The Carbon Advocate.

B. V. MORTHIMER,

LEHIGHTON, PA.: SATURDAY MORNING, SEPT. 1, 1877

Democratic Nominations. STATE TICKET. Supreme Funke-John Trunkev, Venango, Auditor General-William B. Schell, Bedford, State Treasurer—Amos B. Noves, Clinton.

-The grand parade of the Knights Templar in Cleveland, Ohio, Tuesday morning included 175 commanderies and about 8000 men. Fifty-four bands and twelve drum corps were in the line, and the procession took an honr and a half to pass a given point. The streets and windows along the route were thronged with spectators.

-The Morris and Essex Railroad Company has within a few days discharged a number of firemen and other employes at Belvidere and Philipsburg, for activity in the late strike. When the discharges were commenced, Walter Kichline, chairman of the Committee on Grievances of the Firemen, disappeared, and it is rumored that his disappearance was due to a letter from some of the firemen warning him to "get away with his life while he had a chance." He is charged by his fellowworkingmen with having "sold out his brotherhood during the strike."

-It is reported in Washington, though the authority is not given, that Chief Justice Cartter, of the District of Columbia, will refuse to honor any requisition which Governor Hampton may make for certain Republicans, formerly of South Carolina, but now of Washington, who are charged with certain misdemeanors. The Judge, it is said, will take this course on the ground that Hampton is not the de jure Governor of South Carolina.

The Democratic Nominees.

Judge Trunkey, who has been nominsted for Judge of the Supreme Court by the Democrats, is a member of the Presbyterian church and in this respect will stand upon the same platform as Judge Sterrett, his probable opponent on the Republican ticket. In private life he is a most estimable gentleman and well beloved by the whole circle of his acquaintances. He is in the very prime of life and intellectual vigor, having been born in Mercer county in 1828. His popularity is attested by the fact that he has twice been elected Judge in a strong Republican district.

The selection of Hon. William P. Schell is a creditable one. Mr. Schell has had a large experience in State politics and has maintained an unblemished reputation for integrity. He is a lawyer by profession, and was born in Bedford county, where he still resides, in 1829. Mr. Schell has been elected to both branches of the legislature, and was Speaker of the House in 1853. Mr. Scholl was nominated for Governor in 1872 by the labor party in this State, but declined in favor of Mr. Buckalew, the Democratic candidate. It may be said in Mr. Schell's favor that he was the undoubted choice of his party for the position on the ticket he occupies from the outset.

Col. Amos C. Noyes, the Democratic candidate for State Treasurer, is a gentiman of considerable political experience, having been several times elected to the State Legislature from Clinton county. He is a native of New Hampshire, having been born in 1818. For the last thirty years he has been a resldent of this State and mainly engaged in real estate and lumbering operations upon the west branch of the Susquehanna. He is at present a member of the State Board of Public Charities, and is well and favorably known in all parts of the State. Col. Noyes' business transactions though extensive, have been marked with the utmost probity and fair dealing, and his bluff and hearty manners and kind disposition have made him vastly popular throughout the lumbering districts. He is sure to bring out a large Democratic vote in bls section of the State and will, doubtless, make serious incursions into the Republican ranks.

-Brigham Young, the Mormon ruler and Prophet, died Wednesday in Salt Lake City in the 77th year of his age. This remarkable man was born in Vermont. He was the son of a farmer, and his early education was almost wholly elementary. Early in life be joined the Baptists, and was for some time a preacher, though not ordained. When about 30 years of age he emigrated to Ohio, and joined the Mormons at Kirtland, then under the leadership of Joseph Smith. At the age of 34 he was chosen one of the "Twelve Apostles," and was soon after made their President, and sent out to make proselytes. On the death of Joseph Smith, he became leader of the Mormons. In 1846 he left Nauvoo with most of his followers, and persuaded them to emigrate to the Great Salt Lake Valley, which he described as their promised land. Afand was soon after made their Presiter suffering severe hardships in their journey overland, the Mormons reached the present site of Salt Lake City in July, 1847, and there founded a settlement. In 1849 the Mormons, who had become largely increased by immigration, organized the "State of Deseret," and applied for admission to the Union. Their application was refused, but the Territory of Utah was organized, and Brigham Young appointed Governor in 1850. He remained Governor for four years. The growth of the Mortsons and their isolated position made them disposed to defy the power of the United States, until, in 1867, President Buchanan sent troops to Utah to enforce the authority of a "Gentile" Governor whose life was threatened. The presence of the of troops had a wholesome effect; a compromise followed, and the Mormons have since been peaceable, The construction of the Union Pacific Railroad, and the influx of a large "Gentile" element, have considerably modified the character of the Mormon Colony, and a material change in its polity, or another migration of the faithful, seems inevitable. The change may be hastened, if not precipitated by the great leader's death. Brigham Young had rare executive ability, but his personal character was that of a sensualist, a hypocrite and impostor. Polygamy was openly proclaimed by him in 1852 as a revelation from the Lord, and he set the example to his followers of a plurality of wivec.

-THE SURVIVORS OF " THE CHAN-CELLOR."-This delightful new volume by Jules Verne has just been issued as No. 98 of "The Lakeside Library" series. It details the adventures of the passengers and crew of the good ship Chancellor, lost in mid ocean on the Atlantic. When the ship was destroyed its people found refuge on a raft, and encountered great privations, and were subject to imminent dangers. But few survived the hardships of the long contest with the fierce elements. The interest of the story is enhanced by 36 fine engravings. Sold by all newsdealers at 10 cents, or sent, free of postage, by Donnelley, Loyd & Co., Publishers, Chicago, Ill.

Washington Letter.

From our Special Correspondent.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 29, 1877. Washington, D. C., Aug. 29, 1877.

When the regular army of the country was creamized, after the war, Congress provided that four regiments, two of infantry and two of cavalry, should be composed exclusively of colored men. Repeated efforts have since been made for the disbanding of these regiments and the distribution of the colored soldiers throughout all branches of the milliary service, but without avail; and the matter has of late been without avail; and the matter has of late been brought prominently to the notice of the Presi-dent and Secretary of War McCrury. Although dout and secretary of War McCrary. Although there is no existing law prohibiting she assignment of colored recruits to any regiment in the service, yet if has always been the practice to assign them to the four original colored remotals. The compaints now being made are made by the white officers of these regiments and are well worthy or attention. Because the colored men are less susceptible to the evil effects of the extreme heat these regiments have been continually kept on duty along the colored men are less susceptible to the evil effects of the extreme heat these regiments have been continually kept on duty along the cific white other resiments are than strength from one part to another every two or three years and are thus able to cificy the advantages of civilization a person of the time at least, with their white officers, or colored regiments, with their white officers of colored regiments, and of one completely exiled for the least and officers, with no change from the understand and officers, and the consecutive particularly.
