The Carbon Advocate.

H. V. NORTHIMER, . . . EDITOR

LEHIGHTON, PA.:

SATURDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 29, 1877.

—The assignees of the Reading Savings Bank, which has been adjudged bankrupt, on Saturday furnished the U. S. Marshal a statement, showing the liabilities of the bank to be $254,803, and its estimated assets $936,798. A large proportion of the assets are considered worthless.

—The leading merchants, bankers and business men of Chicago have signed a memorial expressing their sympathy for the financial views of the President and Secretary of the Treasury, and requesting their Senators and Representatives in Congress to oppose all legislation contrary thereto. They believe the prosperity of the country will be best promoted by adherence to the single standard of gold and the resumption of specie payments on January 1, 1879.

—In Baltimore the observance of Christmas were very undemonstrative, a drizzling rain having prevailed all day. Dispatches from Toronto say the extraordinary mildness of the weather was taken advantage of in various parts of the Dominion to indulge in unseasonable festivities. There were regattas at Belleville and Port Hope, and excursions by water and rail from Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal. No such winter has been known there since 1837.

—Le Monde Russe has compiled, from official sources, a summary of the officers, men and artillery captured by the Russians during the war now in progress. The following is the table, to which the official figures from Plevna are added:

	Cannon.	Pachas.	Officers & Men.

Bills to be Introduced next Session.

Dropping into the office of our talented young friend, Hon. W. M. Rapsher, a few days ago, we found him busily engaged in the preparation of the following important bills for introduction at the next session of the Legislature, which meets at Harrisburg, on Tuesday next, January 1st. The bills are all of an important public character, and we trust the hon. gentleman will be successful in carrying them to a final passage and approval:

1. Supplement to "an act to authorize chattel mortgages in this commonwealth upon lumber, iron and coal oil in bulk, and upon iron tanks, tank cars, iron ore mined and prepared for use, manufactured slate, and canal boats, approved May 18, 1876," enlarging the provisions of said act so as to include other chattels.
2. "An act to establish a more efficient system of civil authority to enable the sheriffs of the several counties of this commonwealth to invoke the posse comitatus to quell lawlessness and maintain the public peace."
3. A supplement to "an act to prescribe the manner by which the Court of Quarter Sessions may change the boundaries of election districts and townships, approved May 18, 1876," altering certain sections of said act.
4. An act providing for the payment of school teachers while attending their respective annual Co. Institutes of teachers throughout this Commonwealth.
5. An act fixing the time for holding elections for officers of cities, wards, boroughs, townships, independent school districts, or other municipalities in this Commonwealth.
6. An act to require the registers of wills and the clerks of the Orphans' courts of this Commonwealth to record all bonds given by executors, administrators, guardians and trustees, which may be filed in their respective offices.
7. An act to facilitate the prompt collection of taxes.
8. An act enlarging the rights and liabilities of married women.
9. A supplement to an act entitled "an act to provide for the erection of a poor house and for the support of the poor in the several counties of this Commonwealth, approved May 8, 1876."

The foregoing bills are of a general public character having a wide application. Bill No. 9 is, however, of special interest to the people at the lower end of Carbon county, since the project to establish a poor house is under consideration. The act of May 8th, 1876, being defective and incomplete for our purpose without the proposed supplement. Bill No. 8, in regard to the rights of married women, in short, is that married women may hold and enjoy their own separate estates, but if they make contracts, or sign notes or other contracts, they shall be liable therein the same as if they were unmarried. This is no more than just and proper. The law should have been that way always. The titles of the various bills speak for themselves. If the Legislature sits long enough to pass them all, they will constitute no unimportant portion of the Pamphlet Laws of 1878.

Our Washington Letter.

The "Interregnum" during Adjournment—President Hayes back from New York—Senator Patterson Out of Danger—A Novel Lecture—Mr. England vs. "Glorious Bob."

WASHINGTON, D.C., Dec. 24, 1877.

It seems very dull now, after the rather exciting time during the last two weeks' session of Congress. Up to the time of adjournment, Congress did not accomplish much, except quarrel. Every Congress, like every man, prefers to learn by its own experience; and it is not surprising that trifling away the early part of the session should always leave this body pushed for time at its close. It is hoped that, after the holidays, the "National Chunks" will set regularly to business, and really act as if they meant to do something to earn their fifteen dollars a day.

Of applicants for places, we have them by the million. The petty position of Water Registrar of the District was left vacant the other day by the death of its occupant, and, indeed, it was a sad commentary on human nature to see the grand rush that was made for the place. It was "business before pleasure;" get the dead man's place first, and then attend his funeral afterwards.

President Hayes has been away to enjoy the hospitalities of New York city, and upon his return to-day he looked very cheerful and contented, and why shouldn't he, after having been cared for by the Union League, lunched by Governor Dix, and cheered by an immense crowd of admirers.

Senator Patterson is up again and out of danger. He had recovered sufficiently to be out riding on Saturday. His illness has been nervous prostration, induced by mental excitement attending the civil prosecution against him, and the contest in the Senate over the admission of Senator Butler. He has accepted an invitation from ex-Senator Cameron to spend the holidays at his farm in Lancaster county, Penna., and will go there, provided he continues to improve as fast as he has within the last two days.

BOB INGERSOLL CRUSHED.—The lecture of Clay England, at Lincoln Hall, on Saturday evening, was the most remarkable event of the season, so far. He came to conquer that giant intellect which is carried by the "Glorious Bob." The hall was jammed with men, women and children, struggling to get a glimpse of the one who dared to face and contradict the greatest orator in the United States. Mr. Ingersoll had said, that there was "no improvement on the Devil for four thousand years." This was proved by Mr. England to be somewhat incorrect, for said he, "when a man has represented a Christian State in the United States Congress, and then steps on the lecture platform and charges fifty cents a head from Christian men and women, his eyes flashing with the lurid light of hell, and his brow blistered with baseness in his attempt to corrupt Christian manhood and womanhood, such a man," he thinks, "is a slight improvement on the Devil!" When Mr. Ingersoll, the other night, was talking of "dug out," it occurred to the lecturer that if he ever got a fair chance at him, he would make him dig out, and take the "sling of righteousness and pebble of truth" and smite this Giant of Gath right between the two eyes. At the close of the lecture, however, we were pleased to find one point upon which the two champions did not disagree: the creation of woman. They both agreed that it did not make any material difference whether Eve was made out of Adam's rib or his big toe, and they also agree that the creation of woman was the best "put up job" they ever saw. Nuisances.

ED. CARBON ADVOCATE: The writer of this asks space in the columns of your valuable paper, knowing full well that you are always willing to uphold law and order within our borough. For the past few weeks a number of young men and boys have been in the habit of congregating on the corners of our streets, in alleys and around private and public houses during the night as well as the day, at last becoming so noisy, and committing such depredations as in themselves were a public and private nuisance. Different appeals were made to our police force for protection, but for some time without effect; when, a few days ago, a lot of boys were arrested and taken before Squire Beltz, who gave them a lecture, divided the costs of arrest between them, and ascertained the names of others. Not long ago a respectable young lady, of our borough, was wending her way to church, and, in passing around the corner of Bank and Iron sts., was suddenly thrown headlong over a rope stretched across the pavement. A number of boys were standing around, but, accused of the contemptable act, they all strenuously denied it. On one of the upper streets a board was fixed on the pavement to trip pedestrians; door bells rung to annoy peaceable people, and a host of other annoyances indulged in, until they have come to be an unbearable nuisance.

Since some of these juvenile depredators have been dealt with according to law, some of them have, in order to persecute those who try to uphold law and order, stolen property and secreted it along the river, and done other things to annoy them. They are known, and may be arrested at any time and taken before a Justice.

There are a number of boys who, instead of being in school, are daily to be seen loitering about the streets studying mischief and spending their time foolishly. Would it not be better for parents to see that these idlers were put to school, and not allowed to wander around the streets? Parents and guardians are notified to take care of their children and wards, and not allow them to congregate on the corners to annoy citizens, under penalty of arrest. An appeal is here made, and the aid of good citizens asked, to uproot this nefarious practice, while our police are requested to use every effort to abate this growing nuisance. More anon.

STATE NEWS.

—Lizzie Moreland, of Allegheny county, took a fatal dose of oil of tansy a few days ago, the result of unrequited affection.

—I. S. Irvin, a member of the Lawrence county bar, was thrown out of a carriage last week and killed, his skull having been broken.

—Mud has put a stop to the oil business in the Bradford region. The roads will not admit the passage of wagons, and pedestrians sink into mud knee deep.

—Reuben Matlack, of Chester county, committed suicide recently by hanging himself in a barn. His body was not discovered until several days after the commission of the act.

—There will be collected as United States tax on whisky between ninety and one hundred thousand dollars during the month in the district composed of Westmoreland, Fayette, Greene, Washington and a part of Allegheny.

—At Williamsport John and William Clark purchased goods from A. J. Boalich and refused to pay for them. They also threatened to whip Mr. Boalich, and one of them knocked him down. The latter shot William Clark in the leg and John in the hat.

—On Monday night of last week John W. Pittock, of the Pittsburg Leader, was attacked by William Johnson, negro, and robbed of his revolver, gold watch and chain. On Friday the desperado was sentenced to nine years, ten months and ten days in the penitentiary.

—The shipments of oil from Pittsburg during November aggregated 173,669 barrels. The total stock in the producing regions at the close of November was 2,471,798 barrels, against 2,504,012 barrels at the close of October, showing a decrease of 32,214 barrels for the month, and 483,294 barrels less during the year than in the corresponding months of 1876.

—The stockholders of the Northumberland county National Bank of Shamokin have all received notice, that unless they pay within thirty days an assessment equal to the amount of stock they owned in the bank suit will be commenced against them in the United States Court. One of the largest stockholders is Col. H. C. Eyer, of Selinsgrove, who owns $7,200.

—William Butler, Martin Dreanning and Patrick Dreanning, three miners, of Allegheny county, were on Saturday sentenced to twelve years and two months each in the penitentiary for attempted burning of a house and the burning of a barn. Anthony Tolan, who killed a man about six weeks ago, was sentenced to four years and ten months' imprisonment.

—United States Marshal Hall on Friday sold the land belonging to Thomas Moore, in Somerset county, at one dollar per acre, and forty-eight cars, which cost nearly $1,000 each, were knocked down at $5 each. Property also, of Robert Gorrell, Clarion county, 288 acres of oil land, brought only $7,300, and a tract of 1,800 acres, in Fayette county, was bought at $1,200.

From Mauch Chunk.

—And now for a Happy New Year!

—Headache! Ain't you glad the holidays are nearly over?

—The trial of the Geo. K. Smith murderers will, it is thought, furnish testimony on which to implicate yet other parties.

—As Court will convene next Monday a week, hotel proprietors and caterers generally wear their most hopeful smiles.

—As is usual during the holidays, the pupils of the various Sunday schools were made happy by the reception of the customary gifts.

—Mr. N. M. Belford contemplates shortly to take up his residence at Washington, D. C. Others would, no doubt, like to do the same if it were not for that fatal monosyllable —if.

—W. W. Scott & Co's. closing out sale was concluded by Sheriff Raudenbush on last Monday. The attendance of buyers was large, but prices realized were far from satisfactory.

—I am sorry to learn that Geo. Savitz, late assistant keeper at the county jail, has again come to grief, and now resides in Northampton county jail, just because of too great a fondness for turkey.

—Most of our store and shop keepers express themselves as fully satisfied with the results of the holiday trade. Some, among them, J. C. Dolon for one, must indeed have done an excellent business.

—The can-can has at last invaded Skintown, a suburb of East Mauch Chunk, and, if report is correct, a company of model artists contemplate soon to give a series of entertainments. The world moves.

—As most of the witnesses to be subpœnaed in the case live at a considerable distance, the costs in the trial of the Smith murderers are expected to equal, if not to exceed, those in the late Molly Maguire trials.

—The Oneka Cornet Band, of East Mauch Chunk, contributed not a little to make things lively in our sister borough on last Tuesday afternoon when they were out serenading. In this borough all was comparatively quiet.

—The Board of County Commissioners have pretty well disposed of the year's remaining routine business during the week. Nearly all the 8 per cent. County bondholders heard from have agreed to accept 6 per cent. bonds instead.

—True to his word, "happy Sam" was at the gate of the Cortright residence, in attendance at precisely 9 a. m., on Christmas day, when and where hundreds of his young friends had congregated to greet him. There was, as one of my young informants expressed himself, "lots of candies, plenty of pennies, and heaps of fun." Sam knows how to do such things, you know.

Franklin Literary Society.

This Society met on Wednesday evening and was very largely attended. Minutes of previous meeting read and approved. The Society then proceeded to the election of officers, with the following results: for President, J. F. Snyder; Vice President, W. E. Kemerer; Secretary, Lewis J. Buck; Treasurer, Nathan Solt; Critic, H. D. Snyder. After the regular business, the debate; "Which is the more pernicious character—the Slanderer or the Flatterer," was very ably discussed on both sides. Then followed the general debate, which was very lively participated in by quite a number of members.

Subject for next debate is a tripple question as follows: "Which exercises the most powerful influence on the morals of a people, the Pulpit, Press or the School?" Debaters, Robert Campbell, W. Klotz, I. Z. Bagenstose, W. H. Kreamer, W. E. Kemerer and T. J. Solt. Select reading, Miss Sarah Doward and H. T. Smawley; declamist, T. Zeigenfuss; essayist, H. D. Snyder; referred questions, Harry Solt and C. A. Buck; orator, J. J. Roberts. Yours, etc., 214.
