Suicide of a Boy.

Eddie Biery,a boy about 12 years old,com nitted suicide Saturday. He lived with his arents at Wennersville, about four miles rom Allentown. The parents were absent the time, leaving their sons, Eddie and arcus, to do some work around the barn. Marcus, to do some work around the barn. A neighbor's bay called and found both at work end helped them a short time, after which he left. Returning some time after, Marcus pointed to a granary in the barn and said, "Don't go up there, Eddie hung himself." Both, however, went up in the barn and found the little fellow hanging by the neck to a rope fastened by pulleys to the floor, and which had been used for hoisting grain. The boys blom ran and notified ing grain. The boys then ran and notified ing grain. The losys then ran and notified the neighbors, who hastened to the spot and cut the body down, which was yet warm. Death, however, had ensued, raused by strangulation. Some weeks age this family narrowly escaped being poisoned. Mrs. Biery was esoking something for supper, and while temporarily absent from the stove arsonic was placed in the vessel which she was cook-ing. We the nerview to the state of the was placed in the vessel which she was con-ing. Who the perpetrator was has since re-mained a secret. The Coroner's jury in the case of Eddie Monday afternoon rendered a verdict of death by suicide.

Beath of J. Gillingham Fell, Esq.

On Saturday afternoon J. Gillingham Fel-lied of paralysis at his residence, No. 1496 Walnut street, Philadelphia in the sixty-second year of his age, after a long illness, He was been in Buckingham township, Bucks county, Pa., and was educated at a country school. Before he came of age he Backs county, Pa., and was clucated at a country school. Refore he came of age he moved to Lozerne county, where he was employed for some years as a civil engineer. About the year 1855 he went to Philadelphia, and became associated in the coal mining business with Ario Pardee, the firm being A. Pardee & Co. Their offices were in the same building with the offices of the old Hazleton Coal Company, of which Mr. Fell was a director until the Company was soft out to the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company some eight or ten years ago. He has been for many years a director of the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company, and was at one time its President. Mr. Fell was elected a member of the Constitutional Convention of 1873, which framed the present Constitution of Pennoyivania, and, until incapacitated from attending personally to the duties, was a most useful member of the Board of City Trusts. In addition to helding the position of Director in the Allentown Rolling Mills, the Gettion, the Andover and other large and valuable iron-works, he was also a Director, until his death, of the North Pennsylvania and the Boand Brook Railroads. During the late war he took an active interest in public matters, and was one of the originators of the Union League, being elected its vice-president, which office he has continuor to hold vearafter year. Mr. Fell suffered from paralysis for several years, and, owing to his continued Ill-health, he was compelled to retire from active business. The funeral of the deceased took place on owing to his continued in-nearly, he was compelled to retire from active business. The funeral of the deceased took place on Wednesday morning, from his late residence, No. 1403 Walmit street. Philadelphia, to the place of interment, Laurel Hill Cemetery

Sin-Sinning.

Last Somlay evening. Rev. Deer, the paster of the Beformed Church of this place, presched to a large and interested congregation on this subject, taking for his text, "There is not a just man upon earth, that doeth good, and anneth not." The subject of sin in respect to Christians is so little understood in this day by the numerry and lairy, that we deem a few comments by some of our best commentators and others, on texts quoted in the sermon, would aid propile in general in arriving at a just canchistor.

Bon. Daniel Steels, D. D., says concerning this text quoted, and that in 2 Chron. VI, 36; "There is no man which sinneth not;" when correctly interpreted as it is in the Yulgate, the Septuagint, and most of the second text. wargate, the Septinguit, and most of the ancient versions, it gives ne countenance to sin. These all read, "May not sin." The Hebrew Language, having no potential moste, uses the indicative future instead. It whould read, "For there is flot a just man upon earth, that doeth good, and is not liable to sin." Dr. Adam Clark, one of the most distinguished and lest commentators, Dr. Hinney, and a host of the best Divines agree in this criticism.

For in many things we offend all, James 5, 2. Dr. Steele asks. Who are the we? Is it St. James and the rest of the spostles? Then these excellent men, after blessing God, fall to cursing men. See ninth verse. But if the we is used for men generally, the difficulty vanishes. culty vanishes.

If we say that we have no sin, we decrive urselves, and the truth is not in us, I John from a

1, 8. This means if we have never sinned, and so have no need of the blood of Christ, apoken of in the previous terse. The tenth rease references and explains the eighth "If we say that we have set sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us." This explanation harmonizes perfectly with John's trang assection, that "Whosoever is born of test distinuous climais san; for his seed remained in him, and he camast sin, because he is born of God." The incorrect because he is born of God." The incorrect interpretation of the eighth verse; which makes every believer in Christ a constant inner, is in direct collision with the asserted victory over ain, enjoyed by every one bu of God,—Dr. Steele.

The ninth verse reads, "If we confess our sins, be is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleause us from all unrighteousness!" that is not only to forgive, but to purify the beart. As all unrighteousness is sin a so he that is cleaned from all unrighteousness is cleaned from all sin. To attempt to evade this, and pleaf for the continuance of sin in the heart, through life, is ungrateful, wicked, and even blasphement: for, as he who says he has not sinusdiver. 10 makes tiod a linr, who has declared the contrary through every part of his revelition; so he flast says the blood of Christ either cannot or will not bloomer us from ain this life, gives will not blearest us from sin in this life-gives also the lie to lik Maket, who has declared the contrary. It is the birthright of every child of God to be cleaned from all sin, to keep himself unspotted from the world, and o to live as never more to offend his Maker

For I know that in me (that is in my flesh) dwelleth no good thing, for to will is present with me, but thou to perform that which is good I find not. Rom. 7th chapt. Isth vs. Does St. Paul hold up his own moral photograph? Does he here portray the christian at his best earthley estate? To both these questions we answer, no. This was never designed to depict the ideal christian life, but is rather the portrayal of the struggles of a convicted sinner seeking justification by the works of the law.—Dr. Stelle.

By I he cannot mean himself, nor any christian believer; if the contrary could be proved, the argument of the apostle would go to demonstret the unsufficiency of the gospei, as well as the law.—Dr. Clarke.

At the present day the church generally, have returned to the just interpretation as lield by the primitive church for the first three centures, the picture applies solely to the surgenerate man.—Dr. Whedon.

The Conl Trade.

There has been a good demand for an-tracite cool all the past week, and the prothractic coal all the past week, and the production just now is quite active. It is not probable that the prices of coal will be further advanced this year. Indeed, they are high enough, and yet it is quite certain they will not be lower. Coal can be put into the market here for domestic uses at the present price of $546c$ per ton and give to all parties engaged in handling it reasonable profits. All that operators and the transportation companies now require is full tomage, but the indications afforded by the action of the Board of Control for the past menth or two in keeping down the supply of coal to within the demands of the market, do not favor the conclusion that any very large avor the conclusion that any very large onnage may be expected in November and besember. What we said last week we re-terate how, the existing arrangement between the leading carrying companies will be othered to up to the end of the year, and probably will then be allowed to expire by the own limitations. Whatever rules may govern the trade of 1879 will, in all probagovern the trade of 1879 will, in an propa-bility, be new, or the old so rearranged as to be practically new. They may embedy much of the wholesome provisions now in force, but they will be new as a whole, how-ever much or lime altered. The parties to the existing combination seem slow in coming together to discuss the business of 1879, and it leoks now as though the new year might be around before even a meeting s had, much less any satisfactory conclusion s reached. It is understood that an effort is naking to get an expression of opinion from the individual operators of the Lebigh region favorable to a combination independent of the Lebigh Valley Bullroad Company, Some diversity of opinion exists and some little asperity of feeling is evinced, and when combination frustrates the whole purpose the future of eval is not at this moment as encouraging as we should like to see it.— Ledger, Monday.

"Don't you like the whishey?" wur his anser, or he glared feercely at me.

"Like it! Like it! Why, its water!"

"Bless your sole," replied Bascom, "why don't you say its whiskey? The minit you say it's whiskey who way it's whiskey. You say the paper you want to pay me in is a dollar, jist become you say it is a dollar, and why in bloody thunder can't you make whiskey out uw water by jest sayin it's whiskey? Gentletlemen, this is find whiskey and it's the only kind I kin git with flat money. When you git to pay in in the confortable old greenback, or the modest nickle all rite. I'll give git to payin in the combination of a green-back, or the modest nickle, all rite. I'll give you the regier old howel-scorcher. But the likker is guin to assimilate to the money. I learned that word in Louisville. Ef you want to payein flat money you are goin to git flat likker. Ef you kin imagine a piece of paper with your stams onto it is a dollar, you must likewise imagine this flood to be good likker, and vice versy. Parson, this is all you will ever git with your kind or memery.

And he leaned back agin his bottles with a defiant air, and we rank back terrified.

Where is the end to be? I don't know. Oh! that Battler would carry Massachusetts, and git into power, so that he genius cool solve this problem. Ef Baccom repudiates the flat money it is all over here. Paradiates the flat money it is all over here. Paradiates V. Nasar, Pinancier.—[Talcale Blade.]
