The tenure of office of the Judge is twenty-one years, of the Auditor General three years and the Treasurer two years. In November, 1878, a governor, lieutemant governor, and secretary of internal affairs will be elected to serve four years from the 1st of January, 1879. At that election, also, senators will be chosen from the even numbered districts to serve four years, and members of the house of representatives throughout, to serve -The Elizabeth Journal says that an effort is being made to reorganize the Central Railroad of New Jersey on a new basis. The committe which rep-resents the Lebigh and Wilkesbarre Coal Company, the consolidated bondholders, the mortgage bondholders, and, in fact, all the different interests at stake, have been in consultation off and on for the last two weeks. In reply to the inquiry whether the stockholders were represented, the Journal was told that they would be invited through a committee to be represented and take part in the work going on.

From Manch Chunk

The evidence in the Malloy case differed but little from that in the case of O'Donnell, except that it was proven that O'Donnell conveyed Campbell's application for men to kill Powell to Jack Donahue.

-Coffin notices, or notices to quit, will now be in order. They should be accepted for what they are worth.

-The hearts of the Jersey Central Company's employes in this section of country were made glad a few day ago by the appearance among them of Pay-master Hess, who dispensed to them the "needful" for March. An additional 20 per cent. of the back dues may be expected soon.

-Mr. Oscar Storch, for some years head-cook at the Mansion House, revisited Mauch Chunk on Saturday, remaining until Tuesday.

 John Fraas and family, on Tues-day last, departed for Cedar Rapids, Iowa. A number of others from this neighborhood have also emigrated to points west.

-Messrs. Slattery and Mulhearn, the Schuylkili county squealers, were on Tuesday morning returned whence they came—to Pottsville jail. These gentlemen expressed themselves as greatly pleased with their treatment at Hotel Raudenbush while here.

-Mr. Wm. King has left the employ of the Jersey Central Company, and may now be found at his store (late Burlow's) in Upper Mauch Chunk.

-On the night previous to her return to Philadelphia (Saturday), Miss Mag-gie Raudenberger, of E. Mauch Chunk, handsomely entertained her numerous friends at her father's residence.

-The basins being full of empty boats, boatmen are now compelled to tle up in the river above the dam. Bad prospects for boatman.

-This is what Z. H. Bowles, Son & Co. say in a circular recently published: "Please call at our office, and give us an opportunity to demonstrate to you that we can and will save you one-half the amount of gas consumed on your premises; we sustaining all the care of attachments. For this expense and care, we ask as compensation one-half the net savings, or a rate per thousand feet, as may be agreed upon." Mr. Bowles is Booth & Esser's Philadelphia agent for the introduction of ther "Ac-me Gas Saver," and, to judge by his letters, is confident of success.

-- The quiet borough of East Mauch Chunk was, on Tuesday noon, thrown in a state of fearful excitement by the presence in town of a dog whose actions led people to suspect that he was rabid, as he would snap and bite at everything that came in his way, whether fowl, pig, dog or man. The news of his antics spread like wild-fire, and at about half past twelve o'clock the fown was filled with most exaggerated reports of the havor done by the canine, bad enough as this had been. The sidewalks were lined with people, every one of whom talked "dog," and every one of whom feared that everybody else might come to grief by coming in conwith the ferocious beast. But while these were talking the more venturesome were following the trail of the brute, and, descrying him on Centre street, a fusitade ensued sufficiently lively to have resulted in the doath of every cur in the borough, although it resulted but in the death of the one they were after; and he died not a moment too soon, for, besides biting a lad named Dugan, son of Manus Dugan, he had bitten quite a number of dogs, a peaceable rooster, and a shoat belo ing to Mr. Berwick. The strange freaks of the beast will, no doubt, be followed by the indiscriminate slaughter of a majority of the dogs in town ; indeed, some persons, knowing their's to have been among those bitten have, with very commendable zeal, already killed them; besides, the loss wouldn't be great it every one of them were to be killed. True, chicken-thieves and other depredators might, for some time, low their unlawful vocations with less risk. But what of that ? Chickens and produce (eggs) are calculated for food, but of mankind it can hardly be asserted that they were created for the mere purpose of being carried off by hydrophobia. So let the dogs be killed and hen roosts suffer! The boy, I learn, was taken to Lehighton for treatment by Dr. German, on the afternoon of the day of the occurrence. Ten Years for Robbery.

On Tuesday afternoon in the Luzerne County Court, at Wilkes-Barre, Judge Harding sentenced John Mahon to ten years' solitary confinement in the Eastern Penitentiary for having, in February last, broken into the dwelling of an old invalid named Daniel Gardner at a place called Ransom and beaten and robbed him. It is only a few days ago that Mahon, while awaiting trial in the County Prison, made one of the most daring escapes on record. The judge, in passing sentence, dwelt in evident astonishment on this fact. Mahon broke from his cell to the flue and crawled through that a height of 100 feet, having at one place to pass through a space nine inches in diameter. He said that while dragging himself through the flue he was frequently overcome by foul air and feared he would have to give up the attempt, but railied afterward and came out successfully. He escaped from the prison walls by lowering himself with a rope that lay close at hand, hav-ing been provided to hang Campbell, who has since been respited. Mahon was recaptured at Pittston. at his trial Tuesday was very affecting The man into whose house he broke had to be carried into court on a chair to give his testimony. He is eighty-two years of age and has lived all his life in the neighborhood of Scranton. The prisoner is only twenty-four years old.

Moilies Sentenced

Hon. Judge S. S. Dreher, Thursday morning, sentenced the following "Mollie" prisoners Patrick McKenna, convicted of murder in the second degree, to imprisonment for nine years; John Malloy, convicted of murder in the second degree, to imprisonment for five years; and Bernard Hayes and John McShea, convicted of perjury, to imprisonment for ten months each.

The Malloy Trial

The arraignment of John Malloy, for complicity in the Morgan Powell mur-der, was began on Friday afternoon of der, was began on Friday atternoon of last week. The impanneling of the jury was completed early on Saturday morning, when Gen. Charles Albright opened the case to them on the part of the Commonwealth. The hearing of testimony occupied all day and until about the middle of Tuesday forenoon, when the prosecution rested and the defense produced what few witnesses they had. At the beginning of the afternoon session District Attorney Siewers made the opening plea for the prosecution, and was followed by Messrs. F. Bertolette, J. S. Loose and P. J. Meehan, who spoke in defense of the prisoner, and who, in turn, were succeeded by Hon. Allen Craig, who made the closing appeal on the part of the Commonwealth. At the opening of the evening session Hon. S. S. Dreher briefly charged the jury, who then (8 o'clock) retired for deliberation, and at 11 30 returned into Court with a verdict of "guilty of murder in the second degree," The evidence produced varied but little from that offered on the trial of O'Donnell. It was, altogether, the most rapidly conducted Molly trial of any had here, but also the least interesting.

Fire in Weatherly. A little after 11 o'clock, on Tuesday night, a fire broke out in the clothing store of Simon Lewin in Weatherly. It seems that Mr. Lewin was away from home, and his store was in charge of his son, who built a fire early in the evening on account or the dampness. The store was closed at the usual hour at which time there was no appearance of fire. About 11:30 o'clock the hoster of the Gilbert House passed by the door and noticed smoke issuing from it. An investigation led to the discovery that the store was on fire. Quite a number of persons gathered and soon put out the flames. Considerable damage was done to the stock and building. The store is situated under the Gilbert House, and had not the fire been discovered just as it was, there is no doubt but that the building would have burned. We did not hear the loss which is comparatively slight, but it fails heavily on Mr. Lewin, who has had a good deal of trouble lately .- Gazette.

The L. M. and D. A.

The entertainment given in the school hall, on Wednesday evening last, by the above associations, was one of the best ever held in this section of the country Notwithstanding the unpropitious wea ther, the hall was crowded—every seat being occupied with attentive and delighted spectators. The rendition of the several songs, choruses, and duetts by Mrs. Durling, Mrs. Hibbler, Miss Hibbler and Miss Hauk, and Messrs. Clauss and Kuntz, were highly appreciated and most enthusiastically en-cored. The tableaux were well chosen and produced a fine impression on the audience. The drama "Awaking" and the farce "John Dobbs" were well rendered, each performer appearing to specially adapted for the part assigned him. The performance giving so great satisfaction on Wednesday evening, was, by request, repeated on Thursday evening to an equally large and delighted audience.

SCIONES YEARTS. Weissport Pa., April 17, 1871.

-Philadelphia, April 16.—Th's morning, between 11 and 12 o'clock, as Col. A. M. McClure, editor of the Times, and ex-Gov. Andrew G. Curtin were leisurely walking down Chestnut street, engrossed in conversation, Col. McClure was confronted by Nat McKay. the notorious naval contractor, whose crooked transactions have been exposed by the Times. Without giving Col. McClure warning, McKay quickly drew a small whip from his breast, and saying, "I have got it in for you, and am going to give it to you," attempted to strike the Colonel. Quick as he was, the stalwart editor was calledon. the stalwart editor was quicker, and seizing the burly ruffian by the throat, he choked him into submission. While thus engaged, two ruffians-one from behind and one in front-struck the Colonel several severe blows about the face and head. Col. McClure, after shaking McKay as a terrier would a rat, turned upon his other assailants; but only one was captured, the other escaping in the confusion. McKay and his confederate ruffian were taken to the Central Station, and after a hearing were held in $500 ball to answer the charge of aggravated assault. Subsequently, on a motion to increase the bail, Judge Mitchell issued a copias for the two bullies, and to-night the officers are searching for them in McKay's haunts. McKay will be remembered as the favored contractor in the sale of the old Navy Yard in this city under Secor Robeson's administration. Times unhesitatingly exposed his transactions then, and is the defendant in seventeen libel! suits brought by the contractor. It came out of the first one with flying colors. The immediate cause for the assault was the recent publication of the means by which Mc-Kay suborned the naval officers, having charged to the account for the sale and removal of the old yard their bills for whiskey and cigars settled for by him. There is no doubt that the assault was premeditated, and that the two accomplices of the contractor were New York roughs especially hired for the work by Mckay, who has been boasting for the last few days that he had bought a whip in New York with which to chastise the independent editor of the Times.

The Coal Trade.

The lack of faith in an effective combination is as general new as it was a fortnight age that such a combination would be successfully ar-ranged. The test point in the business is the fixing upon "a penalty for violating the compact" as verbally agreed upon. Like the party who said he was "in favor of the Maine Liquor Law.his only objection was to its enforcement, so the parties to the proposed coal combination are all in favor of restricting coal production. but they have insuperable objection to enforcing it. From all that we see and hear on the coal combination proposition its consummation is as far off as ever . The committee to which had been returned the matter of adjusting pen-alties proper to the enforcement of the proposed alties proper to the enforcement of the proposed agreement, and to make report at the last meeting, adjourned without a word on the subject. Indeed, we are informed that the cammittee had so meeting from the time of these appointment until the day sixed for the meeting, and no attempt at the formation of a report was made by any of them too attempt at the formation of a report was made by any of them too attempt at the formation of a report was made by any of them too attempt at the formation of a report was made by any of them too attempt at the formation of a report was made by any of them too attempt to form a combination looks as the subject of the subject of the day of the day of meeting. The entire movemen as connected with this attempt to form a combination looks as derivant that he are advantage may result to the trade by veroally agreening that the amount of coal shipped to composing points for the year 1877 shall be 5.05,000 tons, instead of the 19,000,000 which would be the result of the race of delivery since the breesing up of the old combination. This is a sort or chirak time to which the parties will direct attention, and to the extent that they will agree the stressing up of the old combination. This is a sort or chirak time to which the parties will direct attention, and to the extent that they will agree the time and to the relient the they will direct attention, and to the extent that they will direct attention, and to the extent that they will direct attention, and to the retent that they will direct attention, and to the retent that they will direct attention, and to the retent that they will direct attention and to the relient the trade of the shift like the contract of the character of the contract of the agreement, and to make report at the last meet for the year not to exceed the percentage as affixed to each courpany under the sag-legate of 2,00,000 of tons.
