nays to 29 yeas, rejected a resolution of Mr. Paddock that William W. Belknap, having ceased to be a civil officer of the United States by reason of his resignation before proceedings in impeachment were commenced against him by the House of Representatives, the Senate cannot take jurisdiction in this case. It was then decided by the same vote that the said Belknap is amenable to trial by impeachment for acts done as Secretary of War, notwithstanding his resignation. It is believed that the Senate will postpone Belknap's trial until November next. The impeachment managers express the opinion that the trial will occupy at least six weeks. To go on with it now would prolong the session of Congress until the latter part of August or in the beginning of September, as, in addition to the time consumed by the trial, a month or six weeks would be required for the disposal of such necessary legislation as the annual appropriation bills. It is said that "grave doubts are expressed by many disinterested persons" whether anything will be gained by proceeding with the trial, less than two thirds of the Senate having voted against it not being precluded by the Senate's action from voting "not guilty" on the jurisdictional ground.

—In reference to the big political and financial pool in which Blaine is said to have had a share, the Washington correspondent of the Boston Herald, writing under date of May 29th, says. "The uncovering of Mr. Blaine's connection with the Northern Pacific Railroad opens up another great pool of corruption which has strangely been kept hidden here for six years. Jay Cook & Co. organized a big political and financial pool, which was nothing more or less than a Credit Mobilier to get the money to build the railroad. Blaine had a share in it, which he received and held in the name of J. B. Stewart, who represented him in the Kansas Pacific Railroad and other enterprises.

"It will be observed by Blaine's letter to Fisher that he says the whole road is divided into twenty-four shares, of which Jay Cook & Co. have twelve. Now it is very well understood here by those who are acquainted with the inside history of the Northern Pacific that these twenty-four shares "were placed where they would do the most good." Jay Cook & Co. made the arrangement and manipulated the scheme with capitalists as well as with Congressmen. Twelve of the twenty-four shares were placed with capitalists in different sections of the country whose standing in the financial world, as well as their political influence, would be serviceable to Jay Cook & Co. in placing the bonds of the company on the market, as well as in controlling Congress. Smith, President of the Vermont Central Railroad Company, and his friends took one interest; Col. Scott of the Pennsylvania Central and his friends, another; George W. Cross, President of the Pittsburgh and Fort Wayne Railroad Company and his friends two shares; Sam Hooper and his friends, two shares; W. G. Fargo another; William Windom, Bill King, and other Minnesota capitalists represented by them, one share; and the other four shares as follows: Thad. Stevens, one in the name of Riley; Bigine, one in the name of Stewart, John Sherman, one in the name of Cooke; U. S. Grant, one.

"The fourteen shares Jay Cook & Co. held were drawn upon for allotment to the army of lobbyists they had employed here from time to time. One share was divided through Edmunds, Postmaster of Washington, and Samuel Wilkeson had another to split up among his friends. Dent and Page got their interest through Steven's man Riley. Smiber Colfax did business with the Cookes, as John Sherman did. There were $81,000,000 of stock of the railroad to be divided among these twenty-four shares and an equal amount of Lake Superior and Puget Sound Land Company stock, as well as a goodly number of 7.30 first mortgage bonds which came through another Credit Mobilier organization called "Construction Company," which built the road, taking all the bonds per mile therefor and dividing the surplus bonds over and above the cost of the road among the ground floor stockholders. Each one of these twenty-four interests was entitled to $3,375,000 of the railroad company stock and a like amount of the land company stock, making in all $6,750,000."

Philadelphia Letter.

PHILA., Pa., May 31, 1876.

DEAR ADVOCATE: Yesterday, Decoration Day, the greatest number of persons were present at the Centennial than on any other day except the opening. At times it was almost impossible to get through the buildings, so crowded were the aisles and passageways. Gilmore's band gave concerts in the Main Building from 10.30 to 12 in the morning, and from 3 to 5 in the afternoon.

—In the Main Building a week could be used to great advantage in seeing the wonderful sights. The department of Mexico shows a trifle in the shape of a lump of silver which is only worth $72,000. Belgium exhibits a pulpit, the carvings upon which are of the most elaborate description. Should the citizens of Lehighton desire to purchase the same, they can do so by handing over 20,000 francs. Sweden makes a grand display of metals and their products. A deer made entirely of nails is one of the attractions of this department. Norway represents the "Dying Stag;" the poor creature is surrounded by several life size figures—there is the father and son, the mother and daughter, watching the last throes of the poor beast. Their faces and attitudes are studies in themselves. Japan gives us a feast of the rarest vases human eyes ever rested upon. $450 is the price of a small sized one. China is not far behind her sister in the beauty of her display. France sends some of the loveliest silks and dresses. It makes a married man sick to look at them. Brazil shows us how ornaments can be made out of feathers and bugs. Great Britain sends a grand collection of cutlery. Austria bids us gaze upon the beautiful glassware and pottery. Germany lets us listen to the strains of delightful music from instruments made in "fatherland," and such instruments are seldom seen or heard now-a-days. Egypt, the oldest nation on the earth, sends her greeting to the youngest, and in doing so she displays rare embroidery, models of the pyramids and many curious things. Spain displays candelabras of solid gold and silver, and of the most exquisite workmanship. Portugal shows you samples of wine, but not having tasted, I can not report its quality. Among America's display I noted a beautiful butterfly, and I am willing to wager a million dollars or so—of anybody's money, for I am not particular—that such a butterfly was never seen before, its eyes are rubies, the tips of its wings are rubies, but the rest of it is made of diamonds and gold. Just think if such a butterfly should get loose in Lehighton, wouldn't that be a sensation for the ADVOCATE. There would be yourself, Mr. Editor, and your staff, then 'Squire Raudenbush, David Eubert and Lehighton in general, in hot pursuit, and in a few moments perhaps the exciting news would reach the Packerton shops and the poor butterfly would have a poor show I can tell you. By this time "Marcutio" will have arrived in Lehighton by special engine, to take a hand in catching the glittering insect and report the result for the ADVOCATE.

—Tiffany & Co., of New York, have a table in their space, the top of which is one solid piece of onyx. As I looked with rapture upon it I thought how happy it would make me to be able to eat a plate of hash off of that table; but, as $500 takes the table with its onyx top, I had to say O, nix.

—Main Building, space T. 65 66, Messrs. C. W. & H. W. Middleton, of this city, make fine display of iron and steel, railway and mine supplies. Their exhibit commands much attention and at some future time I hope I may be better able to describe its prominent features.

—At the dinner hour yesterday there was a rush for the restaurants, I partook of my noonday nutriment at Lauber's and while there, witnessed a contemptible trick. Two young swells sat at the table opposite and ordered a sumptuous dinner with wine and extras, then desert, after it segars, and even had the waiter bring them matches, there they sat smoking complacently, but the moment the waiter left to fill another order they got up and left the restaurant without paying a copper for their entertainment.

—The connecting rods of the great engine in Machinery Hall are made of old horse shoes, 10,000 of which were used in forging the same. This has nothing to do with the "horse power" of the engine, however.

—I saw sixteen pair of pants cut out in ten minutes by the Bruno cloth cutting machine the other day, in Machinery Hall. If I commanded a regiment and was given to slight spells of generosity, I could have pants cut out for the whole command in less than a day.

—"A thing of beauty" is the ice yacht "Whiff," she flys the champion pennant and has made her mile a minute. She can now be seen, with safety, as there is no ice of any consequence in Machinery Hall.

—The making of peppermint drops by a Frenchman from France, can be seen daily in Machinery Hall. I witnessed the process, and as some of the drops stuck to my fingers, I bit them off, (not the fingers, but the peppermint drops). They were fine and I shall be pleased to sample them early and often.

—In machinery Hall you can have toilet soap made with your initials, and the initials will last as long as the soap. You can have a pair of suspenders made with your name woven in full upon them. You can have a sample brick from the brick machine, and as you are on your way home from the Centennial you can read the New York Herald or the New York Times, which are printed in Machinery Hall, and given to visitors.

—Barrels, books, bricks, braids, canvass, corsets, carpets, candles, chocolate, cloth, envelopes, flags, gum-clothing, jewelry, lockets, music, papers, ribbons, soaps, suspenders, cigars, stockings and watches are a few of the things they are manufacturing in Machinery Hall.

—Don't forget to see the display of pumps, each pump seems to be doing its best to pump out a regular lake they have in Machinery Hall; but a sort of Niagara, or at any rate a regular cataract at the end of the lake lends valuable aid to the self same pumps in pumping the water in again. Now, the Centennial Commission will never get the water out so long as the pumps act in this manner, I could drink it dry first.

—For a good breeze, stand in front of the fly wheel of the Corliss Engine. A perfect gale might be obtained by getting on one of the walking beams, but I would not try it without permission.

—Put your head under the steam hammer and see how near the man in charge can come to hitting it without hurting you. Strange to say, very few care to test the hammer in this manner. I am sure if your head should get crushed the inventor would apologize at once. I was in too much of a hurry to try the thing myself.

—Young men remain quite a while at the tables where the Waltham watches are being made. Can it be that the young ladies are more attractive than the watches they are making?

MARCUTIO.

—A disastrous conflagration broke out in the St. Louis suburb of Quebec Tuesday afternoon, when for some reason, the water was turned off from the mains. The conflagration continues to rage unabated, and it is estimated that one thousand houses have been destroyed. A high wind was blowing most of the time. At ten o'clock the fire still continued fiercely, and was "beyond the control of man," the wind having moderated and water became plentiful. The fire which started in Seigneur, passed into the suburb of St. Louis and, fanned by the wind, leaped from house to house, and from Western to the eastern limit of the suburb, a distance of about one mile. The flames then crossed Grand Allee, and hurried on to the third street south of St. John street. As some of the buildings were valuable, the loss will reach an immense figure, probably $1,000,000. The fire department was unable to cope with the flames, and the whole of the third district were burned. Churches filled with goods of all descriptions, and hundreds of poor people were driven to remain in the open air.

—The latest accounts of the fire in the St. Louis suburb of Quebec on Tuesday, states that between six and seven hundred houses were burned, and about six thousand persons rendered homeless. It is said that a woman and two of three children perished in the flames. One account says it is reported that the fire was started by some children who were playing with matches. It is a remarkable circumstance that the fire was the anniversary of the great conflagration in the same suburb forty years ago.

TREMENDOUS REDUCTION IN PRICES FOR CASH!!

The undersigned respectfully announce to their customers and the public in general, that, after mature deliberation, they have determined to SELL GOODS FOR CASH ONLY, from and after MARCH 15, 1876. This plan they believe will be for the benefit of all parties dealing with them as well as for themselves. In doing business on the "credit system" there is always a heavy per centage of bad debts to be provided for and which of necessity must to a great extent be made up by an increased per centage of profit on all goods sold. By adopting the CASH SYSTEM to all, this will no longer be the case. Prices will be marked down to the Lowest Living Profit and our customers will be the gainers thereby, as they will no longer have to pay a per centage on the loss sustained by those who never pay for what they get. Again, by adopting the "cash system," we will be enabled to furnish our patrons with everything in the CLOTHING LINE, made up in the Latest Fashion, by the best of Workmen, and from the Finest Materials, at Prices fully as low as the same quality of a garment can be bought for in any other town in the State.

We would also announce that we have secured the right to use the PATENT RUBBER BOTTOMS for PANTALOONS, the best thing for keeping the pants bottoms in shape ever invented, and that we are now receiving an immense stock of Spring and summer styles of

Cloths, Cassimeres and Vestings, Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps,

GENTLEMEN'S FURNISHING GOODS, and every other article usually found in first-class Clothing Stores. Patronage solicited and satisfaction guaranteed.

1776. CENTENNIAL. 1876.

NEW RULES & NEW PRICES

The undersigned, in announcing the arrival of his IMMENSE STOCK of SPRING and SUMMER

Cloths, Cassimeres & Vestings,

would also state that he has concluded to do business, from and after APRIL 1st, 1876, on a STRICTLY CASH SYSTEM. He is induced to this course by the large amount of debts standing on his books, much of which it is utterly impossible to collect, and no business man can afford to lose a third of his labor and goods by the prevailing credit system, and he, therefore, trusts that the adoption of a strictly Cash System and a corresponding Reduction in the Price of Goods of all kinds will be an inducement for his many friends to continue their patronage bestowing, as he does, that he can give them much greater satisfaction under the new system, than he was able to do under the played-out credit system.

He has much pleasure in inviting an early inspection of his extraordinary large stock of NEW GOODS, comprising

Cloths, Cassimeres & Vestings, for Men's & Boy's Wear,

GENTLEMEN'S FURNISHING GOODS.

HATS AND CAPS, all Styles and Prices,

Ladies', Misses', Gentlemen's, Youth's and Children's BOOTS, SHOES and GAITERS, made up especially for the wear of this locality.

Every article made up at this Establishment is warranted of the Best Material and Workmanship, and guaranteed to give entire satisfaction.
