-The popularity of Dr. J. G. Zern.Democratic candidate for Assembly, is steadily gaining, and that he will have the pleasure of sitting in the next session is now beyond a doubt. It should be so-he is competent and honest.

-The Democratic State Convention of Massachusetts, called by the State Central Committee, met in Boston Wednesday, and nominated Josiah G. Abbott for Governor. upon a hard money platform. Mr. Abbett an old Democrat. He was a member of the last Congress and one of the Electorial Commissioners.

W. M. RAPSHER,

THE PEOPLE'S CANDIDATE. We stated in our last issue that Mr. Rapsher, was a representative man upon whom, all parties could unite in re-electing him to the Legislature. We also stated that he supported, by speech and vote, the cause of the mechanics and laboring men, during his term in office. We can make these statements good. We supposed that every one of his constituents was familiar with his record, and that a reference to the Official Legislative Record was entirely unnecessary, still, we are surprised to find that the Curbon County Democrat in its last inue unfairly represents him. That paper intimates that he opposed the repeal of the "Company Store Bill, and that he championed the bill to attach wages for store bills of all kinds.

It is but fair to the editor of that paper to state, that he did not pretend to say that there was any truth in these charges, and he simply stated that it was so said, without taking the trouble to examine the Legislative Record, to see for himself whether the story was true or false. We think that such rumors ought not to be published, when their whole tendency is to harm and injure an innocent man-

We find that in relation to the merits of the " Company Store Bill" there is a wide difference of opinion among good men, at some places the workingmen wanted it passed and at other places they did not want it and the editor of the Carbon County Democrat is not at all familiar with the question when he speaks of a bill to repeal it. There was no such law to repeal. There was a Bill introduced, known as the Company Store Bill which if passed, would have become a law, which was to apply only to the Anthracite Coal Regions. It was pronounced unconstitutional by all the best lawyers in the Senate and House, but the Legislatice Record, clearly shows that Mr. Rupsher never voted against it or opposed it, while his remarks upon it show that he was in favor of it with reasonable amendments. At a certain stage in the passage of the bill, Mr. Ransher proposed an amendment to the bill, to the effect that the provisions of the bill should apply to all business all over the Commonwealth, so that all classes of laboring men would get the benefit of the law, and not those in the Coal Regions only ; and also a further amendment that the proposed bill should not interfere with the rights of the poor man to make any contract he saw fit and proper. For this, certain parties pretended to find fault with him. He evidently believed that the bill should have been general, so as to give all laboring men the benefit of its provisions. and further, that the intelligent workingmen of this State, are just as competent and able to make their own bargains as those who happen to be rich. He did not believe that the intelligent mechanic and laborer, wanted the Legislature to appoint a guardian for him. We think that all classes of our citizens will endorse the position which he took, because it is sound and fair.

In relation to the other charge that Mr Rapsher championed the bill to attach wages for store bills of all kinds, we can only say, that we have carefully examined the Legis lative Record and have come to the conclusion that the report, (if any such exist) was started in circulation through the meanness and malies of some unknown falsifier, who has no influence or responsibility. We can satisfy everybody on this point.

Mr. Rapsher never introduced, supported nor had anything whatever to do with any such a bill, and we have the proof at hand.

There were only two bills in the Legislature of that nature, to wit : One bill was 'An Act relating to boarding housekeepers, and authorizing the attachment of wages of persons indebted for boarding." This bill was introduced and read in place by Mn. SHORK, of Luperne county, (see Legislative Record of 1877, page 125,) a gentleman who was elected as a labor-reformer, and who was in favor of the best interests of the laborbut all over the Siate, can see how he stood up for their rights, while a Bill was on its final passage in relation to strikes, to tie up their hands, so that they could not protect themselves. The debate will explain itself. See Legislative Record, page 1241, and read the following. Mn. Raranan said :

the following. More page tory, and read-the following. Mrs. Racensis wid : Mrs. Straken—I hope the House will not be in any module haste in voting upon this bill unless they intend to vote it down. If the House intends to vote it down and I was satisfied of that fact, I would not sictain the House for a neuron. But you will find that it is strongly backed, and upon exami-nation that it is very peculiar on its pro-visions. It has a very peculiar not a pro-visions. It has a very peculiar perpease and was drawn by a peculiar hand. It has pecu-liar carmarks all through, and in diastration of that, I call your attention to the fourth section. In the sixth line of the fourth section the bill makes two or three crimes or misdememors at one jump, and the last of the lot is the worst. It makes it a criminal offence if any one "Shall by offer of recom-" pense induce any employee of any relinead " company within this State to leave the " service of such company." Should that be made a penal delense upon our statute books / I want to know, sir, if there is a man upon the floor of this House that "willing to en-dorse any such a doetrine sublat? I think not, if he just thinks and reflects. he just thinks and reflects.

MR. SCHNATTERLY .- The gontleman spoke Ma. SCHNATTERLY.— The gentleman spoke of the touch section. I will ask him a ques-tion—will he endorse the doctrine that the employee of any company hma a right to destroy the rolling stock of that company. Ma. Rarsara.—No, sir. Ma. SCHNATTERLY.—This provides sgainst it. Ma, RAFERER, -I contend that it does not provide any such a thing. That is not the purpose of this act at all. The very title of this act is a delusion and a snare. This act proposes nothing of the kind which the title suggests, and if it had not been for the gen-tleman from Merser, (Ma. 4 Ackson), who drew my attention to the act itself, I pre-sume I should have voted are through a misapprehension. We are not here, even at this late hour of the session, to put bills through that we apparently know nothing about. This is a dangerous bill and is aim-ed at the rights of the laboring man and its purpose is not as the lithe suggests to provide for the protection of pasengers upon rail-ways, and to insure the prompt transporta-tion and delivery of freight. That is very fine—that title is—and almost any person would vote for the bill upon merely seeing the title. I agree with the gentleman from Fayette, (Ma. SCHXATTERER, and thegentle-man from Philadelphia, (Ma. HALLa) that is purporeits or destroy anybody's property. Ms. Long.—Will the centleman allow MR. RAPSHER. -I contend that it does not property, Mr. Lovo,-Will the gentleman allow

Ma. Losa.—Will the gentleman allow himself to be interrogated 7 Ma. Rarsana.—I would rather not just now. It will destroy my line of argument to be interrupted. I think the property and the rolling stock of railway companies should be protected, but I do not agree that it should be done by taking away the laboring man's rights. The object of this net is not to pro-tect the rolling stock of railroads, but I tis wirtually to prevent a combination of the engineers and employees to engage in a strike. I say that engineers upon railroads and any kind or class of mechanics have a right to combine together in a lawful man-ner to protect their interests. It is one of the great rights we claim in this country. It is a right which coal companies, railroad the great rights we claim in this country. It is a right which coal companies, railroad companies and Barks and others engage in, and frequently they earry it with a high and unighty hand. Now, I stand here at this time to say that you shall not enset any legislation here which has a tendency to in-terfere with the laboring man when he sets proper to combine for his welfare or protec-tion. That is the point. The object of this bill is to prevent men from striking at all— to taske them powerless to do so. I do not imagine that this House will pass this bill, at any rate with that very objectionable clause in it, clause in it.

We are pleased to state that MR. RAPSING carried the day, and the objectionable and oppressive portion of the bill was deleated, and we are informed that, soon after, a committee of ruilronders and workingmen called upen him, at his room in the Hotel, and thanked him for his carnest efforts in their behalf.

We think we have fully proven all we claimed in our last week's issue when we said Mn. RAFSHEN favored the laboring man. We would say to the voters of Carbon county, do not let his enemies deceive you by slandering him, and we predict that when the votes are counted, after the election is over. the result will show that you did not forget him at the polls.

as industrial powers than might have been expected from them, even if they had been more likerally endowned by nature, and geographically within easier reach of the Champ de Mars. But after these considera-tions have been duly disconnted, the collec-tive exhibits of iron and steel present elu-cational facilities and scientific memorabiles quite as notable, and probably, on the whele, much more complete, than any unterchent Exhibition. England and America have had numerons opportunities, of which they have taken full advantage of showing to the world their expabilities and resources in have taken full advantage of showing to the world their expedibilities and resources in this sphere of industrial effort; and hereto-fore the race has been so far to the swift, that the right of England to preeminence has hardly been challenged. It is a tost much to notorious to be gainsaid that the pride of place enjoyed by Great Britian has made her disregard the threats of foreign competi-tion, and it is perhaps, due more to their in-sular prejudice and contempt of danger, than to aught else, that English firms have come so far short of their best efforts in the present Exhibition. But the extent and character of foreign competition have been brought Exhibition. But the extent and character of foreign competition have been brought very near and made uncomfortably apparent to the English industrials, who have never null now ceased to deliver in their manifest destiny as "the workshop of the world," and must, unleas they are as far from wisdom as an estrich, personale them that their energies must more than ever he taxed to breast the raise the of foreign competition.

This interest and every competition. A more complete or a more claborate series of iron and steel was probably never brought together than that contributed by France to her own Expesition of 1878. This may, inher own Expesition of 1878. This may, in-deed, be regarded as the very first oppartu-nity France has enjoyed of showing to the rest of the world her relative position in the race of industrial preferment. Neither in her own exhibitions of 1853 and 1867 nor in the English Exhibitions of 1851 and 1892 did she come largely to the front in matters metallurgical and the enormous drain made upon the resources by the war left, her in the background at the Exhibitions of Vienna and Philadelphia. But to day she proves to the rest of the world that in spite of the gen-eral demoralization and disturbance of m-distry caused by the midortanes that culti-mated in Sedan, and notwithstanding the consequent loss of eleven of her principal iron works in Alaszoe and Lorraine, repre-senting the transformer to the Zollverien of three-lourths of the iron production of the senting the transference to the Zollverien of three-iourths of the iron production of the old French department of the Moselle, she has in this, as in all other indications of material progress, developed amazing recu-perative energy, and become a formidable rival of nations with longer industrial ped-igrees and more obvious natural endowments. In the printing department the new em-posing machine works wonders. The ap-paratus is not unlike a plane and is con-pased of a series of vorticle tubes placed side by side; each tube is filled with one kind of by adde ; each tube is filled with one kind of letter. These tubes all converge at the lower end, into one pipe, which abuts upon a hori-zontal trench. The compositor has before him a keyboard, upon the notes of which the letters of the alphabot are marked. When he strikes one of these notes the cor-responding tube opens, and drops the letter indicated into the trench, where a special mechanism advances it to the place it is upmechanism advances it to the place it is inincentamism advances it to the place it is in-tended to occupy. The types then pass into the justifyer, a kind of moveable metallic frame, of a size suitable to the line which is to be printed. Each line, when composed, is lowered, to give place to the succeeding one. The superior rapidity of this method is evident. By the usual mode a skillful compositor can turn off 1300 letters in an hear by this method in wake is evident. By the usual mode a skillful compositor can turn off 1300 letters in an hour; by this machine it is possible to make 230,400 notes in the same time; but, allow-ing for the futigate to the fingers it is no ex-ageration to put the average at 60,000 notes an hour. There is, of course, the difficulty of rending the manuscript, which delays the rapidity of the work; but even if the ma-chine made no more than 6000 notes, it would be a great saving of time and labor. The operation of replacing the latters in their respective tubes is performed by a ma-chine having an exactly reverse arrange-ment to the proceeding one. The composing and distributing machines which, uncer,the mane of Chambers, have now been brough to great perfection, are now in successful use in the office of the London Times. A good stery is told of a Washingtonian who hired a conveyance during the recent strike of cabmen and drivers. Upon the man saying, " It is 100 sous an hour," the inver replied, "A II rightArve on." He kept the eab four hours, and then, having finish-ed his business, asked the driver how much has had to pay blin. "Four hors," replied the washingtonian. The will be 20 frames." "Then drive use to the protectime of the driver, thun-

drive me to the prefacture of the police," re-plied the Washingtonian. The driver, thunplied the Washingtonian. The driver, thun-derstruck, endeavored to make^{*} concessions. On the way to the station he stapped the cab at a tobacconist's, and got out to buy a clarr. It's purchase finished, he left the shop and looked for his cab, when, behold, cab, driver, and horse had all disappeared and Monsieur had had the use of a carriage for four hours without its costing him a sou. The other bill originated in the Senate, and was introduced in that body by SENATOR Guzza, and was entitled " An Act providing for attachments on wages for necessaries furnished to families." (See Legislative Record of 1877, page 266.)
