No. 4 is too valuable a mine to a lost, the coal is the best in the Valley and be lost, the coal is the best in the Valley and the Company have concluded that if the new steam process has not worked by this time it never will work. Had they taken the advice of old miners and flooded long ago they would not now be just on the verge of not only drowning out No. 4 but No. 9 also, but be well on the way to re-working them.—Tamaqua Courier, Sept. 21.

Boller Explosion.

Boller Explosion.

The following particulars of the explosion at the Lehigh Slate Company's works, Slatington on Tuesday last, weelip from the News Tuesday, shortly before one celeck those irring in the vicinity of the Lehigh Slate Company's factory were thrown into a state of excitement by the tremendous report and terrible crashing of timbers in the direction of the factory, and rushing to the scene, found the belief tern from its places, and the greatest bulk of it thrown with such terrible force as to imbed it firmly in an embankment 12 or 15 yards away; the engine house and the 15 yards away; the engine house and the slate wash house totally demolished a por-tion of the main structure shathered, and the ground strewn with hot, seething fragments ground strewn with hot, seelling fragments of iron. The whole factory was dense and dark with smoke, dust and steam, but fortunately no fire occurred. Many lumired spectators flocked to the scene.

The men were in a wild state of excitement and upon looking around found the body of Mr. Frank L. Kennel, lying close by the half buried boiler, in an almost lifeliess condition. The boiler struck him as it passed through the wash house, and carried him with it. By the time he was taken from the wreek, and carried to a room in the factory, he expired. He was engaged washing slate close by the engine house when the explesion occurred, and was cut terribly about the head and breast. The deceased leaves wife and three children. Mrs. Kennel, we understand at the time of the accident was away from home attending the dent was away from home attending the funeral of a deceased friend. Before removing the body of deceased from the scene of the accident, a jury was summoned, and a verdict rendered according to the above facts. Mr. Kennel was twenty-eight years of age. His funeral took place Thursday afternoon. Ex-Constable Wm. Hunt was slightly wounded about the head, and had a painful bruise in his side, though no serious results are apprehended from his injuries. Jacob Lebnuar was also slightly cut in the face, by the fragments that for a short time fell thick and fast, but his wounds are neither very painful or dangerous, and Andrew Wildrick, sustained a slight scratch on his check, and had one of his hands burned.

The accident occurring before one o'clock, the employees, with the exception of Mr. Kennel, were not yet at work, but some of them were standing around in the engine room, which adjoins the boiler room, and here is where the three men above named were hurt. The engineer, Wm. A. Hunt, was also in the engine room, but escaped all hurm.

At the time of the explosion, the boiler carried 85 pounds of steam, with the water standing between the first and second gauges, and no other cause can be assigned for the accident than the fiest that the beller was old and well worn though it was con-sidered in good repairs. We understand that there are other steam botlers in daily use at some of the slate factories, which are old and in doubtful condition, and need a thorough inspection.

The Conl Trade.

The interest of the anthracite coal trade during the past week centred pretty much in the action of the Board of Control at in the action of the Board of Control at Long Branch on Tuesday of last week. Of what transpired there we have little infor-mation beyond the efficial report, the meet-ing having been held with closed doors. There were present at it F. B. Gowen, E. W. Clarke, Samuel Slean, G. B. Linderman, Thos. Dictson, F. Lathrop, A. J. Cassatt, Goo. A. Hoytand John H. Jones. It is given out that the meaning of calling these many trips out that the amount of coal fixed upon to be mined in the month of October, is the result of a compromise. Some of the parties to the combination desire a much larger output for the menth, while others favor no increase on that of the present month. 1,220,000 was harmoniously agreed upon, which gives to each of the several companies in the combination as follows: Philadelphia and Reading Railroad 343,446 70,380

The Board of Control also voted to extend the time for the continuance of the combi-nation until April 1, 1879. This is left to be an important act, as it tends to strengthen the conviction all through the trade, and especially with that important branch of it. the consumers, that the present policy of not oversupplying the market with coal is to be continued as a policy of the trade. The mat-ter of amount of monthly output of coal is of secondary consideration, so that it is low enough to keep down a surplus and enable the producers of coal to effect a moderate monthly advance in the prices of coal, thus giving assurance to buyers that to-day, from the date of the opening of the coal season to the first day of the last coal month, is the lowest price for coal for the year. With a feeling like this established, the coal trade is made as reliable sathatof any other paranit, and from the universal use of coal as an article of necessity its production should be put on a reliable basis, that expital may freely enter into it, and its cheapest possible

D. Lothrop & Co.'s Publications

The autumn and holliday list of D. Loth-rop & Co. is peculiarly valuable and attrac-tive, not only for the character of the pubtive, not only for the character of the publications it represents, but for the variety of subjects it covers, and for the elegant and substantial style in which the books it includes are brought out. The catalogue of the past and present works issued by this house numbers more than 700 titles, and it is a remarkable fact that nearly all of them fulfill some speciel want of the public, and meet with a steady sale. Of the more important books in the present list are new editions of standard works, among them, Bunyan's Holy War, in clear large type, on heavy paper and with a large number of illustrations, one of the finest editions ever issued in this country; Dr. Adams' At Eccation of the finest editions of Liberoists, which has met with unexampled success; a new and degant edition of Pilsuccess: a new and elegant edition of success: a new and elegant edition of Pri-grain's Progress, uniform in style with the Golden Treasury series, with gilt edge and containing seventeen full page illustrations. Several works by prominent authors are in preparation, which will be duly announced. In the line of books for the young people the list of this firm is especially rich. No other American house furnishes a catalogue more attractive, or deaver abstracts. other American house furnishes a catalogue more attractive, or draws a sharper line be-tween what is good and what is bad in liter-ature. Among the books now in active preparation; and which will be issued the coming summer and fall, are Miss Yongo's series of Young Folk's Histories, one volume of which will be issued monthly. The first volume will be upon Greece, England, France and Rome. They will be brought out in handby others upon Greece, England, France and Rome. They will be brought out in handsome style, in clear type, on fine white paper, beautifully bound and illustrated. A book of special interest which will appear in the fall is entitled Amy's and Marion's Yoyaye Around the World. It is from the pen of a daughter of the Rev.Nehemiah Adams, who, with her sister, really made the journey about the globe, in company with their brother, Capt. Adams. It will be fully illustrated from original photographs. Royal Lowie, a story for the older boys, by Charles R. Talbot, will create a decide sensesion among those for whom it is specially intended. It is one of the most facinating books published for the last half-dozen years, and is as pure in tone as it is lively in incident.

story for girls, called From Different Stand-points. Two other volumes, That Boy of Newkirk's and Curvic Elsworth, also appear in the list, together with a new book of poeting for home and school. New editions in quarto form of Formy Rick, Cooking Club of Tu-Whit Hollow, Good-for-Nothing Polity, and Nan, the New-Fushimed Girl, all popu-lar and rapidly selling books, are announced for early issue. for early issue. for early issue.

The house has in preparation an elegantly illustrated work which is intended as a religious gift book for the holidays. It is called Out of Durkness into Layht. The designs are from the pencil of Mary A. Lath-bury, whose talent for illustration is well known. It is proposed to make it the most popular presentation book of the season, not POMPEH. Excavations at Pampeii prove the city to have been one of the most fishionable and beautiful of Roman summer resorts, and but for the eraption it might have remained so to this day. As with Pomeii, so with thousands of people who have beauty of form and feature. They might always be admired but for the eraption, that makes the face unsightly, and betrays the presence of scrofula, virulent blood poisons, or general debility. There is but one remedy that positively cures these affections, and that remedy is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is the best known tonic, alterative, and resolvent. It speedily cures primples, blotches, solvent. It speedily cures pimples, blotches, liver spots, and all diseases arising from im-poverished or impure blood. It also cures dyspepsia, and regulates the liver and bowels. Sold by druggists.

" Don't Give Up the Ship,"

When these words were spoken by our lamented Lawrence, it must have been a sol-cing time for those on board, and probably enu time for these on beard, and probably not a dry eye among them, seeing their commander mortally wounded, and still giving orders like the above; but not more solemn than when the tasaily physician informs you that some one of your family has an affection of the longs which, if neglected, will eventually terminate in Consumption. But, reader, don't be frightened or "give up the ship," for Dr.Hale, a physician of Europe, discovered a remedy for all Coughs. Colds, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, and all affections of the Threat, Brenchial Tubes and Lungs leading to Consumption, and C. N. Chitteness, one of our leading medicine dealers, of No. 7 Sixth avenue New York, believing the market resurred an article freely enter into it, and its cheapest possible supply be thus effected. A small advance in believing the market required an article prices will take place, it is expected, on the list of the coming menth.—Ledger, Monday.

Work, and yet within the reach of all as regards price, etc., has purchased the original receipt from Dr. Hale, and we understand in receipt from Dr. Hale, and we understand is selling very large quantities of the same, and, as far as we hear, it gives entire satis-faction. It is now sold by all druggists in New York, Brocklyn, Jersey City, Newark, N. J., Hobsken, and, in fact, all through the country at 50 cents and $1. Great sav-ing by purchasing large size.

REGE CITY, April 5, 1877.

Mr. CRITTENTON.—DEAR SIE I use your HONEY OF HOMEROUND AND TAR IN my family and use it very freely. I run the Union Dining Rooms in the Union Depot at Reed City. I have from ten to fifteen in my employ, and we nearly all use your medicine. But I cannot afford to pay the retail price for it. The last HONEY OF HOMEROND AND TAR I sent to Troy N. Y., for, as I could not buy it in East Saginaw or Grand Rapids, De you have it in quart bottles, or can you put no up one down in some shape so that put no up one dozen in some shape so that it will come lower than the last 1 bought? I paid for the last five dellars for six eight-omee bottles. Can I buy it in five-pound bottle? Thus, I think, would be a very good place to advertise your goods. good place to aftertise your goods. I do not understand why it is not sold in East Sagi-naw or Grand Rapids. I think it is the best cough medicine I ever used. We have used it more or less for ten years. Please write me the cheapest and best way for me to buy it, and if I can afford it I will send you a small order, and when I order I will send the money with order. Yours. D. Adams, Reed City, Mich.
