

FARMERS' COLUMN.

Dried Apples. A writer in an exchange grows enthusiastic over dried apples and tells how they should be cooked.

Farming Tools. If more care was taken of farming tools a great deal of unnecessary expense might be avoided.

Feeding Haying Lands. Of the many errors that farmers are apt to fall into there is none more prolific of injury than that of closely feeding those fields from which the hay crop has been taken.

Farm Notes. Vermont has 217,880 milk cows, valued at $4,446,000. Second-crop potatoes are a novelty in Crawford county.

Speck's Horchard Eye and Neck. It is known that clear white rock mauler, well tempered, is the best for the work.

It is impossible to overestimate the value of a remedy which so perfectly combines the amoying and dangerous qualities of the pulmonary organs.

Give hens constant access to lime in some form. Hens must have the lime material in order to manufacture shells; they cannot make them out of nothing.

The best remedy for the sting of a bee, wasp or hornet, is liquid ammonia and nothing will equal its dilution in water in allaying the irritation caused by mosquitoes.

Farmers should bear in mind that frozen meat will not shirk salt. Before frozen beef or pork is put in the barrel for making it should be thawed out.

Tomatoes, when ripe, make an excellent vinegar and contain sufficient acetic matter to give it a good body without the addition of sugar.

The value of imports of eggs and poultry into Great Britain amounts to $40,000,000 a year. These products are said to come largely from France.

THE MANAGING MANAGER.

She walks up and down the marble port, And smiles with triumph as her weary feet, In robes of silk, with well-kept hands, She has a smile for him who wears broad hose, And wears her nodding plumes with rare effect In passing poverty with head erect.
