PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.

GREAT TRUNK LINE

AND

United States Mail Route.

The attention of the traveling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.

Construction & Equipment

OF THE

Pennsylvania Railroad

The Safety Appliances

in use on this line well illustrate the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed the

Block System of Safety Signals,

Janney Coupler, Buffer & Platform,

THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,

AND THE

Westinghouse Air-Brake,

forming in conjunction with a perfect double track road bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible

Pullman Palace Cars

and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.

THE SCENERY

Of the Pennsylvania Route

is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior Refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form a

—It is not generally known to what extent we are indebted to worms for the productiveness of our gardens and fields. It has been found by a series of experiments carried out by a German naturalist that the tunnels made by worms into the earth are frequently of much service to plants, whose roots occupy the channels that have thus been made. The mold of our gardens, and fields too, is improved to an almost inconceivable extent by the burrowings of this humble insect. Each worm in less than a week passes through its own weight in mold, and the soil thus produced is fine and light and extremely helpful to the growth of plants. When it is remembered that there are in every acre some 33,000 worms, and that, in addition to forming every day about thirty-seven pounds of fine mold, they open up the sub soil and render it fertile, we shall gain some slight conception of our indebtedness to those apparently insignificant and generally unthought-of little workers.
