

Society Meetings.
NORTH STAR, No. 78, A. O. U. M. W. M. ...
SOCIETY OF FRIENDS, No. 100, O. F. M. ...
SOCIETY OF FRIENDS, No. 100, O. F. M. ...

Advertising Rates.
We desire it to be distinctly understood that ...
Advertisements for 1 year, per inch each ...
Advertisements for 6 months, per inch each ...

H. R. BIEWERS,
DISTRICT ATTORNEY & COUNSELLOR
AT LAW.
OFFICE, No. 2, Main Street, ...

The Carbon Advocate.
SATURDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 27, 1877.

Local and Personal.

Local and Personal.
If you find a X (cross) after your name on this paper, it signifies that your subscription is over due, and that you need the money. So please remit.

Local and Personal.
If you want a good and cheap set of harness, call on M. Fiorey, Weissport.

Local and Personal.
If you want a job of fine grain doing done, call on E. F. Luckenbach, Mauch Chunk.

Local and Personal.
Potatoes are selling at 50 cts. per bushel and cabbage at from $2 to $3 per 100 on our streets.

Local and Personal.
The wire mill at Mauch Chunk for several weeks past idle, is expected to reopen in about two weeks.

Local and Personal.
New styles of fall winter boots, shoes and gaiters, at T. D. Claus's very cheap for cash.

Local and Personal.
Fall and winter styles of hats and caps, for men and boys' wear, at T. D. Claus's, at very lowest cash prices.

Local and Personal.
The Buck Mountain Coal Company announces a dividend of one dollar and fifty cents per share, payable November 13.

Local and Personal.
The body of an unknown murdered man, about 40 years of age, was discovered Tuesday morning at Spring Brook, near Seranton.

Local and Personal.
If you want your baby to look bright do not put it to sleep with laudanum when restless, but use Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup, 25 cents a bottle.

Local and Personal.
Joshua Taggart, one of the prominent criminal detectives in the country, died at his residence, Philadelphia on Friday night, after a long and painful illness.

Local and Personal.
We have tried Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup in our family, and can assert that it is the best remedy for a cough or cold ever introduced. Price 25 cents.

Local and Personal.
A little boy at Seranton put a cartridge in a toy pistol, and while attempting to cock the pistol the load was discharged into his abdomen, producing probably fatal injuries.

Local and Personal.
Jennie June says that Anna Dickson has had an offer of marriage from Gen. Ben. Butler. Still David Ebbert continues to hire out teams at astonishingly low rates.

Local and Personal.
T. D. Claus, the tailor, is now receiving his fall and winter goods, such as finest cloths, cassimeres and vestings, which he is prepared to make up in latest styles at very low prices for cash.

Local and Personal.
The Supreme Court is not expected to render its decision on the application for a new trial made by the counsel of the convicted Molly Maguires—Hester, Tully and McGully—until its January session in Philadelphia.

Local and Personal.
If you want a clock, watch or sewing machine properly repaired please call at M. Hagaman's store, Pennsylvania, Carbon county, Pa., and you can be accommodated.

Local and Personal.
J. K. Rickett has still a few of those eligible lots in Ricketts town to dispose of. If you feel like securing a good home call and see him. He is also supplying flour, feed, lumber and coal at the lowest rates.

Local and Personal.
A young gent from Mauch Chunk before us that an immense crowd, especially of females, were present at the depot, Wednesday, to bid the "boys in blue" good bye. "Oh, dear, what can the matter be?"

Local and Personal.
For every disorder, and every incipient or developed disease for which it is recommended, you will find Dr. Haas' Epectorant the best safeguard and cure within your reach. 25 and 50 cents a bottle.

Local and Personal.
Stoves and Heaters.—E. W. Claus, Exchange Hotel building, has just received the first installment of his stock of Cooking, Parlor and Office Stoves and Heaters to which he invites the special attention of parties desiring to purchase, being able to offer them at prices far below anything hitherto in this town. Also, tinware, house furnishing articles, roofing and spouting at very low prices. Try him.

Local and Personal.
P. T. Brady is now receiving fresh oysters every day, and is prepared to supply families at a lower price than can be bought from peddlars, and at the same time warrants them fresh. Look at the prices: 500 oysters only 50 cents a 100 opened; Prime Oysters $1.10 per 100 opened.

Letter from Mauch Chunk.
MAUCH CHUNK, Oct. 2, 1877.
Court having adjourned on last Saturday and the soldiers left on Wednesday, you and your readers may well imagine how dreadfully dull a place Mauch Chunk is. There is but little doing, consequently but little stir and prospects are anything but flattering. Indeed some of the better posted among the operators predict a suspension as one of the unavoidable events of the near future for the reason that the markets are already overstocked. If this should be as stated, the outlook is indeed an alarming one for the approaching season.

Had you been in the court room on Friday afternoon of last week, you would probably have been as much surprised as I was when I learned that the parties who had administered the O' Cleaver estate for 25 years were applicants for leave to file a third and final account in which they claimed some $13,000 due them by the Estate. Zounds! When first they assumed control of the Estate, in 1853, young O' Cleaver was a babe, with an inheritance of $24,000 to cheer him on his way. Today it is claimed that he owes his Administrators $13,000. If ever this thing comes to be thoroughly sifted some strange facts will undoubtedly come to light, but the strangest thing of all is, that such proceedings should be possible in Carbon County. Twenty-five years to settle an estate.

And now for that which has been the town-talk all week—the complimentary parting hop of the officers of the late Garrison of Mauch Chunk, which transpired on last Wednesday evening at the Mauch Chunk. To make the affair as grand as possible eight or nine hundred invitations had been extended of which about 200 were accepted. The dancing commenced at about 9 o'clock and was spiritedly kept up nearly all night. The ladies' toilets were the finest, I've yet seen displayed here, showing that the waltzers were determined to please the officers. Though hastily gotten up, the complimentary will long be remembered as one of the most pleasant entertainments ever offered here.

The departure of the troops should have occasioned unusual stir on Wednesday morning you may believe. Nearly all Mauch Chunk, demi monde, gaiters and decent people, were on hand to see them off, and as the hour of departure neared, and the train glided slowly out of sight, many a tearful eye betrayed the fact that some of our ladies had not regarded the soldiers indifferently. How some of them will miss the daily guard mounts, the customary evening walks, and sociable tea and coffee parties!

Although much might be said in this connection, pleasant and unpleasant, I consider it best to drop the subject right here, for experience has taught me that the most ungrateful, the most unprofitable role is that of the reformer. There's nothing in it.

Politically there is nothing new. Neither of the candidates for the District Attorneyship appears to be overly active, but Sewers' election is by most already regarded as a fait accompli.

Yours,
W. S.

Fatal Accident.
A heartrending accident occurred on the Wyoming Division of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, about 3 o'clock Friday morning of last week. James Scott, a conductor on the early freight, was killed by being run over and cut in half on the track. Freight No. 50 of the first section, conducted by Scott, was en route for Wilkesbarre, and when near bridge No. 28, in the vicinity of White Haven, passenger train No. 15 going toward Easton, came along. Both trains were on the same track, and the freight pulled into the siding. As soon as the passenger train passed Scott signalled to go ahead, and then went into his caboose. Shortly after he discovered that part of his train had become disconnected, and he got on top of the freight cars, and ran along to discover where the break had occurred. He thought, as is usually the case, that the cars had broken loose near the engine, but it was the third car ahead of the engine that had become disconnected, and Scott was suddenly thrown to the track below under the wheels of the train. The two freight cars and caboose passed over him, cutting him in two pieces. Fortunately the "pusher," or the engine behind the caboose, did not run over his remains, or he would have been literally ground to pieces. The corpse was immediately taken to East Mauch Chunk, where his family resides. He was about 35 years of age, and was one of the most popular conductors on the Wyoming Division. His terrible death was the subject of conversation all along the entire line, and his numerous friends were more than pained when they learned that Jimmy Scott was not more.

Big Creek Items.
Mr. Perry Wanamacker, of Allentown, was at this place on a visit on Wednesday of this week.

Mr. J. J. Kemerer had a new slate roof put on his residence last week by Elias Koch, from near Weissport.

Thomas Bolt has been appointed to teach the school at St. Paul's Church this term.

Diphtheria or throat disease is raging to an alarming extent in Townwensing township.

The Big Creek has again fallen to nearly its usual level.

The schools of Townwensing township will open on the 3rd of November, and those of Franklin on the 20th inst.

W. W. Bowman and wife, of Lehigh, were at this place on Tuesday last.

A debating society is to be organized by a number of teachers of Franklin and Townwensing townships. In the course of a few weeks, to meet at Solit's brick school house. We wish them success.

Rev. J. K. Werner delivered a very able sermon in the Solit's church, on Sunday morning last.

I am under obligation to Hon. W. M. Rapsler for favors shown on Saturday last.

Yours etc.
REVERE.
Big Creek, Oct. 20th, 1877.

Letter from Mauch Chunk.
MAUCH CHUNK, Oct. 2, 1877.
Court having adjourned on last Saturday and the soldiers left on Wednesday, you and your readers may well imagine how dreadfully dull a place Mauch Chunk is. There is but little doing, consequently but little stir and prospects are anything but flattering. Indeed some of the better posted among the operators predict a suspension as one of the unavoidable events of the near future for the reason that the markets are already overstocked. If this should be as stated, the outlook is indeed an alarming one for the approaching season.

Had you been in the court room on Friday afternoon of last week, you would probably have been as much surprised as I was when I learned that the parties who had administered the O' Cleaver estate for 25 years were applicants for leave to file a third and final account in which they claimed some $13,000 due them by the Estate. Zounds! When first they assumed control of the Estate, in 1853, young O' Cleaver was a babe, with an inheritance of $24,000 to cheer him on his way. Today it is claimed that he owes his Administrators $13,000. If ever this thing comes to be thoroughly sifted some strange facts will undoubtedly come to light, but the strangest thing of all is, that such proceedings should be possible in Carbon County. Twenty-five years to settle an estate.

And now for that which has been the town-talk all week—the complimentary parting hop of the officers of the late Garrison of Mauch Chunk, which transpired on last Wednesday evening at the Mauch Chunk. To make the affair as grand as possible eight or nine hundred invitations had been extended of which about 200 were accepted. The dancing commenced at about 9 o'clock and was spiritedly kept up nearly all night. The ladies' toilets were the finest, I've yet seen displayed here, showing that the waltzers were determined to please the officers. Though hastily gotten up, the complimentary will long be remembered as one of the most pleasant entertainments ever offered here.

The departure of the troops should have occasioned unusual stir on Wednesday morning you may believe. Nearly all Mauch Chunk, demi monde, gaiters and decent people, were on hand to see them off, and as the hour of departure neared, and the train glided slowly out of sight, many a tearful eye betrayed the fact that some of our ladies had not regarded the soldiers indifferently. How some of them will miss the daily guard mounts, the customary evening walks, and sociable tea and coffee parties!

Although much might be said in this connection, pleasant and unpleasant, I consider it best to drop the subject right here, for experience has taught me that the most ungrateful, the most unprofitable role is that of the reformer. There's nothing in it.

Politically there is nothing new. Neither of the candidates for the District Attorneyship appears to be overly active, but Sewers' election is by most already regarded as a fait accompli.

Yours,
W. S.

Fatal Accident.
A heartrending accident occurred on the Wyoming Division of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, about 3 o'clock Friday morning of last week. James Scott, a conductor on the early freight, was killed by being run over and cut in half on the track. Freight No. 50 of the first section, conducted by Scott, was en route for Wilkesbarre, and when near bridge No. 28, in the vicinity of White Haven, passenger train No. 15 going toward Easton, came along. Both trains were on the same track, and the freight pulled into the siding. As soon as the passenger train passed Scott signalled to go ahead, and then went into his caboose. Shortly after he discovered that part of his train had become disconnected, and he got on top of the freight cars, and ran along to discover where the break had occurred. He thought, as is usually the case, that the cars had broken loose near the engine, but it was the third car ahead of the engine that had become disconnected, and Scott was suddenly thrown to the track below under the wheels of the train. The two freight cars and caboose passed over him, cutting him in two pieces. Fortunately the "pusher," or the engine behind the caboose, did not run over his remains, or he would have been literally ground to pieces. The corpse was immediately taken to East Mauch Chunk, where his family resides. He was about 35 years of age, and was one of the most popular conductors on the Wyoming Division. His terrible death was the subject of conversation all along the entire line, and his numerous friends were more than pained when they learned that Jimmy Scott was not more.

Big Creek Items.
Mr. Perry Wanamacker, of Allentown, was at this place on a visit on Wednesday of this week.

Mr. J. J. Kemerer had a new slate roof put on his residence last week by Elias Koch, from near Weissport.

Thomas Bolt has been appointed to teach the school at St. Paul's Church this term.

Diphtheria or throat disease is raging to an alarming extent in Townwensing township.

The Big Creek has again fallen to nearly its usual level.

The schools of Townwensing township will open on the 3rd of November, and those of Franklin on the 20th inst.

W. W. Bowman and wife, of Lehigh, were at this place on Tuesday last.

A debating society is to be organized by a number of teachers of Franklin and Townwensing townships. In the course of a few weeks, to meet at Solit's brick school house. We wish them success.

Rev. J. K. Werner delivered a very able sermon in the Solit's church, on Sunday morning last.

I am under obligation to Hon. W. M. Rapsler for favors shown on Saturday last.

Yours etc.
REVERE.
Big Creek, Oct. 20th, 1877.

Letter from Mauch Chunk.
MAUCH CHUNK, Oct. 2, 1877.
Court having adjourned on last Saturday and the soldiers left on Wednesday, you and your readers may well imagine how dreadfully dull a place Mauch Chunk is. There is but little doing, consequently but little stir and prospects are anything but flattering. Indeed some of the better posted among the operators predict a suspension as one of the unavoidable events of the near future for the reason that the markets are already overstocked. If this should be as stated, the outlook is indeed an alarming one for the approaching season.

Had you been in the court room on Friday afternoon of last week, you would probably have been as much surprised as I was when I learned that the parties who had administered the O' Cleaver estate for 25 years were applicants for leave to file a third and final account in which they claimed some $13,000 due them by the Estate. Zounds! When first they assumed control of the Estate, in 1853, young O' Cleaver was a babe, with an inheritance of $24,000 to cheer him on his way. Today it is claimed that he owes his Administrators $13,000. If ever this thing comes to be thoroughly sifted some strange facts will undoubtedly come to light, but the strangest thing of all is, that such proceedings should be possible in Carbon County. Twenty-five years to settle an estate.

And now for that which has been the town-talk all week—the complimentary parting hop of the officers of the late Garrison of Mauch Chunk, which transpired on last Wednesday evening at the Mauch Chunk. To make the affair as grand as possible eight or nine hundred invitations had been extended of which about 200 were accepted. The dancing commenced at about 9 o'clock and was spiritedly kept up nearly all night. The ladies' toilets were the finest, I've yet seen displayed here, showing that the waltzers were determined to please the officers. Though hastily gotten up, the complimentary will long be remembered as one of the most pleasant entertainments ever offered here.

The departure of the troops should have occasioned unusual stir on Wednesday morning you may believe. Nearly all Mauch Chunk, demi monde, gaiters and decent people, were on hand to see them off, and as the hour of departure neared, and the train glided slowly out of sight, many a tearful eye betrayed the fact that some of our ladies had not regarded the soldiers indifferently. How some of them will miss the daily guard mounts, the customary evening walks, and sociable tea and coffee parties!

Although much might be said in this connection, pleasant and unpleasant, I consider it best to drop the subject right here, for experience has taught me that the most ungrateful, the most unprofitable role is that of the reformer. There's nothing in it.

Politically there is nothing new. Neither of the candidates for the District Attorneyship appears to be overly active, but Sewers' election is by most already regarded as a fait accompli.

Yours,
W. S.

Fatal Accident.
A heartrending accident occurred on the Wyoming Division of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, about 3 o'clock Friday morning of last week. James Scott, a conductor on the early freight, was killed by being run over and cut in half on the track. Freight No. 50 of the first section, conducted by Scott, was en route for Wilkesbarre, and when near bridge No. 28, in the vicinity of White Haven, passenger train No. 15 going toward Easton, came along. Both trains were on the same track, and the freight pulled into the siding. As soon as the passenger train passed Scott signalled to go ahead, and then went into his caboose. Shortly after he discovered that part of his train had become disconnected, and he got on top of the freight cars, and ran along to discover where the break had occurred. He thought, as is usually the case, that the cars had broken loose near the engine, but it was the third car ahead of the engine that had become disconnected, and Scott was suddenly thrown to the track below under the wheels of the train. The two freight cars and caboose passed over him, cutting him in two pieces. Fortunately the "pusher," or the engine behind the caboose, did not run over his remains, or he would have been literally ground to pieces. The corpse was immediately taken to East Mauch Chunk, where his family resides. He was about 35 years of age, and was one of the most popular conductors on the Wyoming Division. His terrible death was the subject of conversation all along the entire line, and his numerous friends were more than pained when they learned that Jimmy Scott was not more.

Big Creek Items.
Mr. Perry Wanamacker, of Allentown, was at this place on a visit on Wednesday of this week.

Mr. J. J. Kemerer had a new slate roof put on his residence last week by Elias Koch, from near Weissport.

Thomas Bolt has been appointed to teach the school at St. Paul's Church this term.

Diphtheria or throat disease is raging to an alarming extent in Townwensing township.

The Big Creek has again fallen to nearly its usual level.

The schools of Townwensing township will open on the 3rd of November, and those of Franklin on the 20th inst.

W. W. Bowman and wife, of Lehigh, were at this place on Tuesday last.

A debating society is to be organized by a number of teachers of Franklin and Townwensing townships. In the course of a few weeks, to meet at Solit's brick school house. We wish them success.

Rev. J. K. Werner delivered a very able sermon in the Solit's church, on Sunday morning last.

I am under obligation to Hon. W. M. Rapsler for favors shown on Saturday last.

Yours etc.
REVERE.
Big Creek, Oct. 20th, 1877.

Letter from Mauch Chunk.
MAUCH CHUNK, Oct. 2, 1877.
Court having adjourned on last Saturday and the soldiers left on Wednesday, you and your readers may well imagine how dreadfully dull a place Mauch Chunk is. There is but little doing, consequently but little stir and prospects are anything but flattering. Indeed some of the better posted among the operators predict a suspension as one of the unavoidable events of the near future for the reason that the markets are already overstocked. If this should be as stated, the outlook is indeed an alarming one for the approaching season.

Had you been in the court room on Friday afternoon of last week, you would probably have been as much surprised as I was when I learned that the parties who had administered the O' Cleaver estate for 25 years were applicants for leave to file a third and final account in which they claimed some $13,000 due them by the Estate. Zounds! When first they assumed control of the Estate, in 1853, young O' Cleaver was a babe, with an inheritance of $24,000 to cheer him on his way. Today it is claimed that he owes his Administrators $13,000. If ever this thing comes to be thoroughly sifted some strange facts will undoubtedly come to light, but the strangest thing of all is, that such proceedings should be possible in Carbon County. Twenty-five years to settle an estate.

And now for that which has been the town-talk all week—the complimentary parting hop of the officers of the late Garrison of Mauch Chunk, which transpired on last Wednesday evening at the Mauch Chunk. To make the affair as grand as possible eight or nine hundred invitations had been extended of which about 200 were accepted. The dancing commenced at about 9 o'clock and was spiritedly kept up nearly all night. The ladies' toilets were the finest, I've yet seen displayed here, showing that the waltzers were determined to please the officers. Though hastily gotten up, the complimentary will long be remembered as one of the most pleasant entertainments ever offered here.

The departure of the troops should have occasioned unusual stir on Wednesday morning you may believe. Nearly all Mauch Chunk, demi monde, gaiters and decent people, were on hand to see them off, and as the hour of departure neared, and the train glided slowly out of sight, many a tearful eye betrayed the fact that some of our ladies had not regarded the soldiers indifferently. How some of them will miss the daily guard mounts, the customary evening walks, and sociable tea and coffee parties!

Although much might be said in this connection, pleasant and unpleasant, I consider it best to drop the subject right here, for experience has taught me that the most ungrateful, the most unprofitable role is that of the reformer. There's nothing in it.

Politically there is nothing new. Neither of the candidates for the District Attorneyship appears to be overly active, but Sewers' election is by most already regarded as a fait accompli.

Yours,
W. S.

Fatal Accident.
A heartrending accident occurred on the Wyoming Division of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, about 3 o'clock Friday morning of last week. James Scott, a conductor on the early freight, was killed by being run over and cut in half on the track. Freight No. 50 of the first section, conducted by Scott, was en route for Wilkesbarre, and when near bridge No. 28, in the vicinity of White Haven, passenger train No. 15 going toward Easton, came along. Both trains were on the same track, and the freight pulled into the siding. As soon as the passenger train passed Scott signalled to go ahead, and then went into his caboose. Shortly after he discovered that part of his train had become disconnected, and he got on top of the freight cars, and ran along to discover where the break had occurred. He thought, as is usually the case, that the cars had broken loose near the engine, but it was the third car ahead of the engine that had become disconnected, and Scott was suddenly thrown to the track below under the wheels of the train. The two freight cars and caboose passed over him, cutting him in two pieces. Fortunately the "pusher," or the engine behind the caboose, did not run over his remains, or he would have been literally ground to pieces. The corpse was immediately taken to East Mauch Chunk, where his family resides. He was about 35 years of age, and was one of the most popular conductors on the Wyoming Division. His terrible death was the subject of conversation all along the entire line, and his numerous friends were more than pained when they learned that Jimmy Scott was not more.

Big Creek Items.
Mr. Perry Wanamacker, of Allentown, was at this place on a visit on Wednesday of this week.

Mr. J. J. Kemerer had a new slate roof put on his residence last week by Elias Koch, from near Weissport.

Thomas Bolt has been appointed to teach the school at St. Paul's Church this term.

Diphtheria or throat disease is raging to an alarming extent in Townwensing township.

The Big Creek has again fallen to nearly its usual level.

The schools of Townwensing township will open on the 3rd of November, and those of Franklin on the 20th inst.

W. W. Bowman and wife, of Lehigh, were at this place on Tuesday last.

A debating society is to be organized by a number of teachers of Franklin and Townwensing townships. In the course of a few weeks, to meet at Solit's brick school house. We wish them success.

Rev. J. K. Werner delivered a very able sermon in the Solit's church, on Sunday morning last.

I am under obligation to Hon. W. M. Rapsler for favors shown on Saturday last.

Yours etc.
REVERE.
Big Creek, Oct. 20th, 1877.

Letter from Mauch Chunk.
MAUCH CHUNK, Oct. 2, 1877.
Court having adjourned on last Saturday and the soldiers left on Wednesday, you and your readers may well imagine how dreadfully dull a place Mauch Chunk is. There is but little doing, consequently but little stir and prospects are anything but flattering. Indeed some of the better posted among the operators predict a suspension as one of the unavoidable events of the near future for the reason that the markets are already overstocked. If this should be as stated, the outlook is indeed an alarming one for the approaching season.

Had you been in the court room on Friday afternoon of last week, you would probably have been as much surprised as I was when I learned that the parties who had administered the O' Cleaver estate for 25 years were applicants for leave to file a third and final account in which they claimed some $13,000 due them by the Estate. Zounds! When first they assumed control of the Estate, in 1853, young O' Cleaver was a babe, with an inheritance of $24,000 to cheer him on his way. Today it is claimed that he owes his Administrators $13,000. If ever this thing comes to be thoroughly sifted some strange facts will undoubtedly come to light, but the strangest thing of all is, that such proceedings should be possible in Carbon County. Twenty-five years to settle an estate.

And now for that which has been the town-talk all week—the complimentary parting hop of the officers of the late Garrison of Mauch Chunk, which transpired on last Wednesday evening at the Mauch Chunk. To make the affair as grand as possible eight or nine hundred invitations had been extended of which about 200 were accepted. The dancing commenced at about 9 o'clock and was spiritedly kept up nearly all night. The ladies' toilets were the finest, I've yet seen displayed here, showing that the waltzers were determined to please the officers. Though hastily gotten up, the complimentary will long be remembered as one of the most pleasant entertainments ever offered here.

The departure of the troops should have occasioned unusual stir on Wednesday morning you may believe. Nearly all Mauch Chunk, demi monde, gaiters and decent people, were on hand to see them off, and as the hour of departure neared, and the train glided slowly out of sight, many a tearful eye betrayed the fact that some of our ladies had not regarded the soldiers indifferently. How some of them will miss the daily guard mounts, the customary evening walks, and sociable tea and coffee parties!

Although much might be said in this connection, pleasant and unpleasant, I consider it best to drop the subject right here, for experience has taught me that the most ungrateful, the most unprofitable role is that of the reformer. There's nothing in it.

Politically there is nothing new. Neither of the candidates for the District Attorneyship appears to be overly active, but Sewers' election is by most already regarded as a fait accompli.

Yours,
W. S.

Fatal Accident.
A heartrending accident occurred on the Wyoming Division of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, about 3 o'clock Friday morning of last week. James Scott, a conductor on the early freight, was killed by being run over and cut in half on the track. Freight No. 50 of the first section, conducted by Scott, was en route for Wilkesbarre, and when near bridge No. 28, in the vicinity of White Haven, passenger train No. 15 going toward Easton, came along. Both trains were on the same track, and the freight pulled into the siding. As soon as the passenger train passed Scott signalled to go ahead, and then went into his caboose. Shortly after he discovered that part of his train had become disconnected, and he got on top of the freight cars, and ran along to discover where the break had occurred. He thought, as is usually the case, that the cars had broken loose near the engine, but it was the third car ahead of the engine that had become disconnected, and Scott was suddenly thrown to the track below under the wheels of the train. The two freight cars and caboose passed over him, cutting him in two pieces. Fortunately the "pusher," or the engine behind the caboose, did not run over his remains, or he would have been literally ground to pieces. The corpse was immediately taken to East Mauch Chunk, where his family resides. He was about 35 years of age, and was one of the most popular conductors on the Wyoming Division. His terrible death was the subject of conversation all along the entire line, and his numerous friends were more than pained when they learned that Jimmy Scott was not more.

Big Creek Items.
Mr. Perry Wanamacker, of Allentown, was at this place on a visit on Wednesday of this week.

Mr. J. J. Kemerer had a new slate roof put on his residence last week by Elias Koch, from near Weissport.

Thomas Bolt has been appointed to teach the school at St. Paul's Church this term.

Diphtheria or throat disease is raging to an alarming extent in Townwensing township.

The Big Creek has again fallen to nearly its usual level.

The schools of Townwensing township will open on the 3rd of November, and those of Franklin on the 20th inst.

W. W. Bowman and wife, of Lehigh, were at this place on Tuesday last.

A debating society is to be organized by a number of teachers of Franklin and Townwensing townships. In the course of a few weeks, to meet at Solit's brick school house. We wish them success.

Rev. J. K. Werner delivered a very able sermon in the Solit's church, on Sunday morning last.

I am under obligation to Hon. W. M. Rapsler for favors shown on Saturday last.

Yours etc.
REVERE.
Big Creek, Oct. 20th, 1877.

Letter from Mauch Chunk.
MAUCH CHUNK, Oct. 2, 1877.
Court having adjourned on last Saturday and the soldiers left on Wednesday, you and your readers may well imagine how dreadfully dull a place Mauch Chunk is. There is but little doing, consequently but little stir and prospects are anything but flattering. Indeed some of the better posted among the operators predict a suspension as one of the unavoidable events of the near future for the reason that the markets are already overstocked. If this should be as stated, the outlook is indeed an alarming one for the approaching season.

Had you been in the court room on Friday afternoon of last week, you would probably have been as much surprised as I was when I learned that the parties who had administered the O' Cleaver estate for 25 years were applicants for leave to file a third and final account in which they claimed some $13,000 due them by the Estate. Zounds! When first they assumed control of the Estate, in 1853, young O' Cleaver was a babe, with an inheritance of $24,000 to cheer him on his way. Today it is claimed that he owes his Administrators $13,000. If ever this thing comes to be thoroughly sifted some strange facts will undoubtedly come to light, but the strangest thing of all is, that such proceedings should be possible in Carbon County. Twenty-five years to settle an estate.

And now for that which has been the town-talk all week—the complimentary parting hop of the officers of the late Garrison of Mauch Chunk, which transpired on last Wednesday evening at the Mauch Chunk. To make the affair as grand as possible eight or nine hundred invitations had been extended of which about 200 were accepted. The dancing commenced at about 9 o'clock and was spiritedly kept up nearly all night. The ladies' toilets were the finest, I've yet seen displayed here, showing that the waltzers were determined to please the officers. Though hastily gotten up, the complimentary will long be remembered as one of the most pleasant entertainments ever offered here.

The departure of the troops should have occasioned unusual stir on Wednesday morning you may believe. Nearly all Mauch Chunk, demi monde, gaiters and decent people, were on hand to see them off, and as the hour of departure neared, and the train glided slowly out of sight, many a tearful eye betrayed the fact that some of our ladies had not regarded the soldiers indifferently. How some of them will miss the daily guard mounts, the customary evening walks, and sociable tea and coffee parties!

Although much might be said in