

E. R. BISHOP,
DISTRICT ATTORNEY & COUNSELLOR
Office, Klutz Building, Broadway,
MAULCH CHURCH,
Klutz Building, Broadway,
New York City.

THIS PAPER may be found on all GEO. BOWEN & CO. NEWS STANDS.
TRADE MARK

The Carbon Advocate.

SATURDAY, JULY 26, 1919.

Local and Personal.

TO SUBSCRIBERS.
Subscribers to the CARBON ADVOCATE will find special notices that our terms are one dollar a year strictly in advance. If not so paid $1.25 will be charged for every instance.

TO SUBSCRIBERS.
Subscribers getting their papers by mail will refer to the direction table on their papers and note the date, and remit accordingly.

—Cher Jackson's Best Sweet Navy Tobacco, 7-30.
—Potatoes have been selling on our streets during the past week at 60 cents per bushel.
—Parties going to the city next week—
Bert. Seaborn, L. V. R. H. depot, 16-42.
—A new member says that the Greenbackers will nominate Uncle Nathan to the front for the nomination for Sheriff by that party.
—Mrs. Thomas A. Williams with her four children left here last Monday night at 11 o'clock, to join her husband at Brenham, Texas.
—F. S. Bous, lumber dealer, of Lehigh, Pa., has made an assignment. His liabilities are said to be $150,000, his assets considerably less.
—The employees of the Pennsylvania Iron Works at Duquesne, Pa., were notified, on Saturday, of an advance in their wages, to date from July 1st. The present price of peddling is $3 per ton.
—For sale—Eight shares of the Capital stock of the 1st National Bank of Lehigh. For further particulars apply at the Advocates office.

—A twelve-year old "cracker" boy was killed falling 100 feet down the Sloush Shaft of the Delaware and Lackawanna Company, at Scranton, on Friday last week.
—Two men started out on a water to see which could last the longest. No. 1 commenced "A wealthy country editor" whereupon No. 2 stopped right there and paid the forfeit. For if you were for this paper remit at once!

—For cheap Farm Land in Carbon county, inquire at N. D. Corright, Mauch Chunk.
—While Levi Honeywell was driving a wagon loaded with hides near Dallas, Luzerne county, on Friday evening of last week, he was kicked by his horse, and, falling under the wagon was run over and killed.
—The Popular Western Ticket Agent, B. O'Brien, will be at this office next Wednesday night. If you want to go west, call and see him, he will send you right, cheap and quick.
—Mrs. Weidenheimer, who has been spending two or three weeks among her old friends hereabouts, returned to her home in Washington county, Kansas, on Monday evening last.

—300 boxes West's Vegetable Liver Pills, for sale at Durling's Drug Store, 20 cents per box.
—The padlockers of the Pale Alton rolling mill, near Pottsville, struck Tuesday morning for "higher wages and better work." They resumed some evening, a compromise having been effected.
—If you want nice smooth, easy shave, your hair cut or shampooing, go to Franz Roelker's Salon, under the Exchange Hotel. He will fix you right, and don't you forget it.
—Hon. Allen Craig of Mauch Chunk, is one of the four candidates selected by the State to meet at Harrisburg, at 12 o'clock noon, on the third Tuesday of January next, for the purpose of opening, computing and publishing the returns of the election for State Treasurer.

—There were shipped over the Lehigh Valley railroad for the week ending 19th inst., 103,743 tons of coal, a total for the season to date of 5,539,432 tons, an increase as compared with same time last year of 444,493 tons.
—The most popular paper in Carbon county, for purchasing wall paper, stationery and useful articles generally, is E. F. Luckenbach's, two doors below the Broadway House, Mauch Chunk. First-class painting and calendering at reasonable figures, and work guaranteed.
—There were shipped over the L. & S. railroad for the week ending the 19th inst., $4,948 tons of coal, making a total for the season to date of 2,664,899 tons, an increase, as compared with same date last year of 576,253 tons.

—NEW ARRIVAL—H. H. Peters, the tailor, has just returned from the city, with another large and elegant stock of summer goods, comprising coats, cassimere, and suits, of latest and most fashionable designs, for mens' youth's and children's wear, which is prepared to make up in the latest and most desirable style at prices as low as actually duty competition. Call and examine goods and learn prices before you buy elsewhere. No trouble to show goods at this establishment.
—The new Postage law in relation to the prepayment of postage went into effect on Sunday. Hereafter all letters insufficiently stamped were forwarded to their destination, and the amount due was collected of the persons to whom the letters were addressed. Under the new law postmasters are required to place upon letters not fully prepaid the stamp or additional stamps known as the "postage due stamp," and to send to the office where the letters are to be delivered a bill for the amount of stamps advanced. The postmaster receiving such letters and bills returns the amount to the forwarding postmaster, and collects the amount from the recipient of the letter.
—EXAMINATION.—The sealers of Weights and Measures, of Carbon county, demanded of Mr. J. L. Gabel, dealer in hardware, to seal and stamp his entire stock in trade, and for each article the usual fees prescribed by the act of April 15, 1843. Mr. Gabel refused, and the Sealer of Weights and Measures brought suit to compel him to submit to his demands. This was an unjust and unlawful proceeding and the official was compelled to back down.—Heston Scotter.

—A water famine in Reading is imminent, owing to continued dry weather. Water ceased to flow from the hydrants in the upper part of the city on Saturday, and some factories have been compelled to stop work. The Reading Railroad has been compelled to fit up a train of tank cars to haul water from the Schuylkill to supply the business in its shops. Councils have been asked to appropriate $20,000 for additional water facilities.

—Get ready for stamp meetings.
—The Philadelphia and Reading railroad are preparing to erect large car shops at Pottsville.
—Lehigh Valley railroad stock is quoted at $41 a share. It is gradually creeping up to the old mark.
—The Catawqua Manufacturing Co., has increased the wages of its employees 5 per cent, to date from the 21st inst.
—On Friday morning last a valuable cow belonging to Mrs. Joshua Kuntz, residing near Cherryville, died from clover poisoning.
—A large number of the mining contractors throughout the county have voluntarily raised the wages of their employees 10 cents per day.
—Mr. James Farrell of South Bethlehem, who was shot several weeks ago by Barney Halpin, has entirely recovered from his wounds.
—A gray mare, seven years old, and 12 1/2 hands high, was stolen from the stable of N. S. Wyckoff & Son, in East Stroudsburg, one night last week.
—There are some farmers in Lehigh who will not thresh over one bushel of rye to the 100 sheaves. Others again, though few in number, will have a very fair yield.
—The trout season will close on the first of August under the new law. The piscatorial inclined will govern themselves accordingly, and catch their trout in season.

—D. C. Disinger, of Sunbury, prominently before the Lehigh Valley Convention, was elected as a candidate for State Treasurer, a brother of Rev. Moses Disinger.
—The P. and R. Express Co. is now carrying money packages of $20 and under to all points on its line for 15 cents, $20 and under $40 for 20 cents, Ac. F. P. Whitney is the agent at the L. & S. depot, this borough.
—Our young friend Harry V. Jones, the popular salesman of Thos. W. Price & Co., of Philadelphia, is in town spending a few days with us.
—Persons who are in the habit of putting holes through United States coins, or otherwise defacing them, will do well to remember that they are liable to a fine of two thousand dollars and a one-year imprisonment.
—The other day one of the workmen at the top of one of the Catawqua furnaces, through carelessness, laid the buckets dry down to the bottom, a distance of about fifty feet, totally demolishing them.

—The honey crop this year will be a light one, and those engaged in the honey traffic are very much discouraged. The work of weighing off the honey commenced last week, which is much earlier date than is commonly fixed for so doing.
—Ex-Senator Ramsey, of Minnesota, has accepted the office of Secretary of War, to succeed McCarty, when the latter shall retire to succeed John Dillan, as Justice of the Eighth Judicial Circuit of the United States. But we are authorized to state that David Ebbett will remain at his popular livery on North Street, in order to furnish the dear people with cheap teams.
—Lieut. Harry T. Monahan and his charming bride, after spending nearly three weeks visiting Niagara Falls, and the principal cities of Canada, arrived at his mother's residence in this borough, Monday evening, and remained until Thursday morning, when they proceeded to New York city. The Lieut. and his wife have the best wishes of all their friends in this place for their future happiness and prosperity.

—Mr. John Pefferle, proprietor of the Lynport State Works, at Lynport, on the 16th inst., stopped operations in his factory and quarry, owing to the depressed condition of the trade. It is said that he invested upwards of $20,000 in the business, and that up to this time he has made sales to the extent of about $100,000. It is doubtful whether he will again start up the works.
—The white whale exhibited here two weeks ago along with the curiosities in Coup's show, was, on the evening reaching Lancaster, sold to a candle maker for conversion into sperm candles. It was quite young, and only about 10 feet in length. It was carried through the country alive in a tank for some weeks, but died at Oswego, New York, and was then placed on ice and so logged along until it would keep no longer.
—All the collieries in the Lehigh Coal region are now at work, excepting those at Ebervale, which are idle for want of orders. A strike of the breaker boys caused a suspension of two days at Jedd, but the paying off of about one-half the boys, brought the rest, and the collieries are now all in operation. No further trouble is apprehended until a general strike is found feasible.
—The Lehigh miners held a secret meeting at Hazleton, Saturday afternoon, to decide whether they should insist on the demand made on the 5th inst. for an advance of wages. Twelve or more collieries were represented, namely: Anderried, Beaver Brook, Beaver Meadow, Ebervale, Stockton, Yorktown, Treckow, Jovannville, Eckley, Lehigh, Highland and others. The meeting adjourned to the 25th inst. and concluded to withdraw the demand for an advance until some work on Monday, the men privileged to make the best terms they can with their employers.
—In all towns where a newspaper is published, every business man ought to advertise in it, even if it is nothing more than a card stating his name and the line of business in which he is engaged. It helps to sustain the paper, and lets the people at a distance know that the town is full of business men. The paper finds its way into thousands of places where a hand bill can't reach. A card in a paper is a traveling sign board, and can be seen by every reader. "Think of these things," and let your light shine.

—New Goods.—T. D. Claus, agent, respectfully announces to his friends and the public generally, that he has just returned from the city of New York with a new and elegant assortment of cloths, cassimere and suits, suitable for the present season, which is prepared to make up in the latest fashion and most durable manner at very extraordinary low prices for cash. An early inspection of goods and examination of prices is invited. Perfect fits and full satisfaction guaranteed always.

—Reading, Pa., Saturday, July 26, 1919.
—The sealers of Weights and Measures, of Carbon county, demanded of Mr. J. L. Gabel, dealer in hardware, to seal and stamp his entire stock in trade, and for each article the usual fees prescribed by the act of April 15, 1843. Mr. Gabel refused, and the Sealer of Weights and Measures brought suit to compel him to submit to his demands. This was an unjust and unlawful proceeding and the official was compelled to back down.—Heston Scotter.

—A water famine in Reading is imminent, owing to continued dry weather. Water ceased to flow from the hydrants in the upper part of the city on Saturday, and some factories have been compelled to stop work. The Reading Railroad has been compelled to fit up a train of tank cars to haul water from the Schuylkill to supply the business in its shops. Councils have been asked to appropriate $20,000 for additional water facilities.

—A water famine in Reading is imminent, owing to continued dry weather. Water ceased to flow from the hydrants in the upper part of the city on Saturday, and some factories have been compelled to stop work. The Reading Railroad has been compelled to fit up a train of tank cars to haul water from the Schuylkill to supply the business in its shops. Councils have been asked to appropriate $20,000 for additional water facilities.

—A water famine in Reading is imminent, owing to continued dry weather. Water ceased to flow from the hydrants in the upper part of the city on Saturday, and some factories have been compelled to stop work. The Reading Railroad has been compelled to fit up a train of tank cars to haul water from the Schuylkill to supply the business in its shops. Councils have been asked to appropriate $20,000 for additional water facilities.

—A water famine in Reading is imminent, owing to continued dry weather. Water ceased to flow from the hydrants in the upper part of the city on Saturday, and some factories have been compelled to stop work. The Reading Railroad has been compelled to fit up a train of tank cars to haul water from the Schuylkill to supply the business in its shops. Councils have been asked to appropriate $20,000 for additional water facilities.

—A water famine in Reading is imminent, owing to continued dry weather. Water ceased to flow from the hydrants in the upper part of the city on Saturday, and some factories have been compelled to stop work. The Reading Railroad has been compelled to fit up a train of tank cars to haul water from the Schuylkill to supply the business in its shops. Councils have been asked to appropriate $20,000 for additional water facilities.

—A water famine in Reading is imminent, owing to continued dry weather. Water ceased to flow from the hydrants in the upper part of the city on Saturday, and some factories have been compelled to stop work. The Reading Railroad has been compelled to fit up a train of tank cars to haul water from the Schuylkill to supply the business in its shops. Councils have been asked to appropriate $20,000 for additional water facilities.

—A water famine in Reading is imminent, owing to continued dry weather. Water ceased to flow from the hydrants in the upper part of the city on Saturday, and some factories have been compelled to stop work. The Reading Railroad has been compelled to fit up a train of tank cars to haul water from the Schuylkill to supply the business in its shops. Councils have been asked to appropriate $20,000 for additional water facilities.

From the County News.
—John Krens, aged about 29 years, son of Daniel Krens, on Friday afternoon, last week, laid a railroad torpedo on a stone, and giving the torpedo a whack with another stone, it exploded. A piece of the tin covering the torpedo struck the calf of his left leg, inflicting a deep and painful flesh wound. Dr. Zivern drew the wound, but thought it advisable not to cut out the piece of tin which had lodged deeply among the muscles of the leg.
—The work of rebuilding the belfry and steeple on St. Jacob's Lutheran and Reform church, which was blown down in the big storm last fall, will commence on next Monday. The Weisport Planing Mills furnishes the lumber, and C. Semmel, of Catawqua, has the contract to do the work. The architect's design, on exhibition at the postoffice, indicates that the spire will be a handsome one. The church edifice, built of brick in 1844, stands near the southeast corner of the old Franklin stockade Fort Allen.
—Mr. C. B. Ryan, of Philadelphia, was here on Monday for the purpose of examining the rolling mill property, with a view to a purchase. His conclusion was that the price asked for it was more than its intrinsic value.
—The work of erecting the new L. & S. depot has been energetically pushed forward this week, and nearly all the work on the exterior of the building is completed. It will be a handsome little depot when finished.
—The Young American Band learning on Monday afternoon that Lieutenant Harry T. Monahan, U. S. N., and his bride, from New York city, on a wedding tour, had arrived at the residence of his mother in Lehigh, at an early hour in the evening proceeded thither and complimented the happy couple with a serenade. The gallant lieutenant made the boys feel happy at the conclusion.

—A meeting has been called for next Friday at the Fort Allen House, to hear the voice of the surviving veterans of the late war, and those who are liable to a fine of two thousand dollars and a one-year imprisonment.
—The other day one of the workmen at the top of one of the Catawqua furnaces, through carelessness, laid the buckets dry down to the bottom, a distance of about fifty feet, totally demolishing them.

—The honey crop this year will be a light one, and those engaged in the honey traffic are very much discouraged. The work of weighing off the honey commenced last week, which is much earlier date than is commonly fixed for so doing.
—Ex-Senator Ramsey, of Minnesota, has accepted the office of Secretary of War, to succeed McCarty, when the latter shall retire to succeed John Dillan, as Justice of the Eighth Judicial Circuit of the United States. But we are authorized to state that David Ebbett will remain at his popular livery on North Street, in order to furnish the dear people with cheap teams.
—Lieut. Harry T. Monahan and his charming bride, after spending nearly three weeks visiting Niagara Falls, and the principal cities of Canada, arrived at his mother's residence in this borough, Monday evening, and remained until Thursday morning, when they proceeded to New York city. The Lieut. and his wife have the best wishes of all their friends in this place for their future happiness and prosperity.

—Mr. John Pefferle, proprietor of the Lynport State Works, at Lynport, on the 16th inst., stopped operations in his factory and quarry, owing to the depressed condition of the trade. It is said that he invested upwards of $20,000 in the business, and that up to this time he has made sales to the extent of about $100,000. It is doubtful whether he will again start up the works.
—The white whale exhibited here two weeks ago along with the curiosities in Coup's show, was, on the evening reaching Lancaster, sold to a candle maker for conversion into sperm candles. It was quite young, and only about 10 feet in length. It was carried through the country alive in a tank for some weeks, but died at Oswego, New York, and was then placed on ice and so logged along until it would keep no longer.
—All the collieries in the Lehigh Coal region are now at work, excepting those at Ebervale, which are idle for want of orders. A strike of the breaker boys caused a suspension of two days at Jedd, but the paying off of about one-half the boys, brought the rest, and the collieries are now all in operation. No further trouble is apprehended until a general strike is found feasible.
—The Lehigh miners held a secret meeting at Hazleton, Saturday afternoon, to decide whether they should insist on the demand made on the 5th inst. for an advance of wages. Twelve or more collieries were represented, namely: Anderried, Beaver Brook, Beaver Meadow, Ebervale, Stockton, Yorktown, Treckow, Jovannville, Eckley, Lehigh, Highland and others. The meeting adjourned to the 25th inst. and concluded to withdraw the demand for an advance until some work on Monday, the men privileged to make the best terms they can with their employers.
—In all towns where a newspaper is published, every business man ought to advertise in it, even if it is nothing more than a card stating his name and the line of business in which he is engaged. It helps to sustain the paper, and lets the people at a distance know that the town is full of business men. The paper finds its way into thousands of places where a hand bill can't reach. A card in a paper is a traveling sign board, and can be seen by every reader. "Think of these things," and let your light shine.

—New Goods.—T. D. Claus, agent, respectfully announces to his friends and the public generally, that he has just returned from the city of New York with a new and elegant assortment of cloths, cassimere and suits, suitable for the present season, which is prepared to make up in the latest fashion and most durable manner at very extraordinary low prices for cash. An early inspection of goods and examination of prices is invited. Perfect fits and full satisfaction guaranteed always.

—Reading, Pa., Saturday, July 26, 1919.
—The sealers of Weights and Measures, of Carbon county, demanded of Mr. J. L. Gabel, dealer in hardware, to seal and stamp his entire stock in trade, and for each article the usual fees prescribed by the act of April 15, 1843. Mr. Gabel refused, and the Sealer of Weights and Measures brought suit to compel him to submit to his demands. This was an unjust and unlawful proceeding and the official was compelled to back down.—Heston Scotter.

—A water famine in Reading is imminent, owing to continued dry weather. Water ceased to flow from the hydrants in the upper part of the city on Saturday, and some factories have been compelled to stop work. The Reading Railroad has been compelled to fit up a train of tank cars to haul water from the Schuylkill to supply the business in its shops. Councils have been asked to appropriate $20,000 for additional water facilities.

—A water famine in Reading is imminent, owing to continued dry weather. Water ceased to flow from the hydrants in the upper part of the city on Saturday, and some factories have been compelled to stop work. The Reading Railroad has been compelled to fit up a train of tank cars to haul water from the Schuylkill to supply the business in its shops. Councils have been asked to appropriate $20,000 for additional water facilities.

—A water famine in Reading is imminent, owing to continued dry weather. Water ceased to flow from the hydrants in the upper part of the city on Saturday, and some factories have been compelled to stop work. The Reading Railroad has been compelled to fit up a train of tank cars to haul water from the Schuylkill to supply the business in its shops. Councils have been asked to appropriate $20,000 for additional water facilities.

—A water famine in Reading is imminent, owing to continued dry weather. Water ceased to flow from the hydrants in the upper part of the city on Saturday, and some factories have been compelled to stop work. The Reading Railroad has been compelled to fit up a train of tank cars to haul water from the Schuylkill to supply the business in its shops. Councils have been asked to appropriate $20,000 for additional water facilities.

—A water famine in Reading is imminent, owing to continued dry weather. Water ceased to flow from the hydrants in the upper part of the city on Saturday, and some factories have been compelled to stop work. The Reading Railroad has been compelled to fit up a train of tank cars to haul water from the Schuylkill to supply the business in its shops. Councils have been asked to appropriate $20,000 for additional water facilities.

—A water famine in Reading is imminent, owing to continued dry weather. Water ceased to flow from the hydrants in the upper part of the city on Saturday, and some factories have been compelled to stop work. The Reading Railroad has been compelled to fit up a train of tank cars to haul water from the Schuylkill to supply the business in its shops. Councils have been asked to appropriate $20,000 for additional water facilities.

—A water famine in Reading is imminent, owing to continued dry weather. Water ceased to flow from the hydrants in the upper part of the city on Saturday, and some factories have been compelled to stop work. The Reading Railroad has been compelled to fit up a train of tank cars to haul water from the Schuylkill to supply the business in its shops. Councils have been asked to appropriate $20,000 for additional water facilities.

Death of Dr. C. Arnold.
Dr. C. Arnold, one of Hazleton's oldest and most prominent physicians, died Tuesday morning about six o'clock, after a short illness, induced by overwork. The Doctor came to Hazleton, says the Sentinel, about twenty-five years ago, and under the patronage of Mr. G. L. Degehary, who had charge of the Treckow works, he soon attained a lucrative practice. His kindness of heart, and his skill as a surgeon were for his distinction in his profession, which was attested by his large and constantly increasing practice. When able to attend to his patients he was untiring in his devotion, day and night, found at the bedside of the suffering and dying. He was the most devoted of physicians, and generous-hearted to a fault, and no man will be more missed by the people of this community. His attachment to his friends, and his ever ready assistance that he never forgot a kindness. Dr. Arnold was born in Eichenland, Wuertemberg, Germany, March 2, 1819; emigrated to America in 1845, and settled in Hazleton. He died from inflammation of the lungs, and was attended in his last illness by Dr. W. R. Longhore. He was twice married. He had five children by his first wife, namely, two boys and three girls, and one child, a boy, five years of age, by his second wife. His second wife and five children survive him. They surrounded his bedside in his dying moments, and do all that their kind hearts and willing hands could do to render him comfortable and happy. He was a devoted member of the Catholic church, and died in that faith. Father Cummins attended to all his spiritual wants. His remains will be interred in the Catholic cemetery, by the side of his wife and son.

Death of Dr. C. Arnold.
Dr. C. Arnold, one of Hazleton's oldest and most prominent physicians, died Tuesday morning about six o'clock, after a short illness, induced by overwork. The Doctor came to Hazleton, says the Sentinel, about twenty-five years ago, and under the patronage of Mr. G. L. Degehary, who had charge of the Treckow works, he soon attained a lucrative practice. His kindness of heart, and his skill as a surgeon were for his distinction in his profession, which was attested by his large and constantly increasing practice. When able to attend to his patients he was untiring in his devotion, day and night, found at the bedside of the suffering and dying. He was the most devoted of physicians, and generous-hearted to a fault, and no man will be more missed by the people of this community. His attachment to his friends, and his ever ready assistance that he never forgot a kindness. Dr. Arnold was born in Eichenland, Wuertemberg, Germany, March 2, 1819; emigrated to America in 1845, and settled in Hazleton. He died from inflammation of the lungs, and was attended in his last illness by Dr. W. R. Longhore. He was twice married. He had five children by his first wife, namely, two boys and three girls, and one child, a boy, five years of age, by his second wife. His second wife and five children survive him. They surrounded his bedside in his dying moments, and do all that their kind hearts and willing hands could do to render him comfortable and happy. He was a devoted member of the Catholic church, and died in that faith. Father Cummins attended to all his spiritual wants. His remains will be interred in the Catholic cemetery, by the side of his wife and son.

Death of Dr. C. Arnold.
Dr. C. Arnold, one of Hazleton's oldest and most prominent physicians, died Tuesday morning about six o'clock, after a short illness, induced by overwork. The Doctor came to Hazleton, says the Sentinel, about twenty-five years ago, and under the patronage of Mr. G. L. Degehary, who had charge of the Treckow works, he soon attained a lucrative practice. His kindness of heart, and his skill as a surgeon were for his distinction in his profession, which was attested by his large and constantly increasing practice. When able to attend to his patients he was untiring in his devotion, day and night, found at the bedside of the suffering and dying. He was the most devoted of physicians, and generous-hearted to a fault, and no man will be more missed by the people of this community. His attachment to his friends, and his ever ready assistance that he never forgot a kindness. Dr. Arnold was born in Eichenland, Wuertemberg, Germany, March 2, 1819; emigrated to America in 1845, and settled in Hazleton. He died from inflammation of the lungs, and was attended in his last illness by Dr. W. R. Longhore. He was twice married. He had five children by his first wife, namely, two boys and three girls, and one child, a boy, five years of age, by his second wife. His second wife and five children survive him. They surrounded his bedside in his dying moments, and do all that their kind hearts and willing hands could do to render him comfortable and happy. He was a devoted member of the Catholic church, and died in that faith. Father Cummins attended to all his spiritual wants. His remains will be interred in the Catholic cemetery, by the side of his wife and son.

Death of Dr. C. Arnold.
Dr. C. Arnold, one of Hazleton's oldest and most prominent physicians, died Tuesday morning about six o'clock, after a short illness, induced by overwork. The Doctor came to Hazleton, says the Sentinel, about twenty-five years ago, and under the patronage of Mr. G. L. Degehary, who had charge of the Treckow works, he soon attained a lucrative practice. His kindness of heart, and his skill as a surgeon were for his distinction in his profession, which was attested by his large and constantly increasing practice. When able to attend to his patients he was untiring in his devotion, day and night, found at the bedside of the suffering and dying. He was the most devoted of physicians, and generous-hearted to a fault, and no man will be more missed by the people of this community. His attachment to his friends, and his ever ready assistance that he never forgot a kindness. Dr. Arnold was born in Eichenland, Wuertemberg, Germany, March 2, 1819; emigrated to America in 1845, and settled in Hazleton. He died from inflammation of the lungs, and was attended in his last illness by Dr. W. R. Longhore. He was twice married. He had five children by his first wife, namely, two boys and three girls, and one child, a boy, five years of age, by his second wife. His second wife and five children survive him. They surrounded his bedside in his dying moments, and do all that their kind hearts and willing hands could do to render him comfortable and happy. He was a devoted member of the Catholic church, and died in that faith. Father Cummins attended to all his spiritual wants. His remains will be interred in the Catholic cemetery, by the side of his wife and son.

Death of Dr. C. Arnold.
Dr. C. Arnold, one of Hazleton's oldest and most prominent physicians, died Tuesday morning about six o'clock, after a short illness, induced by overwork. The Doctor came to Hazleton, says the Sentinel, about twenty-five years ago, and under the patronage of Mr. G. L. Degehary, who had charge of the Treckow works, he soon attained a lucrative practice. His kindness of heart, and his skill as a surgeon were for his distinction in his profession, which was attested by his large and constantly increasing practice. When able to attend to his patients he was untiring in his devotion, day and night, found at the bedside of the suffering and dying. He was the most devoted of physicians, and generous-hearted to a fault, and no man will be more missed by the people of this community. His attachment to his friends, and his ever ready assistance that he never forgot a kindness. Dr. Arnold was born in Eichenland, Wuertemberg, Germany, March 2, 1819; emigrated to America in 1845, and settled in Hazleton. He died from inflammation of the lungs, and was attended in his last illness by Dr. W. R. Longhore. He was twice married. He had five children by his first wife, namely, two boys and three girls, and one child, a boy, five years of age, by his second wife. His second wife and five children survive him. They surrounded his bedside in his dying moments, and do all that their kind hearts and willing hands could do to render him comfortable and happy. He was a devoted member of the Catholic church, and died in that faith. Father Cummins attended to all his spiritual wants. His remains will be interred in the Catholic cemetery, by the side of his wife and son.

Death of Dr. C. Arnold.
Dr. C. Arnold, one of Hazleton's oldest and most prominent physicians, died Tuesday morning about six o'clock, after a short illness, induced by overwork. The Doctor came to Hazleton, says the Sentinel, about twenty-five years ago, and under the patronage of Mr. G. L. Degehary, who had charge of the Treckow works, he soon attained a lucrative practice. His kindness of heart, and his skill as a surgeon were for his distinction in his profession, which was attested by his large and constantly increasing practice. When able to attend to his patients he was untiring in his devotion, day and night, found at the bedside of the suffering and dying. He was the most devoted of physicians, and generous-hearted to a fault, and no man will be more missed by the people of this community. His attachment to his friends, and his ever ready assistance that he never forgot a kindness. Dr. Arnold was born in Eichenland, Wuertemberg, Germany, March 2, 1819; emigrated to America in 1845, and settled in Hazleton. He died from inflammation of the lungs, and was attended in his last illness by Dr. W. R. Longhore. He was twice married. He had five children by his first wife, namely, two boys and three girls, and one child, a boy, five years of age, by his second wife. His second wife and five children survive him. They surrounded his bedside in his dying moments, and do all that their kind hearts and willing hands could do to render him comfortable and happy. He was a devoted member of the Catholic church, and died in that faith. Father Cummins attended to all his spiritual wants. His remains will be interred in the Catholic cemetery, by the side of his wife and son.

Death of Dr. C. Arnold.
Dr. C. Arnold, one of Hazleton's oldest and most prominent physicians, died Tuesday morning about six o'clock, after a short illness, induced by overwork. The Doctor came to Hazleton, says the Sentinel, about twenty-five years ago, and under the patronage of Mr. G. L. Degehary, who had charge of the Treckow works, he soon attained a lucrative practice. His kindness of heart, and his skill as a surgeon were for his distinction in his profession, which was attested by his large and constantly increasing practice. When able to attend to his patients he was untiring in his devotion, day and night, found at the bedside of the suffering and dying. He was the most devoted of physicians, and generous-hearted to a fault, and no man will be more missed by the people of this community. His attachment to his friends, and his ever ready assistance that he never forgot a kindness. Dr. Arnold was born in Eichenland, Wuertemberg, Germany, March 2, 1819; emigrated to America in 1845, and settled in Hazleton. He died from inflammation of the lungs, and was attended in his last illness by Dr. W. R. Longhore. He was twice married. He had five children by his first wife, namely, two boys and three girls, and one child, a boy, five years of age, by his second wife. His second wife and five children survive him. They surrounded his bedside in his dying moments, and do all that their kind hearts and willing hands could do to render him comfortable and happy. He was a devoted member of the Catholic church, and died in that faith. Father Cummins attended to all his spiritual wants. His remains will be interred in the Catholic cemetery, by the side of his wife and son.

Death of Dr. C. Arnold.
Dr. C. Arnold, one of Hazleton's oldest and most prominent physicians, died Tuesday morning about six o'clock, after a short illness, induced by overwork. The Doctor came to Hazleton, says the Sentinel, about twenty-five years ago, and under the patronage of Mr. G. L. Degehary, who had charge of the Treckow works, he soon attained a lucrative practice. His kindness of heart, and his skill as a surgeon were for his distinction in his profession, which was attested by his large and constantly increasing practice. When able to attend to his patients he was untiring in his devotion, day and night, found at the bedside of the suffering and dying. He was the most devoted of physicians, and generous-hearted to a fault, and no man will be more missed by the people of this community. His attachment to his friends, and his ever ready assistance that he never forgot a kindness. Dr. Arnold was born in Eichenland, Wuertemberg, Germany, March 2, 1819; emigrated to America in 1845, and settled in Hazleton. He died from inflammation of the lungs, and was attended in his last illness by Dr. W. R. Longhore. He was twice married. He had five children by his first wife, namely, two boys and three girls, and one child, a boy, five years of age, by his second wife. His second wife and five children survive him. They surrounded his bedside in his dying moments, and do all that their kind hearts and willing hands could do to render him comfortable and happy. He was a devoted member of the Catholic church, and died in that faith. Father Cummins attended to all his spiritual wants. His remains will be interred in the Catholic cemetery, by the side of his wife and son.

Death of Dr. C. Arnold.
Dr. C. Arnold, one of Hazleton's oldest and most prominent physicians, died Tuesday morning about six o'clock, after a short illness, induced by overwork. The Doctor came to Hazleton, says the Sentinel, about twenty-five years ago, and under the patronage of Mr. G. L. Degehary, who had charge of the Treckow works, he soon attained a lucrative practice. His kindness of heart, and his skill as a surgeon were for his distinction in his profession, which was attested by his large and constantly increasing practice. When able to attend to his patients he was untiring in his devotion, day and night, found at the bedside of the suffering and dying. He was the most devoted of physicians, and generous-hearted to a fault, and no man will be more missed by the people of this community. His attachment to his friends, and his ever ready assistance that he never forgot a kindness. Dr. Arnold was born in Eichenland, Wuertemberg, Germany, March 2, 1819; emigrated to America in 1845, and settled in Hazleton. He died from inflammation of the lungs, and was attended in his last illness by Dr. W. R. Longhore. He was twice married. He had five children by his first wife, namely, two boys and three girls, and one child, a boy, five years of age, by his second wife. His second wife and five children survive him. They surrounded his bedside in his dying moments, and do all that their kind hearts and willing hands could do to render him comfortable and happy. He was a devoted member of the Catholic church, and died in that faith. Father Cummins attended to all his spiritual wants. His remains will be interred in the Catholic cemetery, by the side of his wife and son.

Death of Dr. C. Arnold.
Dr. C. Arnold, one of Hazleton's oldest and most prominent physicians, died Tuesday morning about six o'clock, after a short illness, induced by overwork. The Doctor came to Hazleton, says the Sentinel, about twenty-five years ago, and under the patronage of Mr. G. L. Degehary, who had charge of the Treckow works, he soon attained a lucrative practice. His kindness of heart, and his skill as a surgeon were for his distinction in his profession, which was attested by his large and constantly increasing practice. When able to attend to his patients he was untiring in his devotion, day and night, found at the bedside of the suffering and dying. He was the most devoted of physicians, and generous-hearted to a fault, and no man will be more missed by the people of this community. His attachment to his friends, and his ever ready assistance that he never forgot a kindness. Dr. Arnold was born in Eichenland, Wuertemberg, Germany, March 2, 1819; emigrated to America in 1845, and settled in Hazleton. He died from inflammation of the lungs, and was attended in his last illness by Dr. W. R. Longhore. He was twice married. He had five children by his first wife, namely, two boys and three girls, and one child, a boy, five years of age, by his second wife. His second wife and five children survive him. They surrounded his bedside in his dying moments, and do all that their kind hearts and willing hands could do to render him comfortable and happy. He was a devoted member of the Catholic church, and died in that faith. Father Cummins attended to all his spiritual wants. His remains will be interred in the Catholic cemetery, by the side of his wife and son.

Death of Dr. C. Arnold.
Dr. C. Arnold, one of Hazleton's oldest and most prominent physicians, died Tuesday morning about six o'clock, after a short illness, induced by overwork. The Doctor came to Hazleton, says the Sentinel, about twenty-five years ago, and under the patronage of Mr. G. L. Degehary, who had charge of the Treckow works, he soon attained a lucrative practice. His kindness of heart, and his skill as a surgeon were for his distinction in his profession, which was attested by his large and constantly increasing practice. When able to attend to his patients he was untiring in his devotion, day and night, found at the bedside of the suffering and dying. He was the most devoted of physicians, and generous-hearted to a fault, and no man will be more missed by the people of this community. His attachment to his friends, and his ever ready assistance that he never forgot a kindness. Dr. Arnold was born in Eichenland, Wuertemberg, Germany, March 2, 1819; emigrated to America in 1845, and settled in Hazleton. He died from inflammation of the lungs, and was attended in his last illness by Dr. W. R. Longhore. He was twice married. He had five children by his first wife, namely, two boys and three girls, and one child, a boy, five years of age, by his second wife. His second wife and five children survive him. They surrounded his bedside in his dying moments, and do all that their kind hearts and willing hands could do to render him comfortable and happy. He was a devoted member of the Catholic church, and died in that faith. Father Cummins attended to all his spiritual wants. His remains will be interred in the Catholic cemetery, by the side of his wife and son.

Death of Dr. C. Arnold.
Dr. C. Arnold, one of Hazleton's oldest and most prominent physicians, died Tuesday morning about six o'clock, after a short illness, induced by overwork. The Doctor came to Hazleton, says the Sentinel, about twenty-five years ago, and under the patronage of Mr. G. L. Degehary, who had charge of the Treckow works, he soon attained a lucrative practice. His kindness of heart, and his skill as a surgeon were for his distinction in his profession, which was attested by his large and constantly increasing practice. When able to attend to his patients he was untiring in his devotion, day and night, found at the bedside of the suffering and dying. He was the most devoted of physicians, and generous-hearted to a fault, and no man will be more missed by the people of this community. His attachment to his friends, and his ever ready assistance that he never forgot a kindness. Dr. Arnold was born in Eichenland, Wuertemberg, Germany, March 2, 1819; emigrated to America in 1845, and settled in Hazleton. He died from inflammation of the lungs, and was attended in his last illness by Dr. W. R. Longhore. He was twice married. He had five children by his first wife, namely, two boys and three girls, and one child, a boy, five years of age, by his second wife. His second wife and five children survive him. They surrounded his bedside in his dying moments, and do all that their kind hearts and willing hands could do to render him comfortable and happy. He was a devoted member of the Catholic church, and died in that faith. Father Cummins attended to all his spiritual wants. His remains will be interred in the Catholic cemetery, by the side of his wife and son.

Death of Dr. C. Arnold.
Dr. C. Arnold, one of Hazleton's oldest and most prominent physicians, died Tuesday morning about six o'clock, after a short illness, induced by overwork. The Doctor came to Hazleton, says the Sentinel, about twenty-five years ago, and under the patronage of Mr. G. L. Degehary, who had charge of the Treckow works, he soon attained a lucrative practice. His kindness of heart, and his skill as a surgeon were for his distinction in his profession, which was attested by his large and constantly increasing practice. When able to attend to his patients he was untiring in