sent out their November circular of car prices Monday. The advances per ton are as follows: Lump and standard, 25 cents; broken and stove, 40 cents; egg, 30 cents; and chestnut, 20 cents.

The market was reported very active, with orders being filled at November prices.

—Prof. Gardner repeated his eloquent and graphic lecture on the "Evils of Intemperance," at the Presbyterian church on Tuesday evening. As on the previous occasion, the house was filled to its utmost capacity, while a large number were unable to get even standing room inside the church.

Probably a more intelligent and refined audience was never assembled in this borough than on this occasion. There were a large number from Mauch Chunk, Weisport and vicinity. It is seldom that people are admitted free to listen to a brilliant lecturer as Prof. Gardner, and all who heard him Tuesday evening appreciated the fact. At the conclusion he thanked the people of Lehigh for their spontaneous welcome: Rev. Mr. Miller for his fraternal encouragement; and the Choir of the M. E. church which volunteered its services to furnish music at both lectures. The exercises were closed by the appropriate song, "Where is my hope to-night?" by Mrs. A. J. —Our people are evidently beginning to appreciate the advantages to be derived from hearing intelligent lectures, or courses there will be a large turnout to hear Dr. M. L. Rosovsky, the Converted Jew, in the Presbyterian church, of this place, on Wednesday and Thursday evenings next week. The subject will be "Jewish Rites and Ceremonies." —Minor Brothers still continue to report a steady increase of business at their foundry, in Weisport; and although they have enlarged their facilities for doing work during the summer, still they are now driven to such an extent as to warrant working overtime.
