"To Hang by the Neck "

On the assembling of Court on Mon-day morning last, John Donohue, alias "Yellow Jack," convicted at the last term of Court of the murder of Morgan Powell, at Summit Hill, on the night of the 2d of December, 1871, was brought into Court. A motion having filed for a new trial in this case, Hon. Judge Dreher, after listening to argument of Hon. W. M. Rapsher, attorney for the defense, overruled the motion, and addressing the prisoner, said : "John Donohue, have you any thing to say as to why sentence should not passed upon you ?" "I don't know that I have got any.

thing to to say, your honor," answered Donohue, "only that the men who swore my life away, swore it away for or to save their own necks money Every one of them swore falsely, your bonor, but I don't know that talking is going to do my case any good, and I have nothing else to say."

"According to the evidence, Morgan Powell, an industrious and peaceful citizen of Summit Hill, was cruelly shot down and killed by you." "I never saw the gentleman in my life, your bonor, not up till to-day, interrupted the prisoner. The Court taking no notice of John's remark continued : "You left Tusca-rora and walked a distance of some miles to do this deed, and in it you were backed by the organization of which you were body-master. You were well and ably defended by three young gentlemen of this bar, who made every effort to obtain your freedom. You have been judged guilty of the highest crime known to the law by a jury of your countrymen, and it is now my painful duty to pass sentence upon you. John Donohue, the sentence of the Court is that you, John Donohue, be taken hence to the jail of Carbon county from whence you came, and you there remain until you be that taken to the place of execution, where you will be hung by the neck until you are dead, and may God in his infinite pity have mercy on your soul."

The prisoner was then taken in charge by the officers and reconducted to his quarters in the county jail. Thus another "Mollie" is doomed 1

Fisher and McKenna.

The jury in the case of the Commonwealth vs. Thos. P. Fisher and Patrick McKenus, charged with the murder of Morgan Powell, after listening to the arguments of Hons F W. Hu lhas. Albright for the prosecution, and Messts. Fox and Ryon for the defense, were charged by Hon. S. S. Dreher, in his usual fair and impartial manner, and at about half-past three on Saturday afternoon retired, when Court ad journed, until the ringing of the bell should announce that the jury had agreed upon a verdict. About 20 minutes to 8 o'clock the ringing of the bell announced to the Court and people that they had agreed upon a verdict, and very soon the Court assembled, the prisoners were brought in and the jury being polled in due form rendered the verdict : Thos. P Fisher, guilty of murder in the first degree, and Pat .Ac-Kenna, guilty of murder in the second degree.

Dec. 18 .- The case of the commonwealth against Aleck Campbell would have been taken up this morning had not some of the jurors been absent. On that account the case was adjourned until one o'clock, at which time it was promptly proceeded with. Campbell looks first-rate, both as to health and spirits. The following jurors were sworn and impaneled: David Beltz, George Berger, E. E. Dodson, Jacob Snyder, Gideon Rebrig, Jacob Rebrig, Edwin Andrew, Benjamin Greenswerg.

Charles Fritz, Nathan Hoffman, John Soudell, and Elias George. One hour was consumed in selecting the jury. Mr. Siewers, the district attorney, opened the case. He alleged that the commonwealth would prove that Powell was murdered by the two Dopohues and 'ampbell, Fisher and McKenna, and that the job was set up by Campbell, who desired to remove Powell from this vale of tears on account of his refusal to give him (Campbell) a breast. The manner in which the shooting occurred was detailed minutely, quite sufficiently so for the jury, and rather too much so for your correspondent, whose days are passed in listening to this off-told tale of blood. The jury were told all about the Ancient Order of Hibernians from the board of Erin down to a common pri-vate, and as he closed the district attorney asked the jury to return a verdict of murder in the first degree, as the evidence would warrant.

On Thursday noon the jury came in-to court with a verdict of "Murder in the first degree."
