

The Carbon Advocate.

D. V. MORTIMER, EDITOR

LEHIGHTON, PA. SATURDAY, MARCH 30, 1878.

The new tariff bill was reported by the Committee on Ways and Means to the House Tuesday, and by a vote of 127 to 114 was made a special order for April 4th.

The President, Tuesday, nominated Glenn W. Sheffield, ex-Representative in Congress from the Nineteenth District of this State, to be Register of the Treasury in place of John Allison, deceased.

The Republican State Central Committee met in Harrisburg Wednesday and decided to hold the State Convention in that city on the 10th of May. The Committee unanimously adopted a resolution opposing the Wood Tariff bill.

One of the most magnificent collections was that taken up on a recent Sabbath morning in the Rev. Dr. Hall's, Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, New York City. The amount was over twenty-nine thousand dollars. This was contributed one morning in March towards the Presbyterian Board of Home Missions.

Pamphlet copies of the letters of Wm. E. Chandler and Wm. Lloyd Garrison on the Southern Policy of President Hayes, including appendix reviewing excuses of the Louisiana bargainers, will be sent, postage or express paid, for six cents each, from the Monitor and Statesman office, Concord, N.H., or Gibson Bros., printers, 1012 Pennsylvania avenue, Washington, D.C.

Hon. J. Glancy Jones died in Reading Sunday night, aged 66 years. He was a native of Pennsylvania, and was elected to Congress from this State in 1850, serving continuously, except for a part of the Thirty-third Congress, until 1858. For two years he was Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee. In 1866 he was one of the Democratic Presidential Electors. In 1868 he was appointed Minister to Austria, and served during the remainder of President Buchanan's administration.

A special despatch from Washington gives in a nutshell more solid comfort to business men than they can extract from many of the long talks recently reported there. A prominent and influential member of the Finance Committee declares that three things may be depended on—that the Resumption act will not be repealed at this session; that the issue of silver button certificates will not be authorized, and that the tariff will not be revised. This Senator is a silver man and a revenue reformer, and entitled to speak for his colleagues of those schools. His judgment is as sound as his means of information are good, this is the most cheering bit of news that we have had lately. It tallies with many other indications which lead us to hope that Congress will rest from its work of experiments for the present and "let things run along" as they are.

Coalition.

Last week's March Chink Democrat, in a short editorial, invited a coalition of the democrats and republicans, with a view to the sure defeat of the national or greenback party. A strange procedure on the part of an organ representing the party of the majority in this country, undoubtedly. Had such a proposition emanated from the opposite party, it would have been more appropriate, and no doubt would have received that consideration which the subject merits; but for Samson to lay himself down, in all the majesty of his strength, for his enemies to do with him as seemeth him fit, is simply ridiculous. The sentiments and feelings of the national certainly more nearly assimilate with the democracy than do the republicans; therefore, why should the editor of the Democrat endeavor to form a coalition with the two parties most opposed? The proposition, coming from the Democrat, is simply foolish. The following communication, from a leading democrat of March Chink, shows very clearly what the party Mr. Lynn professes to represent thinks of his proposition:

Editor "Carbon Advocate": The editorial in last Saturday's March Chink Democrat, inviting a coalition of democrats and republicans, and unparliamentarily attacking the national party, receives the censure of the majority of the democratic party in this borough. That Mr. Lynn has acted with an entire disregard to the wishes of the democracy, of which he claims to be the exponent, is evidenced by the criticisms heard everywhere. As Mr. Lynn is a resident of Northampton County, he may expound the feelings of his neighborhood, but certainly Carbon County ignores his dictation in party matters. The democratic party is commonly called "the unaffiliated," but, if desirable to make any coalition, it would certainly prefer an alliance with what Mr. Lynn calls "the whipper-snapper" party; for I believe that the interests of the laboring classes are identical with the wishes, the teachings, and aims of the party which he believes in the motto: "The greatest good to the greatest number." True Democrat.

Our Washington Letter.

Secretary Sherman and the Silver Bill—He Accepts Graciously the Situation—A Peep into the Treasury—Mourning for Brothers—Tomb and Temple—A Lively Debate in the Senate—The Silver Certificate.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 23, 1878. The enemies of the Silver Act, by which the double standard of gold and silver was re-established, are disposed to assail Secretary Sherman for frankly admitting that he was mistaken in his preconceived opinion in regard to the effect of that measure. Like all those who opposed re-nationalization, he thought that its effect would be to enhance the premium on gold, to depreciate the value of the government bonds, and to render more difficult the resumption of specie payments. He now simply confesses that he was in error, and, for his candor in owning the fact, he is assailed as fickle in purpose or false to his friends. In other words, he is blamed for refusing to shut his eyes to palpable facts.

In his "interview" with the Senate Finance Committee on Tuesday, Sherman gave it as his opinion that "the Silver Bill has had some adverse effects, and it has had some favorable effects on the question of resumption." It has stopped the sale of 4 per cent. bonds, and it has stopped the accumulation of gold in the treasury. Another bad effect has been to cause the return of United States bonds from Europe. He states, however, that the bonds have been returning for a year past, but that they have come back more rapidly since the Silver Bill passed the House in December last. This effect is partly due, as we suspect, to the vast balance of trade in favor of this country, which must be paid for in money or bonds. Importers of American produce would avail themselves of every favorable phase of the markets to buy the bonds, and send them to this country. The outgoing gold to pay interest has not been equal to the excess of our exports over imports.

The beneficial effects of the Silver Act are stated by Mr. Sherman to be the following: "In the first place the Silver Bill satisfied a strong public demand for bi-metallic money, and that demand is, no doubt, largely sectional. No doubt there is a difference of opinion between the West and South and the East on this subject, but the desire for ready money was almost universal. The government like ours it is always good to obey the popular current, and that has been done, I think, by the passage of the Silver Bill. Resumption can be maintained more easily upon a double standard than upon a single standard. The bulky character of silver would prevent payments in it; while gold, being more portable, would be more readily hoarded, and I think resumption can be maintained with a less amount of silver than of gold alone."

Yesterday a sub-committee of the House Committee on Banking and Currency called at the Treasury Department and interviewed Comptroller Knox, Treasurer Gilliam, and Secretary Sherman upon the amount of standard and subsidiary coinage in the treasury, the sub-treasurer, and in the banking institutions throughout the country, with a view of ascertaining the exact condition of the treasury and the banks, and their ability as regards the amount of coin on hand, to commence resumption, have as regards the national banks, concerning which they had not the data needed, the treasury officials were unable to afford the desired information. The House Committee on Banking and Currency does not believe that the secretary of the treasury will actually have the amount of coin which he claims on hand when the deductions for the sinking fund and payments for interest on the national debt have been made. The committee will endeavor to obtain the information which they seek by sending out letters and circulars, and by calling for bank statements.

The same celebration at the Foundry Church last night was grand and impressive in the extreme, the occasion being a special meeting of "Malthus Lodge of Perfection No. 2, A. S. R., for the purpose of holding a lodge of sorrow in memory of John Adams Stewart, sixteenth degree, and John Barrett Wadsworth, thirty-second degree, who died within the last year. The handsome collection was crowded by a large and admiring audience, who appeared strongly and deeply impressed by the awesome and solemn character of the mystic ceremonies. The myriad of twinkling lights in the branches clustered round the columns shed a dim and chastened light upon the silent throng; while behind the altar rail sat several of the highest dignitaries of the great Masonic order, decorated with the most magnificent regalia.

Prominent among those with his venerable white hair sat handsome Gen. Albert Pike, the presiding dignitary, — Albert Pike, the statesman, soldier, poet, and jurist. The altar rails were adorned by a forest of green leaves and by the choicest flowers; while round a handsome, black, velvet-covered casket, richly decked with the most magnificent regalia, lay the masonic robes of the departed knights, the name being embroidered upon each. Midway up the aisle, against two of the pillars, sat enthroned above the audience, one upon the right hand and the other on the left, the Senior Warden, William R. Singleton, and S. T. Schofield, the Junior Warden. The solemn services were read by the ritual and responses being recited and made up by the presiding officer, the vanderer, and the other Masons present, in the most impressive manner. When the solemn valedictory, "Farewell! Farewell! Farewell!" was repeated, the twenty-seven brethren standing in front of the altar rail in full regalia, while gloved hands upon their hearts in reverent sorrow, and then raised their hearts in Heaven in mute appeal, as if moved by one hidden impulse. Wailing simultaneously around, these marshaled mourners marched half round the auditorium three times, as the solemn farewell invocation was repeated. The ceremonies concluded with the benediction, which was made up by the presiding officer, the vanderer, and the other Masons present, in the most impressive manner. Thursday afternoon was a field day in the Senate, which witnessed the bitterest details of the silver question. How many copper pennies were coined in the United States in 1847? H. V. Mortimer, Jr., 2nd. Who were the mound builders? Frank Baber, 2nd. When and where was the first theatre in America built? T. J. Seibert, Essayist two weeks hence, Aggie Hank. Select Reading, C. B. Weiss. Question for debate, resolved, "That a large tariff is necessary for the best interests of the United States," affirmative, John Bell, assisted by Albert Dollenmeyer, negative, H. W. Galley, assisted by O. A. Claus. A duet by Miss Emma Hank and O. A. Claus, entitled "Gipsy Countess" was well rendered. The collection being taken up the Society adjourned.

of course, that was the animus of it) was brought to a most laudable and impotent conclusion" by means of a very effective speech from Hoar, aided by Senator Matthews, both of whom showed very clearly that, although there were hardships connected with the laws affecting the timber lands, the use of them, he had no other object in the premises than to have the laws executed until amended or repealed. Ennis, of Louisiana, also spoke against the secretary, on account of some irregularities respecting the sales of timber in his State; but it turned that the instructions given these agents by Secretary Schurz were all right, but the agents had failed to carry them out in some cases. The secretary holds that the entire of timber, for speculative purposes, from the public lands is as much stealing as if taken from an individual, and he proposes to enforce the laws against the moneyed companies, who deal so largely in this business in the West.

The Bureau of Engraving and Printing to-day began the work of printing the silver certificates, commencing with those of the denomination of $10. It is expected that certificates of all the denominations will be ready for delivery by the first of next month. Orders for them have been received from most of the large cities, the largest order being from New York for about eight millions.

St. Vesuvius.

Should an eruption occur in this volcano, and cause the destruction of one-half of the inhabitants who live in the vicinity, the remainder, who barely escape with their lives, immediately move back on the half-cooled lava, and there live in constant fear of another eruption, foolishly fancying that the only terrible portion of the earth rests within the shadow of the great volcano. This fairly illustrates the force of habit, and the persistency with which people cling to opinions when once formed. For example, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures incipient consumption, coughs, colds, and all affections of the liver and blood, yet some still depend upon physicians and remedies that have naught but repeated failures to which they can refer. And although Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is sold under a positive guarantee to cure those weaknesses peculiar to women, and notwithstanding that thousands of women bear testimony to its efficacy, and the truth of all statements made concerning it, many yet submit to the use of emetics and the knife. Again, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pills, no larger than mustard seeds, will positively cleanse the system, when it depends upon dyspepsia or torpid liver, yet some still depend for relief upon the "blue pill" or huge doses of drastic cathartic medicine. In the face of such facts, can we wonder at the blindness of the poor Italian?

Packerton Hipples.

MARCH 27.—The Packerton Christian Association met Friday evening, 15th instant. Reading of scripture and prayer by William Trostway; minutes of last meeting read and approved. Select reading by Johnny Beers, subject, "The hired girl," also "The hired girl," by the assistant secretary, Eddie Barton. The evils of intemperance was ably discussed by Messrs. Trostway, Babcock, Koots, Elliott, Bolin and Stiles. Prof. Snyder, of Lehighton, being present was introduced by the secretary and warmly welcomed by the association; in response he made some well-timed remarks upon the subject before the meeting. The members of the association are always glad to welcome those who may feel like visiting. The meetings are held every two weeks on Friday evening, in the old school-house. After the general discussion, John Beers read a poem—"Don't go to the ale-house to-night." Owing to the absence of the editors, the secretary read the budget. The programme for next meeting: General discussion—"The evils of extravagance;" select reading by Eddie Barton and John Beers; essay by Mrs. W. L. Stiller; a solo by Paul and his wife by Wm. Trethewey; "Jesus and his life" by Mr. Koots; "Joshua and his work" by Mr. Bolin; a short address of the first year of the rebellion by John Beers; a sermon by Mr. Koots; prayer, doxology and dismissal by W. Trethewey.

Andrew Schomover, of Parth Amboy, spent Sunday with his many friends here. Andy looks well, and we judge Jersey sands have had a beneficial effect.

William Martin has at last joined the large army of married men, by joining with Mrs. W. L. Stiller; the assistant secretary, Eddie Barton, and trust he may have his share of life's blessings.

Our friend Oscar Meach is making frequent visits to East March Chunk. Rumor has it that the attraction is a pretty girl; our friend of course (being very bashful) denies it, but Ben says it is so, and we rather incline to believe him.

We hear there are quite a number of Legislative aspirants down your way. Permit us, way up here, to suggest the name of John S. Leutz. We lay some claim to him, and we think you should be so kind as to select him for the honor, and we know sufficient honesty to discharge the duty with fidelity to his constituents. We hope to see his name presented to the convention.

Lehighton Lyceum.

The meeting was called to order by the president. Roll called, and absentees noted. Mr. H. W. Galley was elected as an active member of the Society. The President delivered his inaugural address, after which a piece of music entitled, "Music in the Air" by the Lyceum. Two of the referred questions were answered; the third reference being absent, the question was deferred until next meeting. Debate, resolved, "That Chinese emigration should be abolished," opened on the affirmative by O. A. Claus; on the negative by T. A. Snyder; the question was discussed with marked attention. Next in order was a piece of music entitled, "Leutz or Leutz," after which the president rendered his decision in favor of the negative. A select reading by A. W. Horn, "Das alt schulten an der krick," was well received by the audience. "Our Paper" by the editor, Allen Gravor, was listened to very attentively. The following report of curators was read: "Reference questions—1st. How many copper pennies were coined in the United States in 1847? H. V. Mortimer, Jr., 2nd. Who were the mound builders? Frank Baber, 2nd. When and where was the first theatre in America built? T. J. Seibert, Essayist two weeks hence, Aggie Hank. Select Reading, C. B. Weiss.
