The motion, being made in advance of action on the report of the Committee on Rules, was opposed by Messrs. Conger, Carfield and Frye, and was defeated by a vote of 479 to 276. This was another test of opposing factions. The report of the Committee on Rules, which does away with the unit rule, was then adopted. The platform was reported by Mr. Pierrepont, of New York, and after being amended by the insertion of a Civil Service plank, was adopted. It declares criminate in favor of American labor; against further land grants and subsidies ; against polygamy; in favor of restricting Chinese immigration, and for river and harpor improvements. The administration of Mr. Hayes is culogized, and the policy of the Democratic party denounced. After the platform was agreed to, a recess was taken. On reassembling in the evening the roll of States was nominations were made: By Mr. Joy, of Michigan, James O. Blaine, of Maine; by Mr. E. F. Drake, of Minnesota, Wm.
