have lately adopted. --Mr. James M. Berlin, of Kreigeville, who some time ago bought the old grist mill property, of Joel Kreige, formerly owned by David Kreige, has torn down thi old structure, and is row building a new one. A thing that was needed long ago. Mr. Berlin being a young man of consider-able means is one of the most onergoid young business ment in the lower end of young business in one of the most energetic young business them in the lower end of Monroe exempt, and is just the man to push things forward. I wish him success in his new position, as a miller, a merchant and hotel keeper.
