-Both Houses of Congress met on Monday last. The Senate was called to order by Mr. Ferry, the President pro tem. The House was called to order by Mr. Adams, the clerk, 249 members being present. Samuel J. Randall, of Pa., was elected Speaker by a vote of 161 to 22 for James A. Garfield, and 3 scattering. Mr. Randall, upon taking the chair, addressed the members of the House as follows :

The closing words of the address, says a Washington correspondent, were delivered with great force and emphasis. and were loudly applauded on the floor and in the galleries.

The President's message was sent to the House on Tuesday, and will be found in full in our Supplement issued with this paper.

-The President Electors met Wednesday in the several States and cast their votes for President and Vice President. In South Carolina, Louisana and Fiorida two sets of Electors, Republican and Democratic, met and vored respectively for Hayes and Tilden. The Democratic Electors in Louisana received certificate from McEnery. In Florida, Atjorney General Cocke refused to sign the certificate of the Hayes Electors, protested against the action of the other two members of the Returning Board, and issued certificates to the Democratic Electors, who then met and east their votes for Tilden. In Oregon a singular complication occurred. Governor Graver issued certificates to two Hayes Electors and one Tilden Elector, named Cronin. The Hayes Electors refused to meet with Cronin, wherenpon the latter, who held the certificates, appointed two others, named Miller and Parker, in their places, and the Coffege. thus constituted met and east three votes, one for Tilden and two for Hayes. The Republican Electors, Odell and Cartwright, met and received the the resignation of Watts, the ex-postmaster, and then, after re-electing him, all three east their votes for Hayes. A telegram to Senator Mitchell says that Cronin's Electors all voted for Tilden. There was intense excitement at Salem, the Ctate capital, and a riot was feared. In Vermont, Aldrich, the Democratic Elector who claimed a certificate instead of ex-Postmaster Soliace, appeared before the Electoral College and offered his vote. The vote being refused, he cast his own vote, signed his certificate, and announced that he would go to Washington, "and fight it out in Congress."

Washington, D. C., Dec. 5th (1878) The second session of the Fortyfourth Congress opened yesterday, and perhaps our National Legislature never assembled with such momentous questions demanding immediate consideration or more careful, patriotic and unselfish attention. There appears to be less rancor in the hearts of individual members than there was during the session of the Thirty-fifth Congress, but the feeling is deeper and there seems to be more real concernment about the perpetuity of Republican institutions than was evinced when the long struggle which had been going on between the North and South was rapidly drawing to a culmination. But while there is no rancorous hatred or sectional ani-

On Thursday morning of last week, says the Allentown Morning Herald, Miss Mary Moser, daugher of Henry Moser, who had been spending some time with her mother in Bethlehem, left that place in the noon train for Mauch Chunk. It was remarked at the depot in Bothlehem, by persons present, that she did not appear to be well, and as she stepped upon the train, a gentleman was obliged to assist her to a seat. When the conductor came for tickets she was apparently asleep, and he was forced to awaken her. After she had shown her ticket, she fell into a swoon, and remained quiet for a moment or two, when she was seized with convulsions, the spasms of which became so violent that the united efforts of several persons were necessary to prevent her from injuring herself. When the train arrived at the L. V. de pot, it was found necessary to remove he to the waiting room, Dr. Reichard. upon being escorted to the chair by of the First Ward, was sent for, who did all he could to alleviate her suffer ing. She became gradually worse, and it was deemed necessary to remove her to a place where she could have better attention. She was accordingly taken tention in the galleries. She lingered in this condition until 10 o'clock when death ensued, from internal hemorrhage, from the rupture of bloodvessels caused by the violence of the convulsions which attacked her. Her fether said that she had several just such attacks lately, having had one fit only last week. Her remains were taken to Bethlehem for interment.
