MAUCH CHUNK Nov. 8, 1877. The battle is fought, and the victory won. And while we shall hall with joy the advent to power of a time honored Democracy, let us indulge the hope that they will use the power conferred prudently, and that by their every action they will prove themselves worthy of the confidence reposed in them Taught as they have been in the school of adversity, their unprecedented success encourages us to hope for the best; and if they will only heed the lessons of the past it may be a long while before the tide of popular sentiment will turn against them. A quiet canvass was followed by a quieter election. There was neither extra stir nor unusual excitement. Peo-ple resorted to the polis -the Democrats sanguine of success, the Republicans with a presentiment of coming disaster. Hence it was that neither party were surprised when the result became surprised when the result became know, since it was but "as all had expected."

Up to midnight all was comparatively quist about town, but no sooner had the result of the day's contest been announced than the most staid of the Demo-cratic persuation grew bolsterous. The members of the Pownix Cornet Band were aroused from their slumbers and ere the hour of two had arrived, hun-dreds were parading the streets to the merry strains of "Sherman's March." And this was kept up until dawn had suspended datkness, and the former been followed by the light of day. At about 6 o'clock the hilarous crowds of bolsterõus Democrats di-persed.

That the Republican aspirant for the District At. torneyship should have felt badly on learning the result was but to be expected, but he really took it hard, and the hundred and one reasons which he assigned for his defeat were whimsleaf The trouble with our friend indeed. had evidently been an over confidence of success. He never for a moment doubted the ability of a certain element to elect him ; and here is just where he missed it, as any one may find ou perusal of the returns. He simply had'nt votes enough. Brother Boyle's little game, to array the lower end against Siewers did'nt work, and with this a failure, what else was there to avert defeat ?

For the wise course pursued by them, the Democracy of the lower end are certainly entitled to praise. It also Barglary. The residence of Mr. Gabriel Shinke, an old man of 75 years, residing about 7 miles east of this place, on Pine Run, was entered by a couple of burglars on Thursday of last week, about one o'clock a. m. In order to gain admit-tance to the bed-room the scoundrels knocked in the window sash and shut-ters, and jumping through the opening, one of them threw himself upon the old man, and covered his head up with the bed glothes, in order to stiffe his cries. the other proceeded to one of the trunks standing in the room, which he seized, and threw it out of the window. They then dragged the old man from his bed and severely beat him about the head and shoulders with a club, and then made their exit through the window, pleking up the trunk, and 'making off with it. The trunk was found on Saturday morning, by Mr. Martin Graver, in a strip of woods, about 150 yards from the house, with a hole crushed in the side, and from which a gold watch and chain, a silver watch, a gold scales, and a few trifling articles had been taken. A small sum of money, some jewelry and other articles had escaped the hands of the villains. One peculiar circumstance connected with this affair is the fact that there were several trunks in the room, and yet the rascals knew just which one was the most valu-We are pleased to state that the able 1 old man, though severely pounded, is not considered dangerously injured.
