MOLLY MAGUIREISM. ENIMPERS EDD'T THE PENITENTIARY. Bayand the coal regions some peculiar stories are told of "Mollie Maguires" and their doings. The following dispatch from Philadelphia is bristling with information regarding the almost defunct terror of the coal region. Beginning by describing a some that occurred in the Eastern penitentiary not many days ago, the dispatch says : "Some ten days ago it was announced that James Flanigan, a notorious Mollie Maguire, at present confined in the Eastern Peniten tiony, had made a confusion. This it was stated, revealed the particulars of several mysterlens murders, as well as the names of the parties who committed them. A few days rogs, however, this statement was denied, it being asserted that Flanigan refused to open his lips unless his immediate pardon was guarantied. From a Wilkes-Barre dispatch to a Cincinnati paper it appears that the statement was really made and suppressed by the authorities, probably because its publication would interfere with their plans in apprehending and securing the parties implicated in the confession. The disputch to the journal above referred to mys: "Flanigan has disclosed a great deal, and the officers of the Pinkerton De betive Agency and Coal and fron Police are now engaged in hunting down the murderers and conspirators who either committed the crimes or were implicated in them, Sufficient information has been secured that will lead to the detection and arrest the outlaws who were connected with the brutal murders of James Shidds, a member of Company E, Forty-eighth Pennsylvania Volunteers, at Silver Crock, Schuylkill county, in September, 1864, and mine-bess Thos-Punn, near Pottsville, about the same time. The necessing were also concerned in many brenker and house barnings, and it is generally believed their crimes are more numerous and ilagrant than those consummated by the Mollie Magnires who have been executed. Evidence is secured that points to the whereabouts of the ring-leaders in the robbery of the safe in the office of the Boston Hun Colliery in the summer of 1866 (the amount carried off being between $12,000 and $15,000.) the money having been placed in the safe to pay the miners for their month's wages. Another crime that will be unveited is the atrocious murder of Michael Green, which occurred at Hazleton in December, 1875. Green had been a prominent Mollie Magnire in Schuylkill county, but had deserted the organization and de termined to lead a better life. Upon the discovery of his severing his allegiance with the brotherhood, he was attacked in Wyoming street by a number of members of the "Hazleton Division" and clubbed to death. From information gathered from another source, the detectives have reason to believe that they will soon be able to effect the capture of several of the ruffians who assisted in the murder of Win. Williams, a wealthy and much respected Welshman, and proprictor of the Eagle Hotel, New Philadelphia, Schuytkill county. The crime was committed in August, 1865. Several of these oriminals are said to be working in the coal mines of the Tuscarawas Valley, Ohio, while others are employed elsewhere in the State. and in Indiana and Illinois. It is reported that one of the Mollie Maguires, who took a conspicuous part in the Williams' butchery, until quite recently kept a drinking saloon in Hamilton county, Ohio, and the place was made the rendezvous of all the fleeing

As the Miner's Journal in publishing the above account, throws doubts upon the story of the murder of Green, in Hazleton, we republish the following account of that outrage taken from the Huzleton Sentinel, of March 5, 1875. The murder was committed on the night of the 18th of Pebruary, 1875, and not in December, as stated above.

Mollies from the coal regions of Pennsyllost all clue of their whereabouts,"

The O'Dennell's were arrested and bound over to answer the charge of murder, but for mune cause, as yet unexplained, the prosecutors never made their appearance, and the defendants were discharged.

"On Thursday night, the 18th ult., an Iridanan, named John Green, in the employ of Mr. Philip Gohler, on north Wyoming street, was in the company of several of his friends, line in the evening, visiting some saloons in different parts of the town. When approaching Green street, in the rear of Hazel Hall, his companions observed three men emerging therefore, two of whom they immediately becognized as Daniel O'Donnell and Con, O'Dennell approached them, and tapped Green on his arm and remarked to him that he wanted him. Green immediately left his companions and followed O'Donnell and the head described them, left without him, and went up-town. In about two hours afterwards Green was found in front of Joseph O'Donnell's house, on North Wystim street, with a mortal wound over the left eye, near the tample, as though inflicted with en angular instrument of some kind, and the need bone of his thigh broken, and other severe braises about has person. He was insensible, and remained so until last Thursday morning, when he died from the result of his wounds. A coroner's inquest was held on Thursday afternoon, and a number of witnesses currishment of the above facts, and elicited the following further information: It appears that Green went with the O'Donnell's and the stranger, whose name is ascentimed to be James Gallagher, from Summent Hill, until they reached Jos. O'Donnell's both, where for the payerment. He didn't understand the subject of convention in the observed them giving signs, as though they belonged to some order. He shared to go in the house, and as the open the open, heard a sound, and saw Green in the next of falling off the perch. He went in and Gallagher immediately followed from the porch, he had don't be house, and as they found from the porch, he had sound the increased and they went out of the back door and saw there from the porch, in the condition is a trace of the police in the found of the house, and as he are not in an other than the police in the found of the house, and as they found the porch, in the condition is a trace of the police in the found of the house, where found from the porch, in the condition is street, was in the company of several of his friends, late in the evening, visiting some

From the evidence abduced the jury believe that Green came to his death from violence at the hands of Gallagher, and that Con. O'-Ponnell and Daniel O'Donnell were accessed. ries to the crime. A preliminary hearing was had before Justice Coburn on Friday afternoon when they were held to answer the charge of murder, and were conveyed to the county jail on Saturday.

—Way Sumit to the Discomport, and humiliation enteiled by a local disease of the skin, when Glerky's Sulphur Soar will rid you of it with certainty and despatch? It is a remedy which never fails to relieve cutaneous disease, and, as a means of banishing defects of the complexion, it is equally reliable. The benefits arising from the use of Sulphur Baths, in cases of skin disease, and of rheumatism and gout, are well known, but the cost is too heavy to be incurred by many persons who would otherwise take advantage of them. Glenn's Sulphur Soap answers the same purpose, and is both linexpensive and convenient. No one need stir alroad in search of a sulphur bath who has this admirable means of providing one indoors. It is incomparably the decolorizer and disinfectant of clothing and bed linen in use, and prevents diseases of an obnoxious nature caused by contact. Sores, tleers, bruises, scalds, cuts and sprains are promptly remedied by it; and its cleanly, healing and soothing properties constitute it a far more desirable remedy for scorbutic allments than ointments of any description, since such greaty compounds soil the clothing, often aggravate, and very rarely indeed do any permanent good. Sold by Druggists. Price 27c. per cake. I Box (3 cakes) 75c., sent by mail, prepaid, on receipt of price. C. N. Cutterstos, Prop'r, 7 Sixth Avenue, New York.
