The Carbon Advocate.

H. V. MORTHIMER, . . . EDITOR LEHIGHTON, PA. SATURDAT, MARCH 23, 1878.

-The Derrocratic State Central Commit tee met Tuesday at Harrisburg and decided that the Democratic State Convention be held at Pittsburg on the 22nd of May.

-The Greenback-Labor Convention of Lycoming County met in Williamsport on Saturduy, and recommended William H. Armstrong as the candidate of the party for Governor. Hon. George W. Youngman was unanimously requested to become candidate for County Judge.

-In one of the school districts of Chester County an election for School Directors was held last month. Only one citizen attended. He served as judge, inspector, and clerk, cast and and counted his own vote, and returned one man and one woman as unanimously elected.

-The Cincinnati Gazette has advices from 57 points in Southern Ohio, Northern Kentucky, and Indiana, showing that there are good prospects for a large crop of wheat. The acreage is the largest ever sown, and all reports are favorable, except that in a few places there are apprehensions of rank growth.

-Two bills are before the Pennsylvania Legislature. One bill proposes to prevent cremation, being a blow at Dr. Le Moyne's furnace, where the remains of Baron De Palm and of Mrs. Ben Pitman were reduced to ashes; the other bill-which may be a stroke at the American custom of treating, or a newly-invented temperance move ment-provides that it shall be a penal offence for one man to ask another to take a drink of intoxicating liquor.

-The Arizona Enterprisesays female help can obtain situations in Prescott in good families at not less than $25 a month. There is a large and constantly increasing demand for servant girls at the above and even greater wages. It might result in much good and prove profitable if a few carloads of girls were shipped into the Territory from the over-crowded cities. The population of Arizona is in the proportion of about one woman to four men, hence the chances for girls to contract eligible marriages are favorable. Go West, young woman, go West!

-The Treaty of Peace between Russia and Turkey was formally ratified on Sunday last at St. Petersburg, but rumors of war between other powers again fill the air. England, in her intense jealousy of Russia, refuses to accept anything as settled, and seems determined to have the strife prolonged; but she must have help or she will not resort to war. Whether Austria will come to her aid, or will take the advice of her neighbors on the North and be quiet, remains to be seen ; but the probabilities are all against her going to war with Russia to gratify her remote though disinterested neighbor, Lord Beaconsfield, or any other man.

-Hard currency, both silver and gold, is fast coming into use in the cities. Every other man you most shows you a new dollar, especially bought for the purpose, at a premium of 1 to 2 per cent in gold, and gold coin is gradually being used in change for bank notes and greenbacks, the liberal operators in this line having an eye to business as a shrewd advertising dodge, A. T. Stowart & Co., at New York, give notice that they A Co., at New York, give mode to fullest have resumed spacio payments in the fullest sense of the term, gold and silver coin being used indifferently in making change for purchases of goods at the retail store, and at there has been no complaint of the weight of the coins or their awkwardness gold and times will be noid out indefinitely.

-Warwick McMichael's North American The suddenly developed strength of the Greenback-Labor third-party movement is explained by the fact that, like the marvelous spread of the Grangers, it is the work of a new secret order, the aim of which is to repeat the political surprises of the Know-Nothings and capture cities, counties and States by the secret work of an unknown minority. Any quantity of sucking Presidents Governors, and Senators have gone into the ring and are ready to merifice themselves.

President Hayes' Administration and his Civil Screice Policy --- Making Enemies among His Own Supporters-Wrong Men in the Right Places-Coin Certificates-Office of the Doorkeeper Abolished-The Arrival of the Long Lost Friends.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Murch 18, 1878. The ousting of President Hayes, as is so often referred to and spoken of by a number of newspapers which affect to be greatly concerned for the metional prosperity, is certainly surprising. Every prominent Senator and member; here who has been approached on the subject know that all such schemes are utterly fulle; and yet the great mass of men are not so intelligent as to be able to recognize their futility, nor to appreciate the consequences of an overt set in that direction. There are, however, it is true, roundlicant There are, however, it is true, republicans, who, from disappointment, would be glad to see Mr. Hayes ejected, but I doubt if the beldest of them would have the courage to see Mr. Hayes ejected, but I doubt if the boldest of them would have the courage to esponse, openly, the cause of the conspirators. At any rate, not many of them are so des-perate and reckless as to do so; while a large majority of the democracy would be decidedly opposed to the enterprise. Hos-tility to Hayes' administration is, however, rapidly on the increase in the Senate, and recent nominations have not tended to allay it. Many of the mercase in the Senate, and recent nominations have not tended to allay it. Many of the mercase in the Senate, and recent nominations have not tended to allay it. Many of the mercase in the Senate, and recent nominations have not tended to allay it. Many of the mercase in the Senate, and recent nominations have not tended to allay it. Many of the mercase in the Senate, and mercase of party, and several small fights are on hand. The words spoken by Mr. Hayes on the steps of the Capitol one year ago have not been forgotten; when, in his in-augural address, he asked the attention of the public to the paramount necessity of reform in our Civil Service—a reform not merely as to certain abuses and practices of so-called official patronage which have come to have the sanction of using in the several depart-ments of our Government, but a change in the system of appointment itself; a reform plete, a return to principles and practices of the founders of the government. They meant that the officer should be severe in his tenure of office as long as his personal charac-ter remained untarnished and performance of his duties satisfactory. They held that the appointments to office were not to be made or expected merely on the nomination of members of Congress as being entitled in any respect to the control of such appoint-ter of the several device of the out of the harge num-tion of the several device of the out of the several thought, would be extinguished. Of the large numof members of Congress as being entitled in any respect to the control of such appoint-ments. Carpetbagism, it was thought, would be extinguished. Of the large num-ber of appointments which have been made within the last two or three months none has created more bad feeling within the de-partments here,than that of R. M. Reynolds, late of Iowa, but a professional carpet-bag office sceler and office holder in Ah-bama. He is backed by Secretary McCrary, who lived neighbor to him helore the war in the prolific town of Keckuk, where Reynolds worked on a saddler's bench and targht school as a zide speculation. The First Auditorship of the Treasury Department has been occupied by its present incumbent for mearly a quarter of a century, who has per-formed his duties during the entire time faithfully and satisfactory to all concerned, yet he has been asked to step down and out to leave room for an adventurer. McCrary has for a long time urged this appointment, mainly upon the hypothesis that he was a Southern lawyer of eminent and legal abili-ties and large practice. The Alabama re-publicans are indignant at the promotion of a man who never aided them in their polit-ical context and who, it is found, has obtain-ed his claim to be recognized as a lawyer only upon a recent complimentary adminision to the hay, that he never had been intrusted ed his claim to be recognized as a lawyer only upon a recent complimentary admission to the bar, that he never had been intrusted with a brief and never practiced before any courts. Another instance of the beauties of the Civil Service reform as carried out by the administration is the removal of Mrs. E. E. Smith the widow of a Union soldier, who has for six years neceptably discharged the duties of post mistrees at Sterling, Illi-nois. Congressman Bürchard has his hand in this move, and he is anxious to reward a

-We have had descriptions on the existence and non-existence of hell from the white ministry, and now comes John Jasper, the colored pastor of the Baptist Church, of Richmond, Va., who demonstrates to his entire satisfaction that the sun revolves around the earth, and not the earth around the sun. He said that if he did not prove by Bible authority that the sun moves he would never preach again. He quoted Joshua's making the sun stand still and of the Paalms of David about the rising and going down of the sun. He challenged any grammarian to prove that rising and going down meant stand still. He told his congregation that if they believed the philoso phers, then they must believe that the Bible was lie, and that any man who does not believe the Bible is lost. At the close of the sermon he requested all those who believed that the sun moves hold up their right hands. Every hand in the congregation was raised.

-In the Suprame Court, at New Orleans, La., on Monday last Chief Justice Manning rendered a decision reversing the judgment of the Superior Criminal Court and discharging Thomas C. Anderson from custody. On the ground that the consolidated statement. the document forged, is not required as the declaration of the result of an election. However, the board itself positively refused during its session to count the vote from the Commissioners' returns, which was spacially asked by the democratic counsel, and refused to canvass votes from parties except on consolidated statements, using them as the official returns of the election, considering them as public documents, and thereupon altering the figures which changed the vote for electors. This instatep may be considered as the end of the Returning Board prosecutions, as the law officers of the State Government cannot bring these criminals to died on Tuesday of last week at the family punishment on whatever grounds or evidence they prove their guilt to a jury.
