-A train from Carbondale, on the Delaware and Hudson Gravity Rail-road, was thrown from the track near Honesdale, Monday morning, by the spiking of a switch. A parlor car tumbled twenty feet down an embank-ment, but William Muir, engineer of the train, is the only person reported injured. It is supposed that the villalias who spiked the switch intended to in-jure General Morrow, commander of the regulars at Scranion, and a party of State militia officers, who were on the train.

-It is understood that the meeting of railroad firemen and brakemen, held in Scrauton on Friday of last week had no reference to a strike, but was for the purpose of raising funds to meet the expenses incurred through the strike which ended recently. Several firemen and brakemen are in iail, needing ball, their families are in want, and a number of men who lost their situations by the strike are asking relief. The result of the meeting is not definitely known, but it is believed the men are dissatisfied with their organizations and that many of them refused to be bound by these organizations or furnish any more funds. Monday evening a man walking on the up track about three miles below Penn Haven and hearing a train comrein flavel and nearing a train com-ing jumped to the other track in time to be killed by train No. 6, bound for New York, which came thundering around a curve. He had the name of Gill pricked upon his arm in Incia ink. The body was taken to Mauch Chunk, and an inquest held, a vertical helms renderan inquest held, a verdict being rendered in accordance with the facts above. He was knocked from the track and instantly killed. His destination is said to have been Mahanoy City.

-On and after Monday next the fol-Lowing change will go into effect on the Lehigh Valley Hallroad: No. 14 passenger train, which leaves Bethlehem at 7:35 P. M., and running only to Catasanqua, will be run through to Mauch Chunk; No. 7 (a train taken off the road some time ago) will leave Mauch Chink at 4:30 P. M., and ar-rive at Bethieliem at 6:05 P. M. Disappearance Until within the past ten days there was perhaps not another man in this community, who more fully enjoyed the confidence and respect of his fellow townsmen, than did A. G. Dollenmay er; prompt in all his financial and other business transactions, he was considered and looked upon as bearing a character far above reproach, no man or family in this place being more highly respected that he and his. But, alas for human frailty I about two months ago, he sent his wife (a most estimable lady) on a visit to her friends in Germany, and placed his eldest son in business in Easton, after which he spent two or three weeks in New York city, Long Branch, &c., returning home, he remained until last Monday night, with occasional short absences therefrom. About three weeks ago he introduced into his home a dashing young widow (?) with whom it is charged he was too intimate, causing much noise and confusion with his son and daughter who reside in the house, and which eventuated in the disappearance of A. G. Dollenmayer and the "she devil" he had in a moment of mental aberation taken to his bosom. Thus rulning one of the finest characters, and bringing sorrow and shame upon a loving, faithful wife and an affectionate family. On Monday night it having been generally understood that Mr. Dollenmayer, had left, the organizations to which he belonged, took some action in the premises with a view to securing the funds in his hands as Treasurer. Upon investigation it was found that he was indebted to the Odd Fellows in the sum of $300, to the A. O. K. of the M. C., something over $100, and to the Lehighton School Board, of which he was Secretary $700, being for a bond issued by him a few days previous and not turned over to the Treasurer. The matter was placed in the hands of F. P. Longstreet, Esq., who immediately took legal steps for securing the School Board, Odd Fellows and K. of M. C., and the property was levied upon by the Sheriff, Dr. N. B. Reber being appointed to inventory it. In conclusion, we may add that the property left is ample to meet all the obligations so far entered up, and leave a respectable balance for the family-the personal property alone it is thought being sufficient to cover the claims against the estate, leaving the homestead property intact for the wife and children. Edwin Dollenmayer, the eldest son having closed up his business in Easton has returned home and taken charge of the business, which it is proposed to arrange for him to continue.

The Scranton Region Out Still.

The men employed by the Pennsylvania Coal Company, at a public meeting held Monday morning at an early hour, voted to remain out until their de-mands are acceded to. The meeting was called by the Chairman, P. Swee-ney, and was attended by about 1,000 miners and laborers. The object of the meeting was to consider the reply of President Hoyt to their recent demand of 23 per cent. advance in their wages, and to take action thereon. Besides the Pennsylvania Coal Company's employes there were present at least 200 or 300 outsiders, a few of whom were drawn thither by curiosity, but most of whom came in the capacity of "bull-dozers," in which they subsequently demonstrated great proficiency. The men sat up-on the grass in large sweeping circles facing the Chairman, who stood in the centre and exercised remarkable influence in keeping order. After the Pres ident had stated the object of the meeting it was moved that branch meetings of the various collieries represented be held, apart, as a conclusion would thus be arrived at that would be worth some thing. The motion prevailed and seventeen different groups formed themselves out of the main assembly. Of the seventeen branch groups ten nominally voted in favor of a strike and seven in favor of work. A committee was according-ly chosen to notify the company of this decision, and, as President Hoyt wrote that there would be no work whatever unless the great majority of the miners request it, the situation is clearly defined. The miners in favor of the strike are rejoicing even in their great poverty, but the men who want to work and who have large families to support deeply regret the result reached.

Fatal Termination of a Fight. Port Delaware, at Philipsburg, since the strike has been filled with canal boats awaiting cargoes of coal. The men employed on these boats are at times very disorderly and freely induige in strong drink, and fights are frequent scenes. Tuesday afternoon a boatman named William Crane struck another boatman named Patrick Garraghan with a five pound poker and instantly killed The blow took effect back of the left ear. Garraghan was amusing himself by hitting Crane with a pair of old pantaloons. Crane warned him sever-al times to desist, and finally becoming enraged dealt the death blow. Crane was immediately taken into custody, and as the fall term of the Warren county court will be held next month be will be specific being he will be speedly brought to trial. Crane is twenty two years old and Garraghan was twenty. Both tdents of Newark New Jersey, Both were resi-

Letter from Mauch Chunk.

MAUCH CHUNK, Aug. 26, 1877 To sum up the situation I might say "all is ulet as usual," in saying which your readers could be about as well informed as they are likely to be by an acherence to the enatomary method of a multiplication of words; for real-ly, there is nothing new worth talking or writ-Democrats are discussing the recent noming tions and speculating on the chances for success, but, no great ideas being involved in the present canvass, political conversations pro ceed rather quietly. They are as yet carried on in an undertone and likely to continue so until the other party shall have been heard from. Bendes, who cares, while it is only a matter of nmes and weightler matters are uppermost in cently everybody's mind ! What Congress will do with regard to the Texas Pacific Rathroad is a matter of far greater concern to meet people than who shall or shall not be elected to sither of the triff me State offices to be filled, for while the one is a material question, the other is merely a matter a personal preference. Sob-stitute the name of one candidate for that of the other and the world will probably move along as well. So who cares I it is employment, bread, which the masses need, and all cles is but chaff.

It now seems to be the seneral belief that the striking owement throughout the Lehush region will resume on next Mouday at a trifling advance. Lindesiman's men, at Shockton, having sireday recumed. Coal shipmouts have been light, both by rais Rad canal, during the week, and copty boats are rapidly accountating.

A slight change in military matters was effected on last sunday, when the last of the permanent party were relieved by a detachment of the 3rd Artillery from Mertinaburg, W. Ya. "Solder on the brain" is satill the most prevalent disease here, numbering its scores of victims among all classes, it respective or age or sex; indeed the fairer portion of humanity appear to be the more sorely affinede, linging by the number of female patients who daily through the plasms of the Manison House, which is officers' headquarters.

Humans matters continue dail as ever, but the number of female patients who dolly throng the piasas of the Mansion House, which is officers' headquarters.

Buaness matters continued all as ever, but Court week and the realisation of the expected general resumption will probably change this. At anyrate the supproaching Special Sessions will surely somewhat relieve the hitherto prevailing oppressive monology. My pencils are accessly sharp-ned, and it I shall fail to give a good account of myself un my next, don't blame are, for I shall allied the sessions fully determined to note all that may transpire, be it good, bid, or judiferent.

W. J. Gill, allies Wm. Rutledge, a trampjour nying north, or the Ly J. R. track, was on inst. Monday evening tun-down by No. 9 down passenger train, near Hetchelioth, and instantly killed. No one appearing to claim the corpse, the remains were on Wednesday for warded to the District Pour House for Interment. An inquest was had on Monday night, but no clue obtained as to his identity.

The Cont Trade. We are still without reports of the tonnage of the Delaware Lactawamn and Western and the Delaware and Rudson Companies, the strike in the northern coal fields interfering with their shipments. Tuis strike has almost dependent upon the schnyikill region for its supply. There wouse little present indication of an early termination of this strike. If all the companies are as reso the as the Ponnsylvania Coar Company it is improbable that there will be any early compromise, and as the miners seem to be as determined as their employers
